His coming, however, the bishop says, is to be of no significance. Among other important questions which will come up for consideration are the proposed change in the church name and the matter of the divorce laws obtaining in the church,

"This is a pleasant reminder of the good old border days, when every loyal citizen would shoot at the drop of a hat and then go and pay his pew rent for a month, remarked the oareful observer, as he scanned the police court docket, which showed that during the last twenty-four hours three persons had been arrested for

Awarded Work of Laying Sanitary Pipe Section of Projected

Saddle Creek Sewer.

The Board of Public Works opened bids for the sanitary pipe section of the Saddle creek sewer yesterday afternoon and awarded the contract to James P. Connolly, subject to the approval of the coun cll and mayor. The price is $1.34 per foot for the eighteen inch sewer, which is to connect with the brick part of the Saddle creek sewer at California street and extend 4,150 feet south to the septic tank, which will be constructed at an angle in the railroad tracks near Forty-sixth street and Dewey avenue.

Out of five bidders, Andrew Kiewit was the lowest with a price of $1.31, but he failed to bid on six manholes mentioned in the specifications.

The board adopted a resolution directing Contractor Grant to begin the Hansoom park paving within ten days. Advertising was ordered for proposals for paving on Twentieth street between Dodge and Farnam, to be opened June 20, but no action was taken on the amendments to the 1904 specifications, as directed by the council. This means, in all probability, that a suit will be started by the brick block people to restmin the awarding of a contract until separate specifications are made and adopted for brick block.

Electrician Sustained by National Underwriters' Board in Pole Case-

SUSPENSION LIGHTS ARE CONDEMNED

President Nush of the Electrical Com pany Saya Arrangements Satisfactory to the City Will Be Made.

City Electrician Michaelson considers he has won his fight against the intersection suspension of arc lamps downtown. He controversy between the electric light com pany and himself to the National Board of Fire Underwriters did the work.

Friday he received a report from the electrical department of the board bearing out his contention that the suspension sys tem is dangerous to life and property Since then President Nash of the company has written, stating that a change in the installation of the lamps will be made that will be "entirely satisfactory" to the electrician as soon as representatives return from the eastern cities, where they are investigating the methods of street lighting. Electrician Michaelson regards the conest as practically settled and in his favor He made the battle single-handed, with the mayor and council opposed to him.

Ornamental iron poles are not assured as the electrician says it is not in his power to insist upon this point, and wooden poles may be employed, provided the wir ing is properly protected by sheathing. Councilman Zimman of the Third ward, wherein most of the lamps to be affected are located, declares the change will not be made if he can prevent it. He con siders the present plan the best.

Michaelson Writes to Nash. The correspondence between the electridan and the electric light company is as cian and the electric light company is as follows:

Mr. F. A. Nash, President Omaha Electric Light and Power Company, Omaha, Neb.: Dear Sir—I am just in receipt of a letter from the electrical bureau of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, in regard to the method of suspending are lamps in this city. Their views of our present suspensions seem to be exactly the same as mine, and state that as long as it is so obvious that the present method of suspension is very hazardous and dangerous that they can not see why I should have any trouble in getting it changed, by explaining the matter to you plainly. They state that this is the first case they have on record where an electric light company is satisfied with less safety than the national board's rules prescribe, while their trouble as a rule is that the various electric light companies makes rules stricter than required by the board. In conclusion they state that though they will insist on protection from any specially nazardous construction of electric light wiring, whether inside or outside, they suggest that I make one more effort to consider this subject with you, so as to settle it without interference on their part if possible.

In view of the above, I wish to state without interference on their part it possible.

In view of the above, I wish to state that if there be any suggestions on your part that you would care to make I am ready, willing, and anxious to hear them and will do everything within my power to settle this matter between ourselves in an amicable way. I will be frank to say that any way in which this matter can be settled to the best mutual satisfaction and to avoid the present indisputable dangers, will be as satisfactory to me, as it undoubtedly will be to you and your company. Awaiting your reply, I am, respectfully yours,

(Signed.)

WALDEMAR MICHAELSON,

City Electrician.

