HELP SUMMONED BY DISTRESS SIGNALS

Boat Reaches Wharf with the Injured and Victims Are Removed to Homes and Hospitals to Ambulances.

ST. LOUIS, May 1.—The hurricane roof of the ferry steamer Alonso C. Church collapsed early this afternoon, while the steamer was crowded with sightseers viewing the United States gunboat Nashville at anchor at the river harbor here, and about twenty people were injured, a number of them being reported in a critical condition.

The names of the following injured have been secured, but the list is not complete as some of them were taken to their homes before their names were learned: J. B. Wood, leg broken and internally injured; George Montigo, both ankles fractured; Mabel Montigo, aged 4 years, head hurt; Edward Mack, leg crushed; Mollie Collins, East St. Louis, internally injured; Phillip Mangels, 14 years old, skull fractured; Unidentified woman, serious internal injuries.

About seventeen others, all residents of St. Louis and East St. Louis, were injured, none seriously.

The ferry steamer has been carrying crowds all day from the foot of Valentine street out to midstream past the Nashville and back again. No stop was made at the Nashville owing to the heavy flood current running. As the ferry boat was rounding the Nashville and starting back to dock the crowd on the upper deck rushed to the steamer's side and out upon the hurricane roof. The strain was too great and the roof collapsed, precipitating a large number of people twenty feet to the deck below, which was also crowded.

Panic Follows Accident.

Instantly a panic ensued. Women screamed, some from injury and some from fright, and several persons attempted to jump into the river, thinking the boat was sinking. Cool heads prevented this and efforts were at once begun to succor the injured. A distress signal was blown from the boat's whistle and tug boats hurried alongside, but it was deemed best to land and get attempt to place the injured on the wharf.

Ambulances were hastily called and soon after the Alonso C. Church had reached shore the injured were being conveyed to the city hospital and many to their homes.

CHAMPION OF SMALL FAMILY

Henry Jones Sees in It Solution of Present Day Problems.

(Copyright, 1904, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, April 30.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram)—Henry Jones, the celebrated American novelist, has sent the following letter to the Daily Mail on the question of the falling off in the birth rate, which just now is exciting warm controversy here:

"The following birth rate shows that the people are beginning to think for themselves. It is the ultimate, satisfactory solution of all our social troubles and working difficulties. Large families to the working classes are an inexpressible burden, and the overworked labor market leads to poverty, degeneracy and crime.

"With the foreign invasion stopped and large families abolished, England will have a ten times happier population and greater individual health, and life would be worth the living.

"The falling birth rate is the best news of our time."

PROMISES TO RIDE ON TURTLE

Frenchman Says He Will Demonstrate He Did Not Lie About His Feet.

(Copyright, 1904, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, April 30.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram)—Louis de Rougemont, whose sensational account of his travels among the cannibal islands was exposed some years ago, is again to the front with a promise of a novel feat at the London hippodrome.

The one of his former statements that excited the most controversy was that he was in the habit of riding long distances on turtle back by water. This was vehemently denied and denounced as an impudent falsehood. Rougemont is now going to ride around the flooded arena of the hippodrome on turtle back, in proof of his statements.

"The riding will not be done by physical force," he says: "It is a case of will overcoming will—personal magnetism, which I possess and hold the secret of.

"It is no easy matter, as a turtle is like a buckjumper. I know these things. I had plenty of practice in Australia, and this, combined with my will power, will render it unnecessary for me to make the acquaintance of the creature before I enter the arena by coming down a water chute sealed on its back. I shall be armed only with a cane to steady the creature around the ring. The stick will act as a conductor for my magnetism between the animal and myself.

"The turtles are very sensible, cunning creatures and know very well what they are doing. They are most affectionate. One in Australia was a very dear friend of mine. I called it 'Clarabelle.' It used to follow me out like a dog. I had saved its life from sharks, so, naturally, it took a fancy to me out of sheer gratitude."

HELD FOR STEALING A HORSE

Ed Wilcox, a Boy from Fremont, Is Captured by Policeman.

Wilcox. Edward Wilcox of Fremont was arrested yesterday morning on a charge of horse stealing. On entering Omaha, the first person he came across was Detective Maloney and asked to be directed to a lively stable to put up the horse. The detective walked alongside of the horse and entering into conversation with the rider soon learned that the horse was for sale. As Wilcox could not give a proper account of the manner in which he obtained possession of the animal, he was taken to the police station. Wilcox told the police that the horse was from a livery barn at Fremont and intended to go back to Fremont the following day. Sheriff Bauman of Fremont was notified of the arrest and he took the prisoner to Fremont. When Wilcox hired the horse he said he only wanted to go about fifteen miles and would return before supper. The horse was in a bad condition when he reached Omaha and looks as if it had been ridden hard. Wilcox is 18 years old and from his talk and general appearance seems to be trying to make himself out a bad man of the wild and woolly type. He tried to borrow a pair of cowboy "chaps" at Fremont, but was unsuccessful.
