CRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Nothing Heard but Reports of Couthwestern Damage to Wheat.

FLOODS, CLOUDBURSTS AND TORNADOES

Local Cash Market Maintains Good Prices-Much Wheat, Corn and Onts Are Sold by Sample.

OMAHA. June 5, 1904.

The grain markets are full of crop damage reports out of the southwest. Kansas City sends the following: Oxford Kan, heavy rains; Arkansaw river overflowing; White river higher than for thirty years years and thousands of acres are under water; Cow creek, near Stirling, one mile wide; Guthrie, a tornado, and a second in Logan county, making great damage to wheat; Larcoin and Fort Scott, cloud-bursts; Salida, Kan, thousand of acres of wheat and corn destroyed; Lawton, Oklahoma City, Enid and Muskogee, great damage by high winds and overflow; Oklahoma, along Cottonwood river, inundated for a width of several miles, fiteen at the junction with the Neosho; Florence, Kan, five inches of rain; loia, three feet of water in streets, and thousands of acres spoiled. OMAHA. June 5, 1904.

water in streets and thousands of acres spoiled.

These reports must send the wheat up, for they have started a heavy buying from the southwest, which will be followed from other sections. The market, in addition, has received a boost from the latest estimate by Jones, who is more builish than other experts. Jones thinks the condition of the winter wheat in the southwest requires serious consideration. May, he thinks, has brought no improvement in condition, and the yield east of the Rockles will be $6,000,000 bushels below the crop of last year. Texas he gives but a half crop, and Okiahoma a small one. The Ohio valley he finds sensationally small. The weather has been too cool to give the spring wheat a good start. Another expert finds Okiahoma in a bed way and limits the good crop there to five counties in the northwest. These will have a crop of 70 per cent of that of last year, while the rest will not run more than 10 or 20 per cent of 1903, with much in the west too poof to gut.

The Pacific coast reports a late heavy demand for flour from Japan. This may affect the flour situation considerably. It the war is continued for some months the demand will increase steadily, and unless supplied abroad will bring the Pacific coast at least, and probably Minneapolis, a relief from the present stagnation.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS Features of the Trading and Closing

CHICAGO, June 4—Influenced by heavy realizing sales all grain was weak here today, notwithstanding severe rainstorms in various sections. July wheat closed at a loss of ic. Corn is down 1½61½c. July fanged from ½62½c up at 89½62½c. July fanged from ½62½c up at 89½62½c. July fanged from ½62½c up at 89½62½c.

Fear for the future of the corn crop so far as the effect on the corn crop of heavy rains went is concerned seemed to have largely abated today and there was no lack of offerings at the opening. Overnight enthusiasm on flood talk of yesterday, however, gave July a start at ¼c lower to ½c higher at 50½61½c. From this point prices followed the trend of wheat, weakening under profit taking by large and small holders until the raily to 49½64½c. 1½61½c under yesterday's final figure. Local receipts were more liberal than anticipated, 553 cars, 56 grading contract, and this fact contributed to the weaker tone.

In cats, as in wheat and corn, profit taking was the dominating disposition. The close showed a loss in July of ½c at 159½6 ½6½c, a shade above the bottom and a recession from 40½60½c at the opening. Local receipts were 112 cars.

Trade in provisions was only moderate and the feeling was easier. Free offerings and a limited demand neutralized the effect of an improved hog situation, and the market followed the tendency of grains. September pork closed 12½c lower at $11.75. September ribs were down 5c at $4.55. Prices on Board of Trade. CHICAGO, June 4-Influenced by heavy

$6.57. September ribs were down 50 $6.85. The leading futures ranged as follows:

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS Quotations Are Absolutely Unchanged from a Week Ago.

STOCKS STILL STAY STAGNANT Bonds Are Narrow and Dull-News . Has No Influence on the Market at Any Point.

NEW YORK, June 4.—It would be difficult to find a stock in the active list that shows a change of a point from Friday of last week, when dealings were suspended for the three days holiday which followed Gains and losses are mixed. Prices have not been very far from the level of a week ago at any time, but the light selling for the three day's holiday which followed by equally light covering of shorts yesterday and today, thus practically obliterial and today, thus practically obliterial entirely unaffected by news. The government report on cotton today goes to confirm the unofficial estimates of the promise of a record crop of that product. At the same time continued rains and cool weather in the corn belt will have their influence on that crop. The cutton market remained practically immovable; and yet the season is a problem whose solution is the paramout factor in deciding the course of the present stagnant stock market. The doubt over the grain crop may offset the apparent prosperity of the cotton crop, or more assured prospects as to the outcome of all crops may be awaited in the determined apathy of the stock market.