Nash Replies to Letter. Mr. Waldemar's Michaelsen, City Electrician: Dear Sir-I am in receipt of your layor of June 3, and in reply would say: First, I wish to assure you that this company is now and at all times has been perfectly willing to adopt any methods tending to better protection against any danger to life and property on account of construction of electric light wiring which, in its j.t.dgment, is practical under the conditions existing in the city of Omaha. To this end we are having a careful investigation made of methods adopted in eastern cities.

Mr. Holdrege, general manager of this company, and also Mr. George E. Claffin, an expert electrical engineer in the employ of this company, are now in the east making a careful personal investigation bearing on the matter referred to. Upon their return, which will be in the course of a week or ten days, I think we will be able to submit to you a plan of change in the installation of our street are lamps which will be entirely satisfactory to you and which will amply cover the deficiencies which, in your juagment, exist at present.

tion Affected.

ALLIANCE, Neb., June 4 .- (Special Tele gram.)-The storm that appeared to swell and break at the feet of Congressman Kinkaid as a result of the speech of S. P. Delateur at the Nebraska Stock Growers' convention in this city Thursday, wherein he touched upon the bill bearing the congressman's name, ended very abruptly and lecidedly in a calm when the congressman today gave a reason for the faith and the actions as a result of that faith that was n him. He began by declaring that his object has ever been to look to the interest of the greater number and that he had that interest he need only refer those interested to the fact that the bill was fathered by the multitudes, as evidenced by the myings of the country press and the hundreds of letters received by him from people in every nook and corner of the section affected. More than this, the Sixth district republican convention, held about that time, not only endorsed, but requested, that the whole Nebraska delegadon support the measure.

His detailed history of the bill from its nception was not only a vindication of the unjust charges against him in the purpose he had in view, but as well a verification of the truth he so well impressed upon his hearers that he had only in mind the whole people. He concluded by saying that there must be merit in the measure, for even now some of his political opponents are seeking credit for the whole or some phase of the bill. Surely, he said, this would not be the fact if it were a villainous act. The judge's address made for him many

FREE TRADE LEAGUE DINES Speakers Believe Protection Ought to Undergo Immediate and Complete Annihilation.

BOSTON, June 4.-The annual banquet of the American Free Trade league, held at the Hotel Vendome today, marked the twentieth anniversary of the formation of the league and the 100th anniversary of the birth of Richard Cobden, father of the

The guests and speakers were Charles Francis Adams and Edward Atkinson of Boston and L. R. Ehrich of New York. Harvey Shephard presided and about 150 members were present. Mr. Shephard declared that the United States eventually would have free trade and that it was as much out of place in a republic to have a protective tariff as it was to have an established church.

William Lloyd Garrison, the secretary, read a dispatch in which the American Free Trade league sent to the Cobden club of London, expressing the hope that the principles of Richard Cobden would be steadily maintained in Great Britain.

Charles Francis Adams, who was the first president of the league, paid a glowing tribute to the memory of Richard Cobden and then arraigned the policy of protection, which he characterized as unjust to the common people.

The last speaker of the evening was Louis E. Ehrich of New York, who denounced protection as unfair and dishones and a policy of "legalized graft." He said "If the democratic party had the manly courage which is born of conviction and the practical wisdom which flows from the highest lessons of human experience it would in its coming national convention adopt one single plank which would read: 'The democratic party favors the total and immediate abolition of every tariff duty and the introduction of absolutely unrestricted freedom of trade with the nations of the world."

TURKEYS WENT ON A TOOT

Flock of Gobblers Gobbled a Pile of Whisky-Sonked Corn and Held a Primary.

