MRS. DECKER IN LEAD FOR PRESIDENCY

No Other Name Being Mentioned Now, but Chances Favor the Springing of a Candidate at the Last Moment,

(From a Staff Correspondent.) ST. LOUIS. May 20 .- (Special Telegram.)-The action of the General Federation of Women's Clubs this morning in changing the manner of election has not seemed to dampen the determination of the Nebraska delegation to secure a member on the Board of Directors. The change does not affect the manner of nomination and Mrs. B. M. Stoutenborough will be the Ne-brasks candidate.

There is now little serious talk of any other candidate than Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Denver for the presidency, but his very absence of opposition strengthens the belief that it is but the calm that precedes a storm, and that a strong woman will be presented from the floor at the last moment. Some believe that this woman will be Mrs. Robert Burdette, present first vice president. Apparently she has dropped out of the race altogether, in fact, unless Mrs. Phillip Moore of St. Louis declines to run for the first vice presidency Mrs. Burdette will not even be pushed for a re-election to that office. If Mrs. Moore refuses to take it she will doubtless be elected second vice president, as the present incumbent of Detroit, though eligible to re-election, has long been in the governing body and may feel that new women should be put in.

PIPE ORGAN INTERFERES WITH SESSION Protests Offered Against the Far

ST. LOUIS, May 20.-The second session of the World's Press Parliament was held today in Festival hall, and when the convention was called to order every seat in the spacious auditorium was occupied by telegates, representing the greatest assemblage of journalists from all parts of the world ever before congregated. The opening session last night included many friends of delegates and visitors of honor, but today the convention was attended almost solely by the accredited delegates.

The erection of the great pipe organ in Festival hall interfered with the convention and a request was made that the work on the organ be suspended until the session was over. This request, however, was not pounding proceeded. This caused all but a few delegates to leave the hall and the pro gram was curtailed by half. John Ferguson of Ceylon, the first speaker, told of the paper work there and the evolution of the daily paper from the weekly.

Dr. H. von Kupffer of the Lokal Anzeiger Berlin, presided at tonight's session. In calling the meeting to order he expressed the hope that the parliament would help to further the friendly intercourse of nations and materially help in keeping the peace of the world. He introduced Joseph R. Fisher of the Northern Whig, Belfast Ireland, who took for his subject "Bome Dangers of the Modern Newspaper."

Yellow Journalism. Fisher said that the bulk of and circulation of a newspaper do not necescess of many papers depends on a sen sation. In this respect he said that the modern press in a number of instances has strayed from its ideals.

He discussed the liberty of the press which, he said, had been urged for years and pointed out the great danger when this freedom is abused. The newspaper, the speaker said, is becoming almost the sole reading of a great number of people of the world, and it controls and guides and educates many of them.

E. N. Hoch editor of the Record Marion, Kan., followed, with an address on "The Country Newspaper." Mr. Hoch denounced "yellow journalism" and said that happily there were just enough news papers of this class to demonstrate the value of the genuine and spoke of the country editor's efforts toward mould-

This session of the world's press parliament recommends to the committee on recommendations that it is desirable in the event of universal journalism to consider what steps, if any, should be taken with a view to giving permanency in some form to the parliament of the press either by affiliation through the National Editorial association with the International Press congress or by the establishment and separate and independent confederation in friendly alliance with the congress.

Committee Advises Bishops to Careful in Confirmation and Instructors to Be Discreet in Language,

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 20 .- When the general Methodist conference adjourned at o'clock this evening seven of the eight bishops to be elected had been chosen and the eleventh ballot taken just before adjournment probably has resulted in the election of the eighth. The list of bishops thus far chosen follows:

The tenth ballot was taken just before adjournment this evening and resulted in no election. Dr. J. R. Day received the highest number of ballots, 311 out of a total of 708 cast, 471 being necessary to a choice. This showed a loss of thirty-nine votes, having polled 350 in the ninth. Election of the eighth bishop is now thought to lie between Dr. Day and Dr. R. J. The charges of heresy that have agitated certain circles in the conference since its convening have finally been disposed of in the committee on education. MERGER SUIT AGAIN IN COURT One More Vacancy Remains to Be Filled at Pederal Court of New Jersey 1 Asked to Stay Hand of FINDS NO HERETICS AMONG TEACHERS 22113.

> NEWARK, N. J., May 10-The case of E. H. Harriman and Winslow S. Pierce against the Northern Securities company and the Northern Pacific rallway, being a petition for an injunction to prevent the carrying out of the plan for the distribution of railroad stocks held by the Securities company, was called before United States Judge Bradford today.

The suit is similar to one heretofore dismissed by the United States circuit justices at St. Paul, the Northern Pacific, however, having been made a codefendant in the present action. Neither Mr. Harriman nor President Hill of the Northern Securities company was present when the case was called. Attorney Thatcher was present, representing the Oregon Short line bondholders, to protest against the suit on the ground that the trustees of that line, who had been named in the petition, had no right to interfere with the plan for distribution of Northern Securities assets, the bondholders insisting that the plan proposed was perfectly just and equitable.

Argument was about to begin when Attorney Thatcher petitioned the court to be heard. He said he did not want to ask to intervane at this stage of the proceedings or to be placed on the record as one of the litigants. His client, he said, simply wanted the court to hear his views.

Mr. Lindabury held that the request should not be granted unless the petitioner was willing to go on the record.

Judge Bradford said that while the action might be a little irregular, still be would grant the request, his object being solely to get at all the facts in the case. Mr. Thatcher said it would take about forty minutes to present his views and the ourt said he would be heard later.

Francis V. Lindabury opened for the plaintiff. He argued that the Northern Securities company was never properly in possession of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern stocks, because it obtained them in a manner which the courts had declared to be illegal.

Mr. Lindabury said the Oregon Short line had acquired $78,000,000 of the $155,000,000 of stock of the Northern Pacific, or a majority of the whole. But of this stock only $37,000,000 was common, while the full issue istry in the New York east conference. He of common stock was $80,000,000. Under the charter of the Northern Pacific, it was later learned, the common stockholders in the meantime notified Mr. Harriman and the Oregon Short Line company that they proposed to retire the preferred sto-issue common in its place, but that no holder of the preferred stock would be allowed to subscribe for the new tessue of LOOK OUT FOR DARK HORSES common stock. At the same time Morgan and Hill announced that they were about to organise the Northern Securities com pany and that Harriman and the Oregon Short line people could put their stock of the Northern Pacific into the new corpora tion on the same basis as Morgan and Hill were putting theirs. Mr. Lindabury said that his clients were thus forced into the combination. He declared that they had nothing to do with the organization of it and they claimed that now they have r right to their stock deposited.
