Adam Thomson issues Challenge.

To The Omaha Bee: With the awakening of spring the hum of the bike is again heard on our half-mile track, and the reports that come of fast quarters—one better than thirty-two seconds—show that our half-mile track must be in splendid shape. Omaha has always had the reputation of having the fusiest and earliest half-mile track in the country, and this year will be no exception to the rule. It has always been a fine place for trainers to get their horses ready for the half-mile circuits, as the boulevard leading to Miller's park passess the gate of the driving park, thus affording a fine chance for road work. The boulevard being macadamized with cinders is free from mud and dust and is a favorite speedway for owners of fast horses. dam Thomson Issues Challenge.

Omaha Wins Pretty Game from Des Moines Through Fast Playing.

SCHAFSTALL'S PITCHING WELL SUPPORTED

Home Team Fields Without a Bobble and Bats Good Enough to Land the Game in One

Omaha, as usual, and also as usual waited St. Louis . Omaha, as usual, and also as usual waited for a good one until he walked to first. Howard hit one in the air that stayed up so long that Shugart got under it and Miller got to first on Lobert's fumble. Then Harry Weich swiped it out to right and little Nick, who had incidentally borrowed a couple of bases during the argument, slipped home with the first run of the slipped home with the first run of the game for Pa's boys. Thomas hit to Hoff-man, who threw Welch out at second. Dolan banged it out to right, Shipke did likewise, and both men scored on Thiel's error. Then Johnny Gonding retired the side on a pop fly to second base. With four runs as a foundation the home team got another in the third, another in the fourth and still another in the sixth by clever stick work and field work by the visitors that had a yellow streak in it. Des Moines drew goose eggs for the rest of the game except in the fourth, when, with the bases full, Schafstall gave a base on balls and forced in a run. The cleverest catches of the day were made by Welch and Carter, while Howard's all-around playing was all that the fans ever dared hope it would be. Dolan, too, put up a fast game as, in fact, did every man on the team, and it was the vociferously expressed verdict of 2,000 hoarse fans that Pa's boys will do, all reports to the contrary, notwithstanding. It was announced during the game that Monday will be "ladies' day," when the fair sex will be admitted to the grounds and grandstand.

ORD, Neb., May 7.—(Special.)—The annual high school field day meet of Greeley and Vailey counties was held at this place yesterday afternoon. The Ord High school easily carried off the honors, scoring 89 out of a possible 130 points. In only two events were the visitors allowed to score a victory and in some of the events the Ord boys were so far superior to the visitors that it made poor sport for the large attendance that patronized the meet. The North Loup team scored 31 points, while
