FATHER ON HEELS OF CUPID

John Loftus Goes to Marriage License Office Little Too Late.

LOVERS GET CERTIFICATE AND ARE GONE

Groom Gives Name of James Riley of Chicago and Bride Claims Omaha as Her Home.

A young man, well dressed, but excited, rushed into the office of the marriage examination, to the satisfaction of the clerk just before closing time Thursday afternoon and asked for a license to wed Isabelle Loftus, and Clerk Morrill straightway put him through the usual cross-examination, to the satisfaction of the requirements of the statutes. Meantime a comely girl with pink cheeks and a picture hat waited outside the door and pronounced approvingly up and down the corridor.

When the preliminaries were completed, the young man, who said his name was James Riley and that he lived in Chicago, thrust the coveted document into his pocket and disappeared with the young woman of the pink cheeks, the picture hat and the nervous manner.

The clerk's record of the transaction showed that the young man was James Riley of Chicago and that it is the intention of the young people to reside in that city after the ceremony should have been performed; that Isabelle Loftus is the daughter of "John Loftus of Omaha" and is 29 years old.

So far as the county of Douglas is concerned the incident is closed, for few and far between are the applicants for a license to wed whose demonstrators are not more or less upset. But so far as the parties in this particular event are concerned there is another chapter to the story, the detail of which is shrouded in some mystery, but which is plain reading to the clerk, long familiar with the truth of the assertion that the course of true love never did run smooth.

Father of Girl in Paroxysm.

It came to the surface this morning, for when Mr. Morrill came to open the marriage office an elderly man was waiting to examine the records of the day before. He was much disturbed too, and inquired with great particularity as to the license that had been issued to James Riley and Isabelle Loftus. He declined to give his name or any of the facts concerning himself or the young people that he sought. His principal concern, after he found that a license had been issued, was to find out who the intended bride and groom had selected to tie the knot. James Riley of Chicago had neglected to leave any record as to this matter further than to say that they would "go to a priest," and the elderly man went away slowly, shaking his head.

The Omaha city directory does not contain the name of John Loftus, the name given as that of the father of the girl, but it is presumed that if there is such a person he was the anxious inquirer of Friday morning and that he found himself too late to head off a wedding that was manifestly not to his liking.

Two Poisoned and Two Dead.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., May 27.—Ten persons here have been poisoned and Joseph Tafaya and two members of his family are dead. Arsenic has been found in meat eaten by one of those poisoned and in a water barrel. A second jury has been unable to fix

PROBES INTO BEEF TRUST

Secret Agent of President Roosevelt Investigates South Omaha Packers.

SPENDS FIVE WEEKS IN MAGIC CITY

Collects Valuable Evidence Without Revealing Identity and Leaves for Kansas City to Complete His Mission.

During the last five weeks a quiet unassuming and pleasant-appearing man has been spending his time about the stock yards and packing houses at South Omaha. He has not been courting the rays of the limelight of publicity, but has preferred to be introduced as a newspaper man "looking for material for an industrial story." The man is Thomas M. Robertson and his business, special agent of the Bureau of Corporations of the Department of Commerce and Labor of Washington, D. C.

On two occasions at least Mr. Robertson has been introduced to newspaper reporters, who he conversed with him at various times and went away without knowing his mission, which is to investigate the packing houses of the country with a view to finding out if a "combination of interest" exists among them.

It is generally conceded that Mr. Robertson has no easy task on his hands, but it is understood the seeming impossibility of securing satisfactory results is not so impossible as it may appear, for it is hinted that the secret agent carries away from South Omaha with him a volume of information which will go far toward proving that there is a combination among the large meat packing concerns.

Little Doubt or Evidence.

There seems to be but little doubt that the time is drawing near when the meat packers will have an opportunity to face the Interstate Commerce commission to explain away facts which have been gathered to show that the injunction issued three years ago prohibiting them from having a secret understanding has been broken.

Mr. Robertson is not much given to talk. In fact when regarding his mission he absolutely refused to say anything concerning his work or what he had found out. He says his business is to listen to other people talk and to make notes of what they said, which notes are to be submitted direct to President Roosevelt. The president will go into the smallest details of the investigation, it is understood, providing enough information can be gathered to show that a combination exists.

It has been learned that very few of the live stock dealers at South Omaha could be induced to say anything to the secret agent about a combination among the various packing concerns. In the language of one man, "the packers have the live stock men 'buffeted'; they are afraid to talk for fear they will be ruined by the packers refusing to buy stock from them."

But notwithstanding all these difficulties, it is understood many facts which will go to make up a large volume of damaging evidence has been secured in South Omaha.

It is said one of the principal things investigated is the payment of mileage upon refrigerator cars by the railroads to the packers and that it has been found that the private car lines owned by the packers are paying dividends at the rate of 25 to 30 per cent upon the investment. This is said to be one piece of robbing the packers a portion of the freight paid on shipments, which they believe is legal.

Mr. Robertson has completed his work here and left yesterday for Kansas City, where he goes on the same mission to which he visited South Omaha. At present, it is understood, three employees of the national department are working upon the case of the packers and that within the next few weeks all of the information will be gathered and the work finished preparatory to beginning action against the members of the meat trust.

Founder of Steger, Ill.

J. V. Steger of Chicago, the head of the piano manufacturing firm of Steger & Sons of Steger, Ill., is a guest at the Millard. His visit to the west is simply to look after his trade. He is the founder of the town of Steger. It is a city of 1500 inhabitants, fifteen miles from Chicago. The Steger company enjoys the distinction of never having had a strike among its employees, which is accounted for in the fact that the plant is operated on the profit-sharing system. Mr. Steger is the guest while in the city of Messrs. Schmolzer & Mueller.
