SCANDAL AMONG DEMOCRATS

Anti-Bryan Men Charged with Stuffing the Ballot Box.

SIXTH WARD, SOUTH OMAHA, THE PLACE

Bryan Delegation Defeated on Face of Returns Sits in Convention by Agreement to Keep Still.

A scandal of gigantic proportions in democratic high life as exemplified in the Sixth ward of South Omaha is imminent in spite of the best efforts of the powers that be to suppress it. The story is one that jars the sensibilities of the better element of the democratic party and for that reason a trade whereby the delegation that was apparently defeated at the primaries in the ward mentioned last Wednesday sat and voted in the convention yesterday.

The facts in the case are substantially as follows: One of the Bryan advocates appointed to watch the balloting was City Attorney W. C. Lambert, and when it became apparent to the Success leaguers that the day was lost for the anti-Bryan faction it is alleged that a well known physician of South Omaha was engaged to talk to Mr. Lambert, while another man engaged the other Bryan watcher in earnest discussion, standing between the watchers and the ballot box. Then it is charged one of the antis picked up a large bunch of ballots and passed them to the other, who was near the ballot box and who in turn stuffed them hastily in the opening, but not quite quick enough to escape the eagle eye of Lambert, who immediately demanded to know the number of votes cast up to that time and who was denied this information. When the count did finally come and the smoke that the discovery of the stuffing process had caused had cleared away, it was found that 157 ballots were polled, while the record showed only 112 had been cast, and that with the juggling the Bryan delegates had been defeated by a good, wide margin.

Lambert Starts Trouble.

Attorney Lambert at once took measures to create a rumpus, but the local censors of the party got together and that is the reason why Mr. Lambert, J. S. Walters, Dan Hannon, F. J. Freytag, S. C. Shrigley and William P. McDevitt, the Bryan delegation, is sitting and voting in the democratic convention, while the vote at the primaries shows on its face that they were defeated by at least thirty-seven votes.

It is further stated on good authority that Mr. Lambert announced to County Attorney English before it was decided, for the sake of suppressing the scandal, to allow the Bryan delegation to serve, that he would go before the grand jury now in session, make oath to the fact that he saw the anti-Bryan men stuff the box and asked the county attorney to prosecute the case. Another interesting statement in connection with the case is that the man who got the ballot box from the county clerk's office before the voting began took the same to his place of business in South Omaha, where he substituted for it a wooden one with a much larger opening for the insertion of the ballots, the parties concerned arguing from this that the stuffing act was premeditated from the first.

MOONLIGHT STROLL SPOILED

Two Large-Sized Men Interfere with the Pleasures of Two Young Couples.

J. W. Shouse of 127 North Thirty-seventh street and Miss Anderson of 4117 Farnam street formed one couple and W. R. Davis of 203 South Twenty-fourth street and Miss Hansen of 2518 North Thirty-first street formed the other, and a very happy party they made as they walked in the neighborhood of Twentieth and Dodge streets last night. The mellow moon, shining through the fleecy clouds and the quiet and cool of the evening and the rest of it appealed to them and they enjoyed it all until two horrid men came up behind and followed them. Not content with following them the two men made themselves odious by their remarks. The men were great big, and, according to one of the women, as ugly as mudhens. Thrashing them was out of the question, and as much as the incensed escorts wished it, they forebore, because of the odds in the size of the muscles. The men seemed to see their advantage, for they began talking loudly about kicking the escorts out of their jobs and taking their places.

Discretion was the better part of valor and the four made for the nearest house, 1924 Dodge street, where they telephoned the trouble to the police. When Officer Baldwin arrived the gallant youths told him they were afraid to take the girls home without police protection and asked that he accompany them. Baldwin assented and safely deposited the couples into their respective cars. The police think the work is that of some jokers who were hard up for some fun. Nothing could be seen of them last night.

Mortality Statistics.

The following births and deaths have been reported to the Board of Health during the twenty-four hours ending at noon Saturday:

Births—Leon Luckowitz, 806 South Eighteenth, boy; William A. Beacher, 2701 North Twenty-fifth, boy; Joseph Stipsky, 1245 South Fifteenth, girl; Frank Zett, 2214 South Eighteenth, girl; Arthur H. Fetters, 1308 South Twenty-eighth, boy.

