CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

September Oats Command Prominent Place Among Local Dealers, but
Wheat Finds Lack of Ready Buyers.

OMAHA, April 12, 1904.
The rain has been general an over the wines where the southwest belt and particularly heavy in the southwest of the wheat along—otherwise it has been favorable. The wheat specialtors are not hurried the wheat along—otherwise it has been favorable. The wheat specialtors are not here of the wheat is low enough. It seems more than likely that there will be the market today with a considerable demand. While a week ago No-2 northern was 3c over the May. Whileps reports me wires the river is through the levee and has flooded thousands of autre of low wheat land. The small stock of contract grain, does not seem to get the attention. The opinion that Armour has given up any operation in May corn seems to be confirmed. Valentine again sold today of that future all that was waited. The dening pressure and the elevators are not now trying to convert low-grade corn into contract. The opening of lake navigation out of Chicago is very late and it is believed in the south of the sold of the south of the sold of the south of the sold of the s Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

HOGS—There was quite a liberal run of hogs here this morning for a Monday and at Chicago there were about 47,000 head. In view of the big receipts in sight the market was lower at all points. The decline here amounted to about 5000 e and trading was rather slow. The bulk of the hogs sold around $4.75, or from $4.73\% to $4.75\%, and as high as $4.83\% was paid. Packers tried to buy their hogs a dimelower, and that was the cause for the tack of activity, salesmen not willing to take off that much. After packers raised their hands it did not take long to clear the pens of the early arrivals. Many of the trains, though, were late in arriving, so that the market did not come to a close until the day was well advanced.

Packers seemed to get more anxious for supplies as the morning advanced, and as a result some hogs that arrived just before noon sold a shade better than the early arrivals, most of them, if of good quality, selling at $4.75 and $4.77\%. Representative sales:
