Estimated Cost of Cleaning the Creek Pinced at Six Cents Per Cubic Yard-Day and Night Shifts to Be Run.

The city council committee on bridges and city property, of which Alderman Weaver is chairman, under the authority invested in it by the council has awarded the contract for furnishing of a dredge to the city for the cleaning of Indian creek to the Bellefontaine Foundry company of Bellefontaine, O., on its bid of yesterday morning by the company's agent, H. B. Whitney, specifies that the dredge is to be delivered in Council Bluffs and ready for work on August 15. An experienced engineer is to accompany the dredge and remain here at least for two weeks. The construction of a boat or float on which the dredge will be worked, is to be done here, but under the supervision of an expert from the Bellefontaine factory. The dredge which the committee has conas recommended by City Engineer Etnyre. The shovel will be of the dipper class and will have a capacity of three-quarters of a yard. The machine, it is figured, will elean out 400 cubic yards a day and can be operated by four men, including an expert engineer. According to the representative of the Bellefontaine company, the work of deepening and widening the creek ought not to exceed 6 cents per

According to present plans the dredge will be worked day and night in order that the creek can be cleaned before winter sets in. Under the most favorable circumstances and with working two shifts of men, it is not thought that the work can be completed before November.

GOOD WORDS FOR CITY SCHOOLS

Miss Shaw Compliments Methods in Vogue Here.

Miss Adele Marie Shaw, who a few weeks ago visited the public schools of Council Bluffs and made a thorough investigation of the methods of education here, has embodied the result of her work in a most interesting and at the same time lengthy article in the July issue of the magazine. The World's Work. The article is on the whole very complimentary to the schools of this city.

The fact that none of the pictures of the school buildings which were furnished Miss Shaw do not appear in the illustrations is more or less of a dissappointment to the sembers of the Board of Education and Superintendent Clifford, who went to considerable trouble in giving Miss Shaw the information that she needed and affording her the opportunity of visiting the different schools and investigating the methods of education in force in this city.

In opening her article Miss Sha

In opening her article Miss Shaw says:

Iowa has fewer acres of untiliable land than any other state in the union, and, in consequence, its population is scattered on farms and in small cities. Its educational policy is too nearly indicated by the headlines in a recent lowa newspaper: "Fads not popular. County superintendents to stick to old lines."

But, at Council Bluffs Mr. W. N. Clifford, first as the principal of the high school, then as superintendent of city schools, have been proving for six years that the old lines may not be best, that the old high-way of the children elsewhere trained under older methods.

"I used to think," said Mr. Clifford, "that if I ever came to have charge of schools I would not teach some things as I had been taught." Thus, for one thing, he introduced the novelty of teaching the children to read, to write and to cipher in teaching them geography.

At the beginning of his work he found children to read, to write and to cipher in teaching them geography.

At the beginning of his work he found the children still sing-songing lists, "Alabama produces-," "Louis ana produces-," "Can produces-," "Louis ana produces-," "Can you give me, lend me or sell me material illustrating your part of the country?" The people who got the letters replied. Much has grown from that beginning. No teacher of geography in Council Bluffs is now "asking questions from the books." They do not have the traditional book.

Regarding the method of instruction in geography in the schools of this city Miss Shaw writes:

Before a child in Council Bluffs finishes the eight elementary grades he has studied in his geography course, by means of "exhibits" and lantern lectures, thirty productions or sets of productions: Cotton, flax, Manila hemp, Stadi hemp, ramie, wool, silk, wheat, corn, rice, cocoanut, coffee, tea, cocoa, sugar (cane, beet and maple), honey, woods, cork, packing house products, buttons, rubber, petroleum, copper, sponges, sinc, coal, asbestos, Alaskan products, Philippine products and Hawalian products. inc. coal, aspestos. Anskan products, Philippine products and Hawailan products. Every month this list grows. And the children's power of expression, both oral and written, grows visibly as they advance from grade to grade, learning from objects and piedures.