Deaths—Allen Covington, 2217 Izard, 32; Barbara Spolerick, Fortieth and Poppleton, 86; Sanford A. Deyoe, 2519 Binney, 38; Joseph M. Haskell, 1504 Yates, 88; Infant Hillock, 2151 Ames avenue, 14 days; Ida M. Smith, 1908 South Eleventh, 42; Edwin Philbrick, 1814 St. Mary's avenue, 46.

Fagged brains and tired bodies need rest and sleep as well as "FORCE." "FORCE" will do a good deal, but it won't do it all.

Sunny Jim

"FORCE" contains all that is food (and nothing else) from the wheat berry, which has been the mainstay of human life for a thousand generations.

ANIMAL CIRCUS GETS CROWDS

Gentry's Show Delights Two Large Assemblages by Its Novel Features.

Gentry Brothers' trained animal circus, larger and better than ever, gave two exhibitions yesterday at Eighteenth and Douglas streets before large and delighted assemblages. While this amusement enterprise makes a specialty of catering to children, yet a generous sprinkling of the elder generation was noticed. While the mas and pas said they went to escort the little folks, yet they seemed to enjoy the many antics of the dumb performers as much as did the younger people and they were unstinted in their praise of the whole entertainment.

Notwithstanding the rain today Gentry's gave their regular morning parade, drawing crowds to see it and give the regular afternoon and evening performances. The management is prepared this year as usual, to guarantee its patrons freedom from wet under its tents no matter what the weather may be outside. Rain neither interferes with the animals or the audience.

It has become a by-word in the middle west that Gentry's draw rain as well as crowds. Not in four years have they failed to encounter rain on their visits to Omaha and at Marshalltown, Ia., the papers, in announcing the coming of the show, stated in the headlines, "Sure Sign of Rain."

As in former years the name of Gentry has stood for all that is best in this line of attractions, so this season the mere mention that the show is here is enough to elicit more than ordinary interest. Like Christmas, Gentry comes but once a year, and as a result it is a red-letter event, particularly on the juvenile calendar.

The canine feature of the show is stronger this year than ever. There are dogs of all colors, breeds, sizes and dispositions. Some are good and some are bad; some have to be corrected like children, while others receive a reward of merit card every day. The original Mr. and Mrs. Schneider, the waltzing dogs, head the list of the fun-making dogs. They and their precocious progeny evoke much merriment. Then there is "Biff," the meal-stealing dog, who is hung twice every day for his sins. "Shellbark," the sheriff, and the ambulance support Biff well. "Dude," the high jumping dog, seems to lord it over the rest of the athletic dogs when he makes a clean sweep of the obstacles. "Dewey," the high-diving canine, feels his position with much dignity when he is perched up on his platform near the top of the tent. "Ring," who does a bag-punching stunt, is out with a defi, offering to box any dog in Omaha for a pound of meat, and he is not doing any barking over it either.

The management offers $5 to anyone who will ride "Dynamite" three times around the ring. Two persons essayed this feat yesterday and they are now eating their meals from the mantel shelf. "Dynamite" is a mule with a reputation on two continents. He has more life to the square inch than a barrel of nitro-glycerine.

The elephants and the Royal Jananese troop do some clever work. They were heartily applauded at both performances yesterday. The performing ponies divide honors with the dogs, and it would be hard to say which did the better. The equine ensemble work was the best that has been seen here for a long time.

Something novel is offered in the way of an aftershow. This season's after-performance is Galetti's monkeys. The star feature of this part of the Gentry show is "Monkaville," the monkey that loops the loop in an automobile. These monkeys do everything except talk. Their rough house in a barber shop is an amusing burlesque.

FOUR HUNDRED BALL TICKETS

Books for Sale and Demand for Them is Strong—Committee Still Hustling.

Four hundred is the number of ball tickets so far taken for the great opening of the Auditorium. The ball hustling committee met yesterday in the Commercial club and compared notes on the sale and preparations. They found a strong demand for tickets and everything progressing satisfactorily. The management has received a request for date June 28, from the Swedish jubilee singers, who are to compete in the singing at the St. Louis contest. This is three days after the close of the Innes engagement.

The sale of season tickets to the festival concerts closes June 6. They will not be sold during the concerts. The platting of the floor shows the management will have 1,600 reserved seats to dispose of.

