SAYS BLACKBURN IS BIASED

Cornish Pronounces His Political Methods Inconsistent and Usscrupulous.

REFUTES STATEMENT OF KNIFING MERCER

Declares Chairman of Congressional Committee Used His Office to Promote Interests of His Favored Candidate.

T. W. Blackburn, chairman of the Second district congressional committee, and E. J. Cornish, the republican candidate for nomination for congressman, have made an another exchange of letters on the matter arising from the discussion of the nomination and how to secure it. Blackburn's letter was sent to Cornish and simultaneously published in the World-Herald, and it is as follows:

letter was sent to Cornish and simultaneously published in the World-Herald, and it is as follows:

OMAHA. May 8.—Hon. E. J. Cornish:
My Dear Sir—Your letter of the 7th inst., published in The Bee, under headlines suggesting that I should resign the chairmanship of the congressional committee, avoids the issue presented in my communication of the 8th inst. addressed to you, and indulges in a special plea which is clearly demurrable and wholly irrelevant.
You put several inquiries, however, which it affords me pleasure to answer.
You ask what was my motive in writing my letter. I answer frankly: A desire to correct misapprehensions likely to have resulted from your published interviews and speeches in The Bee. I stated my motives in the opening paragraphs of my letter of the 6th inst.

I gave that letter to the World-Herald because the intelligent people of Omaha in all parties read that newspaper, and I regard it as a medium for reaching them.
Your second inquiry is "Why do you attempt to breed factional discord in ourparty?" This question assumes a fact not in evidence. The incubator from which the factional chicks in Douglas county are hatched is not in the Paxton block. The progenitor of republican discord in Omaha, Douglas county and Nebraeka is your patron saint, Edward. That gentleman's ambition and personal malice prevents harrony, and his newspaper is the fomenting cause of the factional discord which defeated a republican congressman and gave a democratic candidate for governor 2500 majority in Douglas county two years ago.
Your third question is: "Can it be that in your personal contests you have been so frequently flavored with the columns of the World-Herald that you feel under oblisations to its proprietor?"

Coming from you and your faction this inquiry is decidedly refreshing. The proprietor of the World-Herald is in congress because your faction bolded the republican normines two years ago. Less than four years ago you were a regular contributor to the World-Herald an party which arraigned and denounced my own party. That unique distinction is also yours.

I never sulked in my tent during a presidential campaigm and never wrote, uttered or prior produced an indictment of William McKinley and my party for the position of my party in connection with the annexation of the Philippine islands. I never told my former party associates and my democratic friends that I feared my conscience was too tender to permit me to vote for William McKinley for president. Here, again, you are in a class by yourself.

I never was invited by Hon. Alexander Laverty of Ashland, Neb., to speak from the same rostrum with Theodore Rossevelt. That exceptional honor was yours. I did not decline the invitation because I disapproved the policy of the republican party and could not lend my presence to the occasion because I distinctly disapproved of the speeches of the republican nominee for vice president, now the honored chief executive of the nation and the standard bearer of my party in this campaign. You not only refused to speak at a meeting with Theodore Roosevelt, but took occasion to write a long letter setting out your reasons, which letter contained the sentiments so extensively copied by the World-Herald in its atteks upon the republican nominees and the republican platform.

My newspaper articles sometimes displaced to the least to the least the produced to the least the republican platform.

y newspaper articles sometimes disse you and the editors of The Bee, but have not thus far been used as camm ammunition by the democratic pubspeakers and press.
ad I refused to speak in 1900 from the se platform with "Eheodore Roosevelt," I been at any time in doubt about ing for William McKinley in that camga, and had I beited the republican since for congress two years ago, I paign, and had I bolted the republican nominee for congress two years ago, I think I should have been a democrat in name as well as sentiment, and would long since have resigned the chairmanship of the republican congressional committee, which I have held for eight years without the consent, approval or connivance of our mutual friend, Edward Rosewater. Yours truly,

T. W. BLACKBURN,

Chairman Congressional Committee. Reply by Cornish.

Mr. Cornish's reply to the Blackburn let-

Mr. Cornish's reply to the Blackburn letter is:

Hon T. W. Blackburn, Chairman Republican Congressional Committee—Dear Sir: Slowly are you uncovering yourself and unmasking your motives to the world. All republicans, and especially candidates seeking nomination, have the right to a fair and unbiased contral committee. You have never been fair and unbiased. You have never been fair and unbiased in the consistent, but unscrupulcus.

The pretense of your first letter was to criticise the primary called by the county central committee. The real motive was to contest the impression by inference that I had not given to Mr. Mercer the victory he won over me two years ago. My answer, offering to withdraw from the present contest, waive the right of the county central committee to conduct the primaries in this gounty and waive the objections to your appointing and hiring the judges and clerks of election, provided you would call the convention at once by a direct form of primary, unmasked your hypocrisy. In your letter this morning you avoid all mention of direct primary—the only thing that you as chairman had any right to talk about whatsoever.

In your morning letter you show yourself to be a blased and reckless factionalist. As chairman of Mr. Mercer's campaign you knew that I did make speeches in his behalf and was not a party to the revolt against him and that he ran as well relatively in the First ward, where I live, as in any other precinct in the district. You know that Mr. Gurley, the most able and unselfish supporter of Mr. Mercer, announced his support for me within a week after the election two years ago and would be supporting me today were it not for his own candidacy. Therefore, by skillfully and deceitfully connecting me with Mr. Rosewater you convey the impression (that even your conscience will not let you state directly) that I was knifing Mr. Mercer, and have an understudy under the name of "a straight republican" make the charge direct. This is dishonorable politics, and especially so in the chairman of a central committee.

Your designs are further uncovered by your statement that the convention will not be held until fall. Mr. Hitchcock is already in the field. Unless I carry the primary on the 13th by such a large vote as to confound all opposition there is likely to be aroused through your malevolence a factional bitterness that the candidate, whoever he may be, should not have time to allay. But this is not in accordance with your desires.

I need not give attention to the criticism of my Philippine utterances by a man who never had a serious conviction on a political question that was not connected with spoils and exploitation and who never yet erred by leaning to the side of freedom and justice. Very respectfully.

E. J. CORNISH.

good; some are bad AND SOME ARE NOT BAD. Sometimes we are not in position to know whether certain ones are good, bad or indifferent, and we say so. Some people WANT WHAT THEY WANT, WHEN THEY WANT IT, and that's our long suit for a customer.

Now to the point. Did you ever hear of Elimino? If not, you will before many moons. We have learned that Elimino is different from other remedies in that it does not STIMULATE AND BUILD UP FALSE HOPES, but it goes right after the CAUSE OF BAD HEALTH and REMOVES THE CAUSE—if there is a possibility of this being done. For instance, the blood gets poisoned with urle acid, and if Lithia, etc., is taken for it, AN INSOLUBLE URATE IS DEPOSITED IN THE BLOOD BUT NOT REMOVED. Elimino will DISSOLVE and remove all these urates from the blood, and thus CURE RHEUMATISM and all other blood disease. We want SOME BAD CASES to prove this strong statement with.