The bank statement did not reflect all of the expected gain in cash and the loan contraction was not as large as expected. But Wall street has been drawing unfavorable inferences rather than otherwise from the accumulation of idle bank reserves, so that the day's stagnation can hardly be attributed to this cause. The closing was virtually inactive.

Total sales of bonds, par value, $55,000. The bond market is narrow and dull. United States 3s registered, have advanced $5, the 2s coupon and the old is $6, the new 4s registered $6, and the new 4s coupon $6. while the 2s have declined $6, per cent on call during the week.

Wants to Smoke, but Afraid to Try, for Fear His Nose Will (Copyright by New York Herald Co., 1904.)

NEW YORK, June 4.—(New York Herald Service—Special to The Bee.)—Physicians in the Harlem hospital do not like to think of what would happen to one of their patients if he should, in a moment of thoughtlessness, attempt to light a cigar. He has been cautioned against such a rash act, as the surgeons are of the opinion that such a proceeding would be attended with unpleasant consequences. He has an artificial nose of celluloid.

Up to the present time they have been unable to figure out a fireproof device to protect the patient from harm in the event of flames coming near him. How the man came to lose his nose is a secret he guards well. Known only as "John Dos," he has been under treatment at the institution for an affliction of the remaining section of his probosis. Pretending to be hard of hearing, he has successfully parried all of the surgeon's questions concerning himself, and he has become known at the hospital as "the man of mys-

In the matter of dress the man differs from the usual patient at the dispensary. His clothing is of good quality and seems in prosperous circumstances. At various times he has shaken off the reticence that is one of his characteristics and he has told the surgeons enough to convince them that he comes from a wealthy family. He intimated that the reason be selected the hospital for treatment was because his friends were not likely to discover him there, as the institution is situnted in an out-of-way quarter. He visits the hospital for treatment at regular intervals.

"The man is a puzzle to us all," of the surgeons yesterday. "He keeps his secret well and none of us has been able to learn anything about him. I gather from the bits of information that he bas told that he was once an inveterate smoker. believe he lost his nose as the result of a og's bite. He has admitted that the celluoid nose deprives him of the enjoyment of a smoke, a detail which he keenly deplores. If the man should attempt to light a cigar with that contrivance on his face it would be disastrous. We have cautioned him against such an act of folly."

IMMIGRANTS MUST-HAVE CASH Commssion Formulates Rules Regarding Admission to This

Country. (Copyright by New York Herald Co., 1904) NEW YORK, June 4 - (New York Herald Service, Special to The Bee.)-A set of rules is being prepared by the Commission of Immigration, specifying the circumstances under which immigrants must have in their possession on arrival greater or less sums of money in order to be admitted to the country.

On the ground that they have become public charges many aliens have, in the last six months, been sent back to Ellis island for deportation. It is this circumstance which has caused the commission to act. Hordes of immigrants arrive here without enough money to carry them to their destination, and are compelled to telegraph to friends for funds to continue KANSAS CITY, June 4.—CATTLE—Recipts, 300 head, including 50 southering market unchanged; export and dressed beef steers, $5.5595.06; fair to choice, $4.50 $5.50; southern cows, $2.2594.00; southern steers, $5.5095.00; southern cows, $2.2594.00; native cows, $2.2594.00; native cows, $2.2594.00; native cows, $2.7594.00; n their journey. Heretofore immigrants held are of a desirable class.

It is stated by some of the society agents that these people are warned before leaving home rot to carry any money with them for fear of losing it or being robbed. This is to be as much an evidence of good faith on the part of the relatives as for the necessary expenses of the immigrant on route. Often the relatives cannot understand why this demand is made and the immigrant is held several days at the island while correspondence passes back and forth explaining the situation. All this time the steamship companies, who are responsible for these aliens coming here, are required to pay the expense of their detention on the island. The rules being prepared by the commis sioners of immigration are for the guidance of inspectors in such cases, and they will disseminate the information therein throughout Europe so far as possible to guide prospective immigrants.
