The State Board of Control yesterday awarded the contract for the construction of the new buildings at the lowa School for the Deaf to Henry W. Schlueter of Chicago on his bid of $230,022. This was the lowest of the ten bids received, the others being as Tollows: Wickham Bros., Council Bluffs, $558,000; J. C. Mardis, Des Moines, 1264,0000 John P. Weaver, Council Bluffs, 278,000; Herman & Brown, Council Bluffs, $285,000; George J. Grant, St. Paul, $289,000; Butler Bros., St. Louis, $200,000; Broderick Wind; St. Louis, $300,000; W. W. Atkinin, Colorado Springs, $308,000.

The dontract does not include the steam heating miant and plumbing, but does the electric wiring. It is estimated the heating and plumbing will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000, thus making the total cost of attached to the pole he would in all likethe two buildings exceed the amount appropriated by the state legislature, namely, saved him from this. The only material rawback was excessive rainfall in about wo-fifths of the state, the beaviest mounts being reported from stations in he north central district and in the north-procounties of the central district.

amounts being reported from stations in the north central district and in the worthern counties of the central district.

In the larger part of the state the showers were timely and beneficial. Except in localities visited by excessive rains good progress has been made in cultivation of corn, and the crop is generally making satisfactory growth.

As a whole the condition of corn is materially better than at the corresponding date last year and in 1922.

The pastures, potatoes and garden vegetables are making excellent growth. Reports indicate extra good yield of cherries and strawberries. Early potatoes are being used and sold in the markets.

There are but few reports of apples dropping, and the condition of that staple fruit crop, is still promising. The condition of cats, wheat and barley is quite variable, the best prospects being indicated in early seeded and well drained fields. streets.

OFFICERS HOLDING AN IOWA MAN

Joseph Stefanck is Suspected or Killing Frank Castek. IOWA CITT, Ia., June 28.—(Special.)— Frank Castek, a well-to-do farmer, who ins lived here all but a few months of his forty-three years of life, was found in a dying condition at his home in Monroe township, twenty miles or more from Iowa City, Monday morning. He died a couple of hours afterwards, without regaining conictourness. A bullet hole in his head in-licated the method of his death and a shotgun near by proved the character of the implement used. Buicide was supposed to be the cause for time, but now the officers are holding Joseph Stefanck on suspicion of murder. Stefanek is the co-respondent named by Castek in a suit for divorce from his wife, apart from her husband for some time. Stefanek was to be tried the very day of the killing, for an alleged assault, with intent to murder Castekalleged that in February Stefunek tried to choke and beat him over the head with a stick of wood. NEBRASKA CROP CONDITIONS Cool, Wet Weather Retards Growth of Corn and Ripening of Grain,

Weekly Bulletin of the Nebraska section of the climate and crop service of the weather bureau for the week ending Monday, June 27:

day, June 27:

The past week has been cool, with heavy showers. The daily mean temperature has averaged 4 degrees below normal.

The rainfall has exceeded an inch except in a part of the northwestern portion of the state, and in zefew small ereas it has ranged from two to slightly more than three inches.

The continued cool, cloudy, wet weather has caused a rank growth of small grain and grass. Winter wheat is filling well, but is ledging some on the richer ground and rust is appearing in many fields. While-oats are growing well, the crop is very un-

Some lodging and rust are reparted from Nebraska and Missouri and dry weather has hastened maturity in Michigas, but elsewhere the crop has advanced favorably, well niled heads being generally reported. In Callfornia harvesting continues, with light yields in most sections; in Oregon and Washington heads are filling nicely. While the general condition of spring wheat is somewhat less promising than previously indicated the outbook continues encouraging in the apring wheat region east of the Rocky mountains, the least favorable reports being received from Iowa. In portions of the Dakotas the crop is weedy, but in these states and in Minnesota it has made good growth and the early sown is beginning to head. On the North Pacific coast the prospects for spring wheat have been materially lessened by sown is beginning to head. On the North Pacific coast the prospects for spring wheat have been materially lossened by dry, cool weather and recent frosts.

Outs continue promising in nearly all districts. In some of the most important cuts states, however, the crop is heading short, with less favorable prospects than previously indicated. Harvest has begun in southern Missouri, Tennessea, and North Carolina.

southern Missouri, Tennessee, and North Carolina.

In the central Mississippi and Ohio valleys and middle Atlantic states, the prospects for apples are not encouraging, but a better outlook is reported from the lake region and the Missouri valley. While the prospects in New York have been impaired, a good crop is still promised in that state.

While a fine crop of grass is promised in the states of the Missouri valley, recent dry weather in portions of the lake region and middle Atlantic states has materially checked its growth.

MEETINGS ARE HELD TODAY

EDUCATORS AT ST. LOUIS

Thirty Thousand People Are Said to Be

Assembled for Convention.

Because of Size of Crowd Meetings Are Separated and Members Divide Time Between Work and Sightseeing.