Mr. Phipps is reported to be worth with their food and for a time the actions of the whole flock were something scandal-

Mr. Hendrix came to town yesterday to nake some purchases and open negotiations for the sale of one of the fattest flocks of turkeys ever raised in this section. When he was away some joker fed whisky-soaked corn to the turkeys. On his return Mr. Hendrix found his household in great excitement, the women having locked themselves up in the garret. The old gobbier, they said, had suddenly gone crazy, and the whole flock followed suit. They gobbled, fought, tore around the yard, and then, one by one, fell dead. If Mr. Hendrix didn't believe it he could look out in the back yard. There, lying where they had fallen in all sorts of helpless positions, were the turkeys, all stiffened out The farmer examined them, and, finding no trace of injury, decided they had been poisoned

Hendrix, with a heavy heart, worked for an hour digging a trench deep enough to hold twenty-seven fat turkeys. He tossed a few of them in, then reached for the gobbler, when that old fellow opened one eye, winked at him, then went to sleep again. Investigation showed every turkey was blind drunk. Later they all recovered but were in danger of bursting from drinking too much water in sobering off .- Balti-

LOOK OUT FOR YOUR TEETH "Pearls of Great Price" May Be Preserved by the Exercise

Keeping the teeth in good condition is a very simple matter, yet perhaps more people sin in this particular of cleanlines than in any other. I know young men, and young women, too, who dress very, well and seem to take considerable pride in their personal appearance, yet neglect their teeth. They do not realize that there could hardly be a worse blot on one's appearance than dirty or decaying teeth, or the absence of ne or two in front. Nothing can be more offensive in man or woman than a foul breath, and no one can have decaying or dirty teeth without reaping this consequence. We all know how disagreeable i is to be anywhere near a person whose breath is foul. It is positively nauseating No employer wants a clerk, or steno grapher, or other employe about him who taints the whole atmosphere of the room in which he is. Nor does he, if he is at all particular, want one whose appearance is marred by a lack of one or two front teeth. Many an applicant has been denied the position he sought because of bad

If fibers of meat, or particles of any other food that cannot be removed with a brush, lodge between the teeth, they should be removed by a wooden toothpick. On no account use a pin, or a penknife, or your fork. In passing, let me add, do not use a toothpick at the table, on the street, or anywhere else in public. Nothing can be more illbred or disgusting. Do not try to crack nuts or bite any hard substance with your teeth. This causes the enamel, or outer protective covering, to break, which is the same as if you were to break the skin on any part of your body. When the enamel is broken the tooth begins to decay, and severe pain and an unpleasant breath are the results. Violent changes of tempera ture, such as from ice cream to hot coffee, also cause the enamel to break. CATTLE RAISING IN THE SOUTH

Large Talk of Starting a Western Industry in the Southern States.

We learn through the press reports that certain Chicago capitalists are about to purchase 1,000,000 acres of land in Alabama and across the line in Florida, with the fittention of using it for a cattle ranch. What surprises us in the connection is that fact that the wise men of the north and west have not thought of such a thing before. There are millions of acres in Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Louistana and Texas which are so much superior to the far northwest for grazing purposes that no well-informed person would propose a serious comparison.

We doubt whether, even in Cuba, there is finer pasturage and better winter protection than in the bottom lands of the states we have mentioned. Not only is water plentiful and forest abundant, the grasses are of rictous growth and there is, besides, a vast area of what is known as "canebrake," where the cover defies the most violent caprices of climate-always rare, however-and where green food in profusion is perennial. There are no snowstorms, no famines, no unavoldable exposure to cold and wind. At very infre- nishes the boxes at cost quent intervals the mercury descends to the freezing point, but there is always the "canebrake," dense as any African or Asi- away.

should be has a most injurious effect on atic jungle, with eternal and inexhaustible one's appearance. It is a wise thing to supplies of fresh, succulent and wholesome pasturage.

We are not all sure that the tenderer shoots of the cane-say, six or eight inches high-are less delicate and sustaining than the very finest celery. At all events, it isa fact already demonstrated that cattle can winter in these always warm and fruitful refuges and emerge in the spring fatter and healthier than if they had been stalled and fed under every circumstance of artificial care. If these Chicago capitalists complete their bargain and if they have chosen wisely as to material details theirs will be the most successful venture of the day. It is a question with us whether the southerners are wise in parting with their lands unless at high and satisfactory prices. Cattle raising is distinctly a southern industry. Nature was never in such lavish mood as when it created these bottoms, forests, streams and carenbrakes, and those who own them now should reap the harvest for themselves. But the wealth is there for him who gathers it and there is no end to the opulence thereof.-Washington Post.
