

perations Avoided

Hospitals in our great cities are sad places to visit.

Three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls.

Why should this be the case? Because they have neglected themselves.

Every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in that bearing-down feeling, pain at the left or right of the womb, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back. All of these things are indications of an unhealthy condition of the ovaries or womb.

What a terrifying thought! These poor souls are lying there on those hospital beds awaiting a fearful operation.

Do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an examination and possible operation. Build up the female system, cure the derangements which have signified themselves by danger signals, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved thousands of women from the hospital. Read the letters here published with the full consent of the writers, and see how they escaped the knife by a faithful reliance on Mrs. Pinkham's advice and the consistent treatment of

"I was taken sick very suddenly July 13th with severe cramps, or pains, summoned a doctor and was in bed a week lying on my back all the time. The pains left me very sore. In a few weeks I was feeling better but was soon taken sick again with those pains and had another doctor. This one said I had neuralgia pains of the stomach and ovaries. He injected morphine and eased me again, but I remained sore and weak from the pains and continued to flow for one month and three days without stopping for

"I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon was feeling better. I am now well and strong again. with Injuries Regarding Lands Effected by Recently Enacted

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, May 5 .- (Special.)-The supreme court declines to supervise the acts of a political party for the protection of a purely political right. This decision was given in a suft involving a controversy over the interpretation of a primary election law as enforced by the Lancaster county central committee in 1902. Whether a candidate could find representation on a primary election ballot unless he had the ability to pack and control a caucus in his home precinct was the principal question. Ex-Mayor H. J. Winnett of Lincoln was a candidate for the nomination of state senator on the republican ticket. He and other candidates claimed that right to submit a friendly delegation to the vote of the electors in the various precincts. George A. Adams, now mayor of Lincoln, was chairman of the county committee, to place a list of delegates on the ballot. The court holds that a civil right is a right accorded to every member of a district, community or nation;-a political and the committee adopted the rule requiring each candidate to carry the caucus in his respective ward before being allowed right is one exercisable in the administration of government and that a court of equity will not undertake to supervise the acts and managements of a political party for the protection of a purely political right. The opinion was written by Commissioner Albert and closes as follows: "The right for the prototion of which the plaintiffs invoke the chancery powers of the court in this case, falls squarely within the definition of political rights. Notwithstanding the array of authority which supported, we should not care to submit ourselves unqualifiedly to the doctrine that a court of equity will not under any circumstances interfere for the protection of political rights. But we think it is perfectly safe to adopt the doctrine to the extent of holding that a court of equity will not undertake to surpervise the acts and managements of a political party for the protection of a purely political right. We do not overlook the fact that primary elections have become the subject of legislative action, and it may be conceded that each member of a political party has a right to a voice in such | admissible in the form in which it was primaries, and to seek nomination for pub- presented, and which was received over lic office at the hands of his party. But when he is denied these rights, or unreasonably hampered in their exercise, he must look to some other source than a court of equity. To hold otherwise would ea tablish what could not but prove a most michievious precedent and would be a long step in the direction of making a court of equity a committee on credentials and the final arbiter between contesting delegations in political conventions."
