Improvement Bonds to Pay for Paving Are Passed in the East.

MAY DOUBLE AMOUNT FOR CITY HALL

Proposed to Ask the People to Vote the City One Hundred Thousand Instead of Fifty Thousand Dollars.

Mayor Koutsky received a letter from Spitzer & Co., Toledo, O., to the effect that bond attorneys in the east had passed on the issue of $5,000 improvement bonds. These bonds are issued for paying the city's part of the paving, grading and curbing of South Twenty-fourth street and

A great deal of interest has been manifest in this leave as it is the first under the present law which permits improvements of this nature to be made in localiwhere no districts previously have been created. Under this law the city pays two-thirds of the cost and the abutting property owners one-third. The purchasers of the bonds, Spitzer &

Co., offered a premium of $600 when the bonds were put in at auction some time ago and the bid, being the highest, was accepted. Elistories were made as rapidly as possible and forwarded to the buyers in order that work might be begun as soon While the contract for paying was let in March, operations will not begin until Tuesday. This delay has been caused regarding the validity of the same. Spitzer & Co. further write that the ids are being lithographed. These bonds are $1,000 each and draw interest at the state fiscal rate of 5 per cent per annum, interest paid semi-annually at the state fiscal agency in New York. The Issue is to run for twenty-four years. One feature about the new bonds is that the signature of the mayor and city clerk will, be lithographed on the interest coupons, Only the band itself will be signed by the mayor and clerk. Heretofore the zigna-

Committee Reports Tuesday. Tuesday evening there is to be another meeting of the Taxpayers' league at the uncil chamber. -At this meeting it is expected some further reports of committees on the city hall bond proposition and the park proposition will be submitted. It has been suggested that instead of askhall the sum be doubled. Those who are investigating the matter say a suitable building with modern conveniences canbe constructed and furfished for $50,-It is desired that a city hall be built arge enough to include fire department and police headquarters along a city jail. By paying $10,for a site only $40,000 would remain for the building and furnishings. This is not considered nearly enough. An interesting report is looked for from this city hall committee. As for parks it is thought the various park committees will have come to some understanding about a location for a park in the western part of the city.

Examinations Begin Today. The annual June examination of applicants for positions as teachers in the puble schools will begin today. Sessions wil held in the assembly room at the high hool building. A large class is expected. Dr. W. L. Curtis, Mrs. Josephine Carroll and E. R. Leigh constitute the examining board. Today's examination will consist of questions in arithmetic, theory and practice, physiology, music and reading. Ex aminations continue for three days. One Track Completed.

One track of the street railway extension on the Thirteenth street line has been completed to Missouri avenue. Quantities of ties were sent down yesterday and the work of laying the double track is to be pushed. Poles already are set on Missouri evenue for a double track and the work of etting poles on L street will begin today Property owners on Missouri avenue ar anxious to have the name of L street from Twentieth street west to Twenty-fourth rest changed to Missouri avenue. This is for the purpose of making one paving and ourbing district, as the property own ers on these streets propose soon to present a petition asking that the street be paved. It is understood that vitrified brick is the material to be used.

It is stated here that General Kuroki, with the main force of the Japanese, is at Siu Yeng. It is believed he intends uniting with the force advancing from the south and make a combined attack on Hai Cheng. Further details of the fighting on June 15 show that the Russian advance on the Japanese position, when it was hoped that General Baron Stakelberg would drive back General Nodgu's army was a most brilliant affair. Soon after " 'I am a detective, boys. What are you dawn the Japanese were discovered in strong force on a hill north of Dyalwo. The infantry was well entrenched and supported by artillery. The Russian left was thrown forward, with reserves to clear the hill. They had a little over a mile of open country to cover, their only cover being from a respectable family and that I two small hills and two shallow valleys, would rather give the money than to go to The Japanese concentrated a deadly fire as The Russians formed in open order and

The Sixth company of the of the Japanese entrenchments. They lost all their officers and half of the men. Captain Hasken was the jast to fall. He was shot through the stomach. The men lay panting under the Japanese trenches and out of range of their fire. The Japanese raised themselves over the trenches and fired, the Russians, greeting the hail of shots with chaff, and the Japanese, angry at their inability to dislodge the attackers, threw stones at them.

> The battle then became a hand to hand fight with stones and gun butts and the remainder of the Russians, taking advantage of this diversion, gained the shelter of a neighboring ravine, but were unable to hold the position in the face of the rain of shells and shrapnel concentrated there by the Japanese batteries.

> The Japanese heavy guns silenced the artillery supporting the Russian attack. Thirteen Russian guns were smashed to atoms and their horses killed. A majority of their gunners were killed or wounded. The guns were useless to the Japanese as they were literally shot to pieces before they were abandoned. The remainder of the artillery retired to Vafangow.

> The Japanese at this moment delivered their main attack. A whole division was thrown again the Russian center and two divisions around the right flank. The hard pressed right held out until 11 o'clock in the morning, when two regiments rushed to its assistance. The whole force then advanced cheering, and actually rolled back the Japanese advance, but General Nodzu poured in fresh troops, regiment after regiment. The Russian commander saw that serves and retired in order;

The Russians burned the storehouses a Vafangow and retired at 5 o'clock and the position was occupied by the Japanese at The Russian losses total 3,000 as near as can be accertained. It is reported that the Japanese killed many wounded Rus sians, partly because of their hatred of the Cossacks and also because of their desire not to be burdened with prisoners.

Some Russians who were close to th Japanese position declare that many of the enemy were tall and were totally different in appearance from the Japanese them.

Woman Against Woman" at the Boyd The Boyd theater was more than well filled last night to see the first performance of the opening bill of the fifth week Third regiment got to within twenty paces of the Ferris Stock company's engagement, and the continued applause was such as to indicate the enjoyment felt by the people at the unfolding of the incidents of the "Woman Against Woman" is anplay. other of the good old-timers, in which villainy of a subtle nature bends itself to the undoing of the innocent, and is finally de feated. It abounds with the element of heart interest, too. The characters come from humble walks of life, and the scenes are in the homes of the people rather than among the aristocracy. Its story is, therefore, the more enjoyable.

Mr. Sullivan is a manly young mechanic, who marries a girl in his station, and goes to London with her to take a good position. He is handicapped by a father who is too strong to work, and who likes his gin and bitters better than anything on earth. This part is played by Carl Caldwell. Another handicap borne by the hero is the desire of a young woman, who was once his sweetheart, to get a good man to support her, so she won't have to work This young woman happens in just after wedding, and starts trouble at the word go. Mr. Owen comes on later as a moble lord, and takes his share in bringing about an estrangement between husband and wife. All of these characters are well worked out and clearly presented.

Miss Pavey has the part of the young wife, who has a great deal to bear with. and Miss Hill is the designing young person who reminds the heroine that no menopoly on talking exists, and proceeds to make a heap of worry and heartache for all hands before she is finally shown up. Miss Pavey's work is well done, as usual, and the part Miss Hill has is much better Carmontelle gives a splendid character study of the mother of the heroine, and Miss Davis is charming, as usual, in the ingenue role. The bill will continue until after Wednesday night.
