India Will Enter the Wheat Market with Very Large Crop.

Nebraska Corn Keeps Trade Guessing -Local Cash Market is High-Receipts Today Not So Heavy .

India comes into the world's wheat market with a very large crop. The inal government estimate for the entire country gives a crop of 353,050,000 bushels. The crop for last year was 222,220,000 and the yearly average has been 245,350,000 bushels. "Wheat is a very nervous market," said one of the professionals, "The small stocks of cash wheat are held mainly by speculators, who look for extravagant prices. In the meantime the demand is small, the receipts are increasing and the movement of the new crop is a short way off. The price is way above the exporting possibility and it is only a question of time when they must get back. I think it not likely serious damage has been done the wheat crop by the rains."

Gardner with a party of grain men have finished a 3,000 miles trip through wheat states. They report: Western Illinois has a promise of a fair crop and the same is true of Missouri, Kansas and northern Indian Territory and northern Oklahoma. Elsewhere the prospect is for from one-half to no crop. This is supectably true of a promise of Missouri, Kansas and northern true of Missouri, Kansas and northern Okiahoma. Eisewhere the prospect is for from one-half to no crop. This is especially true of Ohio and Indiana, where it is difficult to the amount plowed up for other than the amount plowed up for other states. Onto and Indiana, where it is difficult to estimate the amount plowed up for other grain and the fields left standing which will not be cut. The whole crop seems two or three weeks late. Corn they found to be a very large acreage and mostly up with a good stand, but very late. Dats they found to have an enormous acreage, a fine stand and a fine color. The party did not visit Nebraska.

Other Buyers

a dime higher than last Friday. Something that was not quite so good may have shown comparatively little improvement, so that the general market could best be described by calling it active and strong to a dime higher, the better grades showing the greatest improvement. Buyers were all out at an early hour and everything was disposed of before the middle of the forenoon.

The cow market was also active and stronger, so far as the better grades were concerned. Cornfeds of good flesh could be quoted strong to a dime higher. The grassers, though, unless very choice, were slow and no more than steady. Some salesmen, in fact, found it hard to get steady prices for undesirable grassers. Canners and culters were also no more than steady.

No great change was noticed in the prices paid for bulls, veal calves and stags. The market could safely be quited strong and active.

There were several leads of stockers and feeders on sale, but the market did not show any advance. Prices, though, were steady with the close of last week and everything desirable changed hands readily. Representative sales:

HOGS-There was a liberal run of hogs in sight at all points for a Monday morning and as a result packers had little difficulty in buying their droves for a little lens money. Chicago was quoted weak to a nickel lower and the market here was generally 2½c lower, sales going all the way from nearly steady to a nickel lower. Trading was not particularly active, but still the hogs kept moving toward the scales and by the middle of the forenoon most everything was disposed of. The bulk of the hogs sold from $4.47% to $4.55.

Sn.o'de Theory in Bookmaker Young Case Not Accepted.

MRS. PATTERSON HELD WITHOUT BAIL

Actress Has Letters Which Victim of the Shooting Wanted to Secure. but Failed to Get Them.

NEW YORK, June 6.-Proceedings were begun today by Coroner Nicholas Brown in an endeavor to solve the mystery surrounding the death of Frank T. Young, the wealthy bookmaker. Young was shot on Saturday last while on his way in a cab to a steamship pier to sail for Europe with his wife. With him was Mrs. Nan Patterson, formerly an actress, whom Young had known for several years. Mrs. Patterson was held without ball by the coroner and locked up in the Tombs prison, The police at first believed that Young killed himself, but various circumstances caused them to change this opinion and today the detectives in charge of the investigation said they were sure Young's wound was not self-inflicted.

The entire case may center about the revolver with which Young was killed. Six detectives have been at work on this feature of the case since Young's death was first discovered. Friends of Young say he never carried a revolver.

Mystery Surrounds Witness.

Much mystery was made of a witness who, it was said, would be produced at the inquest and which testimony would go far to clear up the case. Friends of Young said this witness was "not a thousand miles away from the scene when Young was shot." Who this witness is or what connection he had with the case could not be learned. It was said, however, that when he took the stand and told his story it would be made plain that Young did not kill himself and had no intention of doing so.

Young's body is at the home of a friend of the family in New Rochelle, where the funeral services will be held this evening. The father and brother of Mrs. "Nan" Patterson, who came here from Washington, called at the criminal court building oday. They had visited the girl but beyoud expressing their belief in her innocence declined to discuss the case. Abraham Levy, Mrs. Patterson's counsel.

said today his client would undoubtedly be liberated after the hearing.

Everything points to the fact that Mr. Young shot himself, Mr. Levy said, "and I am satisfied the coroner and all other unprejudiced persons will think so after all the evidence has been heard. insist that there be no delay in the hearing today for it is our intention to get our client out of the Tombs as soon as possible.

Suicide Theory Not Believed.

The coroner's physician who performed he autopsy on Young's body said today that he saw no reason why the bullet wound that caused the man's death could not have been self-infficted, especially if the trigger had been pulled with the thumb. Pieces of the epidermis removed from two fingers of the right hand of the dead man for close examination were pitted as if with powder, although it was not clearly evident from a hasty inspection hat the marks were made by powder.

The Young case hearing was postponed by the coroner and Mrs. Patterson's ball was fixed at $5,000. When the case was celled the district attorney asked for an adjournment. This was opposed by Mrs. Patterson's counsel, but after a long argument

Counsel for Mrs. Patterson then asked that she be admitted to ball and suggested the sum of $2,000. Mr. Garvan held that $10,000 should be the minimum ball required, saying: "If this woman is guilty of any crime at all, she is guilty of murder in the first degree."

District Attorney Jerome later declared that he would oppose the release of Mrs.

"This is a case," said he, "in which the coroner has no right to accept ball. I shall oppose the release of this woman no matter what amount of bail is offered.

It transpired that this action by Mr. Jerome was due to the fact that he has in his possession an affidavit of William Luce, a brother-in-law of Young, in which Luce declares that on Friday evening Young told him that he was going out to see Mrs. Fatterson. "He asked me to go with him," the affidavit says, "saying 'the little woman has some letters which I must get from her. I'm afraid of her and I don't know but that she might kill me. I'm through with her. I intend to break it off tonight."

Luce went with him and met Mrs. Patterson and the three remained together until 3 o'clock Sunday morning. Mrs. Patterson did not have the letters with her. however, and according to Luce, it was for this reason that Young telephoned her to meet him on Saturday, asking her to bring the letters with her. Mrs. Patterson was taken back to the Tombs this afternoon.
