MILLION AND HALF ACRES FOR SETTLERS

Proceeds of Land Sales to Be Partly Used for Temporary Benefit of Indians, and Remainder to Be Held for the Future.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, May 6 .- (Special Tele gram.)-Major James McLaughlin of the Indian bureau is preparing his report on the treaty recently negotiated by him between the United States and 1,650 Shoshon and Arapahoe Indians now occupying the Wind river reservation in Wyoming whereby 1,480,000 acres of land will be thrown open to white settlement.

The Indians agree to retire from 1.500,000 acres and take up their domiciles upon a tract covering about 800,000 acres. Those who may settle in the Wind river reservation are to pay at the following rates and make final payment within eight years: One dollar and a half per acre for all lands taken within the first two years; $1.25 per acre after three years, and all remaining unsold after three years to be disposed of by the secretary of the interior at $1 per acre, and should any lands remain after the expiration of eight years they shall be placed on sale for any amount they will

The proceeds from the sale of the Wind river lands will be held by the United States for the purpose of creating a fund out of which $50 per capita is to be paid to each and every Indian of the tribe or tribes. This obligation having been paid, subsequent money received from the sale of Wind river lands will be held by the government for the purpose of irrigating lands retained by Indians, the purchase of stock and $50,000 for school purposes, Including the $50 per capita payment, irrigation fund, purchasing stock and money for school purposes it is estimated will call for about $335,000. It is expected that a considerably larger sum than this will be realized from the sale of the lands to be opened to settlement in the Wind river country and the surplus is to be deposited in the United States treasury to create a "general welfare fund," which will be disbursed by the secretary of the interior for the benefit of the Indians at his dis-

Tramp Assaults Girl.

FLORENCE, Neb., May 6 .- (Special Telegram.)-What is believed to have been an attempt at criminal assault was committed Friday afternoon on Miss Mabel Bullock, the 16-year-old daughter of W. H. Bullock of this city. The perpetrator, who was in appearance a tramp, is at liberty and is unidentified. The young woman was able to give a fair description of him and the authorities hope to find him. Public feeling is high. Miss Bullock, who lives with her parents on Jefferson street, was out picking plum blossoms with a girl companion of about her own age. They had gone beyond the school house about 200 yards from the house, when a man suddenly sprang out from behind the trees. Miss Bullock tried to scream, but the man seized her and choked her so that she could make no sound. Her companion, however, made a loud outcry and started running down the street. Her cries brought quick assistance and the miscreant was able to get away. Miss Bullock is not particularly the worse for her misadven-

Originally a controversy between the nations of Brazil, Peru and Bolivia, for the ownership of a large triangular tract of rubber lands, situated where the three countries adjoin, Bolivia was eliminated by an agreement satisfactory to it and it was supposed that Peru's claim also had been met. It appears, however, that Peruvian troops remain in the territory claimed by Brazil and today Minister Thompson cabled the State department from Rio as follows:

If Peru refuses to withdraw troops from the disputed territory inhabited by Bra-zilians pending negotiations which are to be followed if necessary by arbitration, Brazil will immediately resort to force to expel the Peruvians, and will proceed to reprisals.
