Weather Has Depressing Effect on the Local Smart Folks.

OUTDOOR CLUBS PLAN FOR OPENINGS

Country Club to Begin Its Summer Activity Next Saturday and Field Club Follows a Week Later.

Society seemed to be under the spell of the weather last week, for practically nothing was done, and the outlook for the coming week is almost the same. Cold rains, sleet, snow, freezing weather and all that sort of thing at the time when bude should be bursting into bloom, when nature should be putting on her fairest garb, when birds should be carolling their sweetest love songs, and when mankind should feel the uplift of a new birth, isn't just the sort of thing to inspire people to be gay and merry, and it would be funny If the depression that prevailed in all other directions hadn't extended to society. The weather showed eigns of better behavior at the end of the week, and the hope of days when folks can get out and go about sprung up anew, but not sufficiently vigorous to start any plans for an active cam-

One thing that is scheduled for the coming week with which the state of weather will have a great deal to do is the formal opening for the season of the Country club. If next Saturday is bright and fair the lawn and greens will be the scene of much gaiety; if it should be anything like the other Saturdays of April the fireplaces will blaze and the wax lights splutter, and the fun will all be had inside the house. But the formal opening will not be postponed on account of a rainstorm or any little thing like that. The house committee and the greens committee have been active during the winter months and promise to give those who have not been in attendance at the club grounds some very pleasant surprises in the nature of the alterations and improvements made. The links will of golf will get such a push along as it club. Social folks will find more than ever provided for their comfort, and the galety at the Country club is expected to be beyoud that ever experienced there.

One of the young matrone of the city caused a little merriment by her enthusisam at the Monday evening performance of the Rogers brothers' company at the Boyd. A balladist was singing one of his songs, and had his eyes rolled up in the lassic manner of the ballad singer, when the matron aforesaid called out from one box to another, "Doesn't he look just like Dick?" Now, it doesn't transpire what Dick thinks of the comparison, but those who heard the remark enjoyed it as much as they did anything else on the program.

movement headed by Mr. August Mothe-Borgium and seconded by Mrs. W. W. Turner is on foot for the engagement of a number of prominent musical artists for the season of 1904-5 in Omaha. It is their aim to secure 200 signers, each of whom will pay $10 for the season and be entitled to two tickets for each concert. One hundred have already signed. The otion of the organization is in the hands of Mrs. Walter T. Page, Mrs. Mary Learned, Miss Anna Bishop, Mrs. W. W. Turner, Miss Corinne Paulson, Mrs. Sheets, Borgium. There will be no personal gain and the movement has grown out of a demand for more good artists. It is estimated that at least five or six of the best artists can be secured during the season for this sum. Names may be sent to any

I have scarcely this prosecution, and that the Civic league been upon speaking terms with Moise for six years and neither he nor McDonald ever employed me for any service.

The attitude of the chief of police must astound all right-thinking citizens; he has fending a man who has been indicted for highway robbery in onother state. No matter what his sympathies may be, one would think that his sense of propriety and desency would at least have kept him silent. It is beyond comprehension that the chief of police, who is by law the chief ministerial officer of this city, should feel it his duty to rush into print to defend this man, and that too, in the same column with Dennison's interview, in which the best he sure-thing gambling game. "It occurred at the April 1896, conference, when the political rule that is the manifesto against Mormons entering politics without consent of church authorities was adopted. This rule was adopted without a dissenting vote and at the same conference Moses Thatcher's name was dropped from the rolls as an apostle and no explanation of any character was made." Senator McComas-How do the young men in the Mormon church regard the practice of polygamy? "I think the young Mormon men, and women, too, are opposed to the practice, strongly opposed, although I confess that I cannot understand the power the church is able to exert over them. I believe, however, that if the church authorities should Goets, recording secretary; Miss Emma attempt to re-establish polygamy, by revelation or otherwise, there would be trouble. In regard to continuation of polygamous cohabitation Judge Powers said that some look upon this condition with tolerance and others with open hostility.

Several senators engaged in the discus sion of the future of polygamy, and Judge Powers said he believed the practice could not last any more than could slavery. Continuing, he said: "But I do not regard polygamy as the worst feature of the Mormon religion. What I object to most is its un-American domination by the hierarch of the people of that belief; the belief in the right of the church authorities to prescribe rules, the belief that the head of the church is inspired and interference of the church in political and commercial affairs."

Senator Hopkins-The same charge about ommerce can be made against other churches in a limited way, can it not?" "Not as I make the statement here," said Mr. Powers.