Following is a list of the places where the book tickets are sold:

Kiplinger's cigar store, Thirteenth and Farnam.
Sherman & McConnell's, Sixteenth and Dodge.
Myers-Dillon Drug company, Sixteenth and Farnam.

HOODLUMS ARE SUPPRESSED

Boys Who Bother Peaceable People Are Quieted by the Improvement Club.

The disposition of a number of young hoodlums to make life a misery to residents in the vicinity of the Omaha View schoolhouse has moved the Omaha View Improvement club to invoke the aid of the chief of police in the matter of the suppression of the nuisance. This aid was granted pursuant with the request of the club at its last meeting and the vicinity of Thirty-second and Corby streets has again resumed its ordinary serenity. So at least was the report of the police committee at the club meeting last night.

The usual street railway extension matter was the theme for a prolonged discussion and it was decided that the only way to accomplish anything along those lines was to keep everlastingly at it, and so the Omaha Viewers intend to do.

Sidewalks, street repairs and street lights were also fruitful topics for last night's discussion, and the committees in charge of those departments were instructed to get busy and keep busy until the needed improvements were secured.

The secretary was instructed to extend an invitation to Park Commissioner Cornish and City Engineer Rosewater to be present at the meeting of the club on June 10, in order that the club might obtain some further information on park, boulevard and street matters from these fountain heads of authority on such matters.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Commission Men Getting Ready to Go to Alliance Next Week.

BIG CROWD TO ATTEND A CONVENTION

Annual Meeting of Nebraska Stock Growers Will Attract Five Representatives from South Omaha Market.

It is estimated now that at least three dozen members of the South Omaha Live Stock exchange will attend the Nebraska Stock Growers' convention to be held at Alliance, Neb., next week. J. M. Guild, secretary of the exchange, said last evening that he could not at this time give a list of the members going, but he expected to be prepared to do so on Monday. As soon as the list is made up it will be given to the press for publication.

The statement is made that the citizens of Alliance are making great preparations for the entertainment of visitors. An elaborate program has been arranged for the two days' session. At the conclusion of the business there is to be the usual riding, roping and racing events, the session closing with a grand ball at the Phelan opera house.

One of the prominent commission men at the yards said yesterday that western Nebraska is naturally Omaha territory and consequently commission men, stock yards representatives, railroad agents, bankers and newspaper men will be in attendance when the convention is called to order.

As the first session will not be held until 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon the delegates from South Omaha will not leave here until Wednesday afternoon. An enjoyable and profitable trip is expected by those who intend visiting Alliance at this time.

Notes of the Y. M. C. A.

The Sunday afternoon meetings have been discontinued for the summer. They will be resumed September 3.

The board of directors is so well pleased with the success of the night school that it has authorized the educational committee to add two more studies next season, viz: advanced arithmetic and a class for Scandinavian workingmen to learn English.

In the membership summary given at the annual meeting of the board of directors there were the following items: Membership of employes of corporations: Union Stock yards, 29; Swift, 26; Cudahy, 17; Armour, 19; Omaha Packing company, 6. By churches: Methodist, 48; Roman Catholic, 33; Presbyterian, 29; Christian, 23; Baptist, 22; Episcopal 21; United Presbyterian, 7. By nationalities: There are thirteen nationalities represented in the association, English, Swedish, German, Irish, Jewish, Polish, Scotch, Filipino, Bohemian, Danish, Canadian, French, Russian.

Will Rebuild Plant.

George Parks has gone to Los Angeles, Cal., with orders from the Cudahy Packing company to rebuild the plant there as soon as possible. Purchasing agents here are wiring for material, to be shipped to Los Angeles as quickly as possible, and the expectation is to have the plant there in operation again in less than ninety days. No definite information has been received here regarding the cause of the fire, but it is supposed that defective wiring started the blaze which resulted in the almost total destruction of the plant. The loss to the Cudahy company will be about $350,000, almost entirely covered by insurance.

Building Permits Being Secured.

Five building permits were issued yesterday. Those securing permits were: John Clopton, dwelling, Twenty-eighth and W streets; M. Peterson, Twenty-fourth and E streets, store building; L. V. Williams, dwelling, Twenty-eighth and B streets; F. Sevick, Twenty-seventh and V streets, dwelling; Margaret Green, Twenty-sixth and A streets, dwelling. While the largest of these permits calls for an expenditure of $1,800, the tendency to build is what pleases the city authorities.

