Large Orowd Witnesses Fine Card at Sprague Street Park-ANAWILL BREAKS RECORD IN STAR EVENT

Makes Second Half in 1:06 3-4, Against 1:07 1-4 by Blugen Last Year, When, However, Track

Gloomy skies and threatening rain were not sufficient cause to keep a good round thousand of people from the Sprague Street Driving park yesterday afternoon on the of the second matinee of the season of the Omaha Driving club. Like the opening event it was the most enjoyable of track, handsome and spirited horses and no end of enthusiasm less and was a creditable and pretty perontributing to the desired result. The blue-blooded horse flesh was not all within the circle, either, for grouped around inside the rail, were no end of gay equipages and high-bred stock, many of the latter of which were no strangers to the bike buggy and the narrow shadow of the wire. The scone altogether was a particularly pleasing and pretty one, to which the presence of a large number of attractively gowned women contributed in no small degree. Owing to the fact that for one reaso and another several of the horses in the different races were acratched the contests were not as holly contested as they might have been had the original card been carried out, but they were close enough to keep the interest up at all stages of the tame and the spectators on the qui vive from start to finish. In the first, which was a trotting race, only two of the field of four starters scored. They were R. H. Healan's bro h gelding General Nuting-ham and T. C. Byrne's Myrtle Boy, and much interest centered in this race among the horsemen particularly, owing to the fact that Byrne's horse was beaten by the bay at the last matinee. Healan's horse is a beautiful little animal and as plucky and good as he is beautiful, but yesterday he was no match for Myrtle Boy, following him to the wire in two straight heats. Nutingham lost his stride almost under the word in the first heat and went up again on the backstretch, never hurrying the black, and in the second, while he kept to the ground better and made it more of a horse race, he was never dangerous. His

he gave every indication of having gone a little stale from overwork.

Mixed Pace and Trot.

The second event was a mixed pace and trot and showed a surpriser in N. Chatfield's Albert L., a big rangy animal which showed some wonderful bursts of speed and won the race in two heats. In the second the winner lost his feet on the first quarter and thereby surrendered the pole and a good lead to O. C. Redick's Robert Post, but he came down quickly and supprise the time made by Shideler will not be official timers, the time made by Shideler will not be official timers, the time made by Shideler will not be official timers, the time made by Shideler will not be official timers, the time made by Shideler will not be official timers, the time made by Shideler will not be official timers.

Bast Gets Away with Western Lines at End of Hard Struggle.

In the fifth Post, but he came down quickly and squared away in beautiful style and beat Robert to it by a good length, in 1:16%.

The third event was the star race of the afternoon, between pacers, and as was anticipated might be done the track record was broken by R. W. Lowrey's Answitt 10 inches. was broken by R. W. Lowrey's Anawill covering the second half in the fast time of 1.86%. Last year, however, C. C. Kendall's Blugen made the half in 1.87% at which time the track was at least twenty-five feet longer than it is now, so it is doubtful if Anawill's pace was any faster than that of Kendall's horse. But her half is the record for the new track nevertheless and was a creditable and pretty performance. F. J. Campbell's Roy F. was second and W. A. McKey's Toney W. third. The fourth and last race of the afternoon was a pace with three starters. It took them a long time to get away, but Frank Moriarity's Sam finally proved the fastest performer, winning in straight heats. Following is the summary;

Held at Krug Park, Where Nine Sessions Are Required to Determine the Issue,

The game of ball between the freight agents of the eastern lines and the western and Williams came in, the latter making lines at Krug park yesterday afternoon was nothing if it was not fast freight. The westerners were not able to get the business, notwithstanding their lines are on the ground, and the eastern agents were able to bill the freight through by 18 to 12. During the competition all of the lines were troubled by strikes, which came in bunches of three and often put the corporations out of business temporarily. Darling seemed to be the boss walking delegate and got more strikes out than any other of the ball agitators. The struggle for through business began with the eastern line representatives doing business at the home plate. The west got one train through in the first inning, and Doty, for the opposition, took B. & M. 71144 in the second added two more, while the east took through four. Barker and Jenifer both suffered from finger-on collisions with the ball and Barker went out.

In the third inning Doty of the east was unable to arbitrate a strike and the other being mislaid; freight hustlers for those lines failed to do anything. For the west Rosenszweig started something off in a refrigerator car, but Darling in the switch tower got it on a sidetrack and before the bunch could clear the yards Platt was also fied up at the second freight house and the lines were blocked for the day. Rate Schedules Abandoned.

