DAY OFF ON ASSESSMENT

State Board of Equalization Attend Exercises in Omaha.

FINISH UP ON THE RAILROADS TODAY

Indications Are that Valuation for Taxation Purposes Will Be Fixed in the Vicinity of Forty-Eight Million Dollars.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June 10.—(Special.)—There was no meeting of the State Board of Equalization today because the members of the board went to Omaha to take part in the semi-centennial celebration and for the same reason there was little doing in the state house.

The board in all probability will make its final report to the governor tomorrow, having listened to Tax Commissioner Cranford of the Northwestern tomorrow morning. The total of the tangible property returned by the various roads, exclusive of the Illinois Central and the Omaha Bridge and Terminal company, amounts to about $100,000,000 and it is believed now that the valuation placed on all the roads will in the aggregate for assessment purposes reach more than $48,000,000, though there is no definite way to tell until the board makes its report, which will be made on the 22d.

Two or three of the board members are carrying around different sets of figures and none of the figures vary much and all hover around the $48,000,000 mark. This valuation is arrived at by considering everything returned by the roads and the formation dug up by the board besides and at the best it will be little short of a guess. One member of the board announced yesterday when the railroad representatives began to talk that he had heard just about enough, as the matter is so complicated and more complex became the proposition. This member had labored hard to get a system of assessment that would be just to all concerned, but last night he admitted that when the board concluded it would be a better plan to say that the valuation was found. The value of the stocks and bonds, however, will be the main factor in getting at the final values, for upon this proposition the board has put in nearly all of its time, after the original day of hearing. The board has made in establishing a rational system of assessment, however, will assist the next board in instituting a perfect system, for never before has a State Board of Equalization dug down into the stocks and bonds and the earning capacity of the roads as has this one.

Ends Long Litigation. FREMONT, Neb., June 10.—(Special.)—The decision of the supreme court affirming its former decision in the case of Dodge County against Acom and others will practically end the litigation growing out of the construction of the Ames cut-off ditch, which has been pending in the courts for the last seven years. The case was an appeal from the action of the board ordering the construction of the central cut-off ditch. It was taken to the district court and Judge Grimison held that the board acted without authority. An appeal was taken to the supreme court, a supersedeas bond given and the ditch constructed. On the original hearing in that court a decision was handed down reversing the case. Judge Sullivan dissented. A supersedeas bond was given and the ditch reconstructed. MANY ARE LOOKING FOR LAND. O'Neill Land Office Has Many Applicants for Big Homesteads.

O'NEILL, Neb., June 10.—(Special.)—Inquiry at the local land office brings out the fact that from twenty to thirty strangers are visiting this place daily in search of homesteads. Many persons are filing on the land under the impression that when the Kinkaid bill takes effect on June 28, that they can then take three more quarters and some under the impression that such a filing now will give the applicants a preference right to adjacent lands. It is believed by some well informed persons here that such an applicant may on June 28 make application to amend his original day of filing, but such an application is made before another day is made on the land desired in the amended application, and there would be a possibility of the entry as amended being allowed to stand. Judge Kinkaid is taking an active interest in looking after the rights of the settlers in his district and hopes to have such a construction put upon the law. The judge received word from Washington this morning that the filing fee on 800 acres will be $14, the same amount as heretofore charged for 160 acres. There is yet an open question regarding the rights of the homesteaders and it is believed that the bill as passed will be construed to permit taking land in this manner. The last congress also passed a bill allowing persons who have taken homesteads and abandoned or relinquished their former entries to take another homestead.

CATARRH AND NERVOUSNESS. A Condition Known as Systemic Catarrh--- A Congressman's Indorsement.

D. R. G. CROWE, a physician and a very influential man in Alabama and chairman of the Popular State Committee, in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, of Columbus, Ohio, says:

"Peruna is a most valuable medicine. It affords me unlimited pleasure to testify as to the merits of your remedy as a catarrh cure. I have used it as such and find it is of very great benefit when my nervous system is run down. I heartily recommend Peruna to all whose nervous systems are deranged."—G. B. Crowe, M. D.

The nervous system is the source of all our bodily powers, mental or physical. The brain and spinal cord generate the power and the nerve fibres convey the power to every part of the body.

It is the nerves that give the heart power to beat; it is the nerves that give the arteries the power to contract, and thus regulate the flow of blood through them.

Each artery is provided with an elastic muscular coat, which is capable of contracting or expanding so as to permit more or less blood to pass through, according to the needs of the body.

When the nerves are paralyzed or weakened this contractile power of the blood vessels is wholly or partly destroyed.

This produces congestion, especially of the mucous membranes lining the various organs of the body.

When this congestion continues for some time it is known as chronic catarrh.

The congestion may occur in the mucous membrane lining of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels, kidneys and pelvic organs.

Whenever it occurs it produces the same condition—chronic catarrh.

J. H. Huling, Member of Congress from West Virginia, writes:

"Peruna as a cure for catarrh and a tonic of most serviceable excellence is beyond all question, as has been proven by many of my friends who have been benefited by its use."—J. H. Huling, Charleston, W. Va.

The symptoms of catarrhal nervousness are:—Foreboding of calamity, a sense of something awful about to happen, twitching of the eyelids, moving brown specks before the eyes and metallic ringing in the ears, sour stomach, after eating, with belching of gas, a feeling of heaviness in the stomach, morbid fear of leaving home, constant desire to take a change, nervousness, neuralgic headache, nervous chills, hysteria, sinking and faint spells, distressing palpitation of the heart, defective eyesight, total inability to read, with all the usual signs of nervousness, without color, loss of flesh, sleeplessness and sexual excitability. Some of these symptoms are present in every case.

All that is claimed for Peruna is that it cures catarrh, wherever located, by its action on the vaso-motor system of nerves. That it is a specific for that phase of catarrh called catarrhal nervousness the accompanying letters show:

Mr. J. H. Huling, U. S. Custom House, San Francisco, Cal., writes:

"Some time ago, suffering from indigestion, I was advised to take some of Peruna. If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

LEON J. CHARLES, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, WAS VERY NEAR NERVOUS COLLAPSE.—SAVED BY PERUNA.

Leon J. Charles, Attorney-at-Law, Winslow, Arizona, writes:

"For a man taken up with the daily routine, and rushed and pushed constantly to do thirty hours' work, in twenty-four, there will inevitably come a time when nature demands her due. I was on the edge of just such a breakdown when Peruna was recommended to me, and proved a helper and a friend. It seemed impossible at the time to take a vacation, and yet the constant brain fog seemed to impel it. Peruna built up the broken-down system, restored me to a normal condition, and through its use I was enabled to continue my work. I have learned to appreciate Peruna very highly, and advocate it as a safe, proper and indeed necessary medicine to every business man who is worn out, tired and sick."—Leon J. Charles.