McGill Keeps Working.

Poundmaster McGill keeps pounding away every day and is adding to his stock of canines right along. For five days of this week McGill has snaked in not less than a dozen untagged dogs each day. In spite of the returns made by the poundmaster there does not seem to be any diminution of the number of curs running at large. The sale of dog tags has dropped off during the last few days and Sunday the poundmaster will put on an additional force to gather in some of the dogs running at large without tags.

Magic City Gossip.

W. W. Nicholson has returned from an extended southern trip.

G. S. Hogg, 275 South Twenty-first streets, reports the birth of a daughter.

Real estate dealers say that there is constant inquiry for good inside property.

Floyd McKay has gone to Lancaster county to spend a few days with relatives.

The Amphion club concert at the Methodist church last night was very well attended.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lumley, Twenty-fourth and P streets.

The Modern Brotherhood of America will give a social and dance at Workman temple this evening.

H. A. Fisher of Wahoo is in the city superintending repairs to his cottages at Twenty-fourth and K streets.

CHIEF SUSPECT IS CAUGHT

Leader of Men Charged with Stealing Fence Will Be Brought Before Federal Officers.

Deputy United States Marshal James Allan returned Friday evening from Niobrara, where he arrested Claude Barnes, who, together with Parke Wright, is charged with stealing 740 pounds of fence wire belonging to the United States government and disposing of the same. The wire was taken from the Santee reservation.

Barnes was arraigned before United States Commissioner Chambers at Niobrara Friday and bound over to the federal grand jury in the sum of $300. Wright being out of the jurisdiction of the federal court for the district of Nebraska, could not be found, but will be looked after by the federal authorities in South Dakota. Wright is alleged to be the chief aggressor in the case, having, it is charged, persuaded Barnes to take and dispose of the wire.

CHURCH MEMBERS ON LIST

Many Religious Worshipers, Mayor Moores Says, Own Houses Used for Prostitution.

Mayor Moores is still holding the list of owners of property used for the habitation of immoral women outside the burnt district, which was compiled by the police a short time ago. The chief reason for the mayor's reluctance in giving the information to the newspapers, as it was announced he would do, is that so many of the names are those of well known church members.

"Nine out of every ten go to church every Sunday and are ranked among the pillars of the denomination which they support," said the mayor. "Many are friends of mine and go to my church. It might not be the best thing in the world to print this list, and perhaps the same means may be accomplished without it—that of driving the prostitutes within a section with well-defined lines."

CONTRACTORS ARE FIGHTING

Railroad Builders in Controversy in Federal Court Over Four Thousand Dollars.

A suit has been begun in the United States circuit court by Albert R. Gilliland and others against William F. Callahan and others for damages amounting to $4,326.23. The parties are all railroad construction contractors engaged in building the roadbed of the Eastern Oklahoma Railway company in Kay county, Oklahoma.

The plaintiffs allege they were employed by the defendants as subcontractors in 1902 and were delayed for several weeks in beginning their work because the defendants had not paid for the land for the right-of-way and that no engineer was there to lay off the work they had contracted to do, hence, plaintiffs say, they were put to a heavy expense in maintaining their equipment and force of men during the period of enforced idleness. Further allegations of the petition are that plaintiffs were not fully compensated for their work when the work did begin and after they had completed it.

WEIR B. COFFMAN IS DEAD

Popular Omaha Young Man Succumbs to Typhoid Fever in Chicago.

Weir B. Coffman, son of Dr. Victor H. Coffman and one of the best known and most popular young men in Omaha, died at Chicago yesterday from typhoid fever, after an illness of but four days. Dr. Coffman was at his son's bedside at the time of death. His mother and sisters left for Chicago yesterday in answer to telegraphic summons, but were not permitted to reach the sick room in time to see Weir alive.

Last Saturday, Weir Coffman was in Omaha, apparently in his usual health, and certinly in his customary spirits. He went to Chicago on Sunday evening and was taken sick after his arrival. As soon as his condition became serious his father was notified and went on at once.

FUNERAL OF J. M. HASKELL

Four Grandsons Act as Pallbearers at Obsequies of Aged Omaha Pioneer.