The east put a lot of contracts up in the first half of the fourth, but the west managed to sidetrack the whole bunch at the first switch. Then the west came down to business and right there some ugly rate slashing began. McCowan got some stuff in a pirated car and turned up at second with the consignment before any one knew the goods had been moved. He was wrecked there without doing any good. Pierson sent one into the left yard and Palconer, who and stole two bases and came home on a passed ball. Then the boys thought they saw the signals right for through business and Falconer. Doty and Shumway connected at the terminal. The west could not get a hundredweight of goods in their half. In the next inning, however, Pierson home run with stop-over privileges. Business All One Way. Business became terribly demoralized in the seventh and while the western lines never turned a wheel, the east had a car famine it was so busy and hauled home six runs. In the next each side took two runs. Darling showed what the Eric Dispatch could do by taking two bases on a wild throw to first and stealing home on a passed ball. Stockman, who was the furniture car among the westerners, also made fast time around the diamond, although this was very hard on the roadbed. In the last Hodges, for the east, got the contract for a car of perishable goods and around the Belt line to the water tank. The agents then got together and fixed up the trouble.

Here is a copy of the waybill and manifest, the train sheet and checker's report West.

COLUMBIA CREWS ARE AT

Copyright, by New York Herald Co., 1904. NEW YORK. June 11—(New York Her-ald Service-Special to The Bee.)—The Co-lumbian crews, both 'varsity and freshmen, left town for the season of preliminary practice at Pourhkeepsie, where they will remain until after the annual intercollegi-ais regatta on June 28. Their departure is in accordance with was there, did not seem used to shunting heavy freight and did nothing. Hillis and Pierson got their stuff through without any calms for damage, and while Williams efficiency of the oarsmen. By going direct to Poughkeepsie, instead of first going into quarters at college for their practice on the Hudson, the expense of maintaining quarters in two places is obviated. Coach Goodwin also believes that by longer acquaintance with the conditions on the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie the men will become more thoroughly acclimated and familiar with the course.

During the early part of their stay at Poughkeepsie the men will be worked hard, going over the four-mile course as often as possible. Thirty oarsmen, accompanied by Coach Goodwin and Manager Myers, will leave. Of this number eighteen are 'varsity men and twelve freshmen. The final election of the two eights that will row in the regatta has not yet been made. The eight that is now known as the 'varsity had its usual practice on the Harlem yesterday and rowed several miles in fair style.

Young Wins Field Club Championship 'In Spite of Heavy Handicap.

Yesterday afternoon the long drawn out tennis tournament of the Omaha Field club was brought to an end, resulting in favor of Con Young, who defeated V. Chase, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1.

The result was what every one expected, but all through the match gallery sentiment was with Chase, who was repeatedly come up to his usual standard, and toward the end of the match he grew very nervous and made many blunders, serving double faults again and again. After the brit-

FIGHT MAY HAVE TO BE POSTPONED Jeffrica Knee Still Swollen and Re-

salt Not Yet Certain.

SAN FRANCISCO, June II.—Advices from the training quarters of James J. Jeffries state that the condition of the champion's injured knee is somewhat improved, but he will not be able to leave his cottage today. Possibly he may do some work tonorrow. If he does not rapidly recover the use of his leg he may be compelled to request a postponement of the fight, but he does not anticipate that this will be necessary. When asked if they would consent to a change of date, the backers of Munroe said they had no desire to have their man fight a cripple. sult Not Yet Certain.

Murroe said they had no desire to have their man fight a cripple.

HARBIN SPRINGS, Cal., June II.—The doctor who is attending Jeffries' injured knee left here this afternoon. He said Jeffries must be careful and take good care of the injured member. Delaney says:

"Jeffries's knee is weak and he cannot do snything but 'gymnasium' work and must cut out all road work. He will not leave here until the last moment. There will be no postponement of the fight. Jeffries will be on hand and ready to go the limit."

GALES FERRY, Conn., June II.—John Bowditch, the bow oar in the Harvard our-oar crew, was found to be ill of the measles this afternoon and the Harvard amp tonight is full of worried men because of fear that a case may develop imong the varsity eight. The attack is light and Bowditch may be expected to return to his regular place in the shell in

'in Spite of Heavy Handicap.

Yesterday afternoon the long drawn out tennis tournament of the Omaha Field club was brought to an end, resulting in favor of Con Young, who defeated V. Chase, 6-4, 6-1

The result was what every one expected, but all through the match gallery sentiment was with Chase, who was repeatedly cheered. Unfortunately it was one of his "off" days; at no part of the game did he come up to his usual standard, and toward the end of the match he grew very nervous and made many blunders, serving double faults again and again. After the brillant showing he had made through the tournament, his play came as a surprise. As for Young, he seemed to improve with every stroke. His play was one continuous swift drive. He never seemed to tire, and each game saw him more enthusiastic than the one before. It was perhaps this tireless plugging that broke Chase.

The match was for the winner of three sets out of five, and despite the handicap of 15 and half-fifteen, which Young had to contend with, he won the first three sets straight. At the commencement play was often brilliant, most of the games being deuce and full of "imposible" returns.

Though better things had been expected of Chase, there is no need for him to take turns.

Though better things had been expected of Chase, there is no need for him to take his defeat seriously, for this is but his second year on the courts, while his opponent comes from the second sporting county of England, and was very probably playing tennis among his native hop-fields long before Chase could spell the word racket.