The funeral of the late Joseph M. Haskell was held yesterday at the residence of the deceased's daughter, Mrs. Henry K. Burket, 1504 Yates street, where Mr. Haskell died Thursday night after an illness of eight weeks. The pall bearers, four grandsons of the deceased, were: Frank, Paul and Willie Haskell and Earl Burket. Rev. J. W. Conley, pastor of the First Baptist church, preached the funeral sermon. The interment was made at Prospect Hill cemetery, beside the late Mrs. Haskell, who died nearly thirty years ago, soon after Mr. Haskell and family came to Omaha from Illinois. Mr. Haskell was 88 years of age.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Judge E. M. Bartlett has returned from Topeka, where he delivered the response to the address of welcome in behalf of the national insurance meeting held there last week.

Martin L. Sugarman has gone to Des Moines as the district delegate from McKinley lodge B'nai B'rith of this city to a convention of that order.

Charles Leslie, clerk of the county court, has gone to Galena on business of much importance to himself and one other person.

Railway Notes and Personals.

A. S. Baldwin of Chicago, engineer of construction of the Illinois Central, is in the city.

C. J. Wilson, superintendent of the Rock Island at Fairbury, was in the city Friday evening.

Roy Miller, city ticket agent of the Northwestern, and Mrs. Miller will visit Grand Junction Sunday.

C. North, traveling passenger agent of the Illinois Central, who has been in the east for some time has returned home.

B. G. Nason, general eastern agent of the Chicago Great Western, will be in the city over Sunday. Mr. Nason lives in New York City.

George B. Meiklejohn, ex-assistant secretary of war, who has been in the city during the past few days, returned to his home in Fullerton Friday evening.

S. D. Parkhurst, general agent of the Great Western, has gone to Fort Dodge, his former home, to make arrangements for moving his family to this city.

All lines west and east of the Missouri river will put in the low coach excursion rates to St. Louis to be effective every Monday in June, announced by the Burlington Friday.

Tom Godfrey, city passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific, has returned from Philadelphia where he has been to attend the graduating exercises of his son, James Godfrey, from Hahnemann Medical college. On his return trip home Mr. Godfrey visited the St. Louis exposition and he is very enthusiastic over the great fair. He reports that all the principal exhibits will be in place in the course of the next few days and that there will be enough attractions to keep anyone busy for many weeks on the grounds.

TO SAVE EXPENSE TO CITY

Ordinance Being Framed to Throw Paving Repairs on Street Railway.

WILL PROVIDE THAT COMPANY GIVE BOND

City Attorney Wright and President Zimman of Council Assert Intention of Seeing that this is Done.

An ordinance designed to protect the city from damage to pavements by the street railway company is being framed by the legal department for introduction at an early council meeting. It will provide that the corporation deposit a bond with the city for the adequate protection of the paving and that every time a bit of paving is removed permission first must be obtained through the public works department. At present there is no such distinct provision in the ordinances.

Resolutions adopted by the council several weeks ago, directing the street railway company to make repairs along car tracks on many streets, have met with no response from the corporation and councilmen expect none will be made. The question involved is in regard to the obligation of the company to put back the same material removed from the street outside the rails.

Two Schemes in Mind.

The resolutions provide that if the company did not begin the work within thirty days the Board of Public Works was to have it performed under the supervision of the city engineer and to his satisfaction.

An application for a mandamus in the district court compelling action by the railway company is contemplated. Should the mandamus be granted, it is the idea of the city officers interested to start an agitation that will result in certain amendments to the charter by the next legislature.

This will throw open again the doors of the paving question, as it relates to street railways. The charter now demands that the company only pave between its rails.

City Attorney Wright and President Zimman of the council both say they have no disposition to let down on the fight and will push it to a successful conclusion, even though they have to carry it into the legislature next winter.

Abuses His Feeble Wife.

For being drunk, disorderly and abusing his feeble wife, John McCarthy of 1318 Mason street, has been sentenced to thirty days, by Police Judge Berka. Mrs. McCarthy testified that her husband was in his cups Friday, returned to the home and tried to throw her out, although she was at the time on a bed of sickness. The man, she declared, has strewn her pathway with broken bottles and other figurative obstacles ever since she married him. On the other hand, McCarthy alleged the wife was not the incarnation of peace and that she put her first husband out of the house and was now trying to eject him. He declared that he was not of a roaming disposition and intended to stay in the house, "though the heavens and the dynasty fall."