ST. LOUIS, June 28.-The forty-third an ual convention of the National Educational association formally convened today at the World's fair grounds when the first of the general sessions was called to order n Festival hall. Later in the day the sessions of the different educational departments were convened in various halls throughout the grounds, the whole constituting the general convention of the association which will adjourn sine die on Friday. The following departments will hold sessions during the week: Kindergarten and elementary education, secondary education, higher education, normal schools, manual training, muric education, art education, physical education, school administration, li-brary, special education, Indian education, the National Society for the Scientific Study of Education and the Educational Press association.

The general sessions will convene at 9:50 the University of Iowa presided. each morning and the departmental sessions will convene at 2:30 each afternoon. Attendance is Large.

As the majority of the educators failed to register upon arrival, but went directly from the trains to their various stopping. places, it is not definitely known how argo the attendance is, but it is estimated that close to 30,000 persons have come to St. Louis for the express purpose of attending the national convention. It is not considered probable that all will endeavor to attend any series of a single day's meetings, as the time will be divided in viewing the exposition, but at the same time each meeting will have an attendance that will almost uncomfortably fill the halls.

Several thousand more educators are ex pected to swell the attendance before the aiddle of the week and it is confidently anticipated that the record held by Boston for the largest attendance when the convention met there last year will be edifpsed Festival hall has a seating capacity of about 2,500, but had the hall been five times as large it would not have accommodated the crowd. Educators from every portion of the United States and many from abroad constituted the vast throng that endeavored to find accommodation in the hall, and the musical program that was arranged as preliminary to calling the convention order was continued for some time after the hour set for the convention to begin in order to permit the delegates to arrange

I welcome you to a city over which three flags floated in twenty-four hours. The first was the flag of Spain, which was replaced by the flag of France, and then the tri-color came down and the stars and stripes went upand have remained up ever

The next speaker was F. Louis Soldan, superintendent of public instruction of St. Louis, who humorously alluded to the forecast that he made last year in Boston when he invited the association to hold its next convention in St. Louis and assured the delegates that they could sleep under blankets in St. Louis in July if they wanted. "I said that in a spirit of fun," said he, "but a kind Providence has ratified my forecast and it is not only possible. but most comfortable to sleep under blankers during this remarkable cold spell. However. I can promise you a change very soon, and I bid you welcome."

While Superintendent Soldan was speaking Mayor Rolla Wells and Exposition President D. R. Francis entered the hall Mayor Wells was introduced next and welcomed the educators to St. Louis. Francis Welcomes Guests.

President Francis, the next speaker, was net with hearty applause; the Chautauqua salute with handkerchiefs and, led by a delegate, three cheers resounded through the spacious hall from a multitude of throats. President Francis gave the delegates welcome to the exposition and prged that as a week's time is too short a period in which to thoroughly inspect the exposition, they remain a longer time after the convention has ended, or speedily return.

"You know you will view these exhibits with a critical eye," he said, "and we welcome your most heartly, because there is no class of people so well qualified to appreciate this exposition." Howard J. Rogers of the department of education and director of congresses of the World's fair, followed with a brief address of welcome. The final welcoming speech was delivered by W. S. Chaplin, chancellor of Washington university of St. Louis.

President Makes Annual Address. Responding addresses were delivered by Hon. W. T. Harris, commissioner of education of the United States, Washington, D. C., and Charles D. McIver, president of the State Normal and Industrial college, Greenaboro, N. C. Mr. McIver said it would be a boon to this country if every citizen were to be sent to St. Louis by the school board, with all expenses paid while the exposition was being inspected. "I would rather that my children should spend a few days visiting this exposition than to spend the heated months in a summer school," he said.

After a photograph of the convention had been taken President John W. Cook delivered his annual address on "New Individualism." He said in part;

KANSAS CITY, June 25.—White the Kaw river here and west of Kansas City continues to fall, the Neosho and other streams in southern Kansas are rising, flooding the lowiands and doing more or less damage. Coming so close upon the recent floods, great hardship is being experienced. In some parts of Kansas rain has fallen steadily for several days. At Emporia a special prayer meeting was held by the Second Congregational church to pray for cessation of the rain.

KICK AND SCREAM

Baby's Awful Suffering from Eczema.

Could Not Hold Her. She Tore Her Face and Arms.

Cuticura Saved Her Life, So Mother Says.

"When my little girl was six months eld, she had eczema. We had used cold creams and all kinds of remedies, but nothing did her any good, in fact, she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands ap, and when I would dress her. I had to put her on the table for I could not hold her. She would kick and scream; and when she could, she would tear her face and arms almost to pieces. I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment, two cakes of Cuticura Soap, and gave her the Cutteurs Resolvent, and she was cured, and I see to traces of the humour left. I can truthfully say that they have saved her life, and any one suffering as she did, I should advise them to give Cuticurs a fair trial." MRS. G. A. CONRAD, Lisbon, N. H., Feb. 7, 1896. Five years later, viz., Feb. 23, 1903.

Mrs. Conrad writes: "It is with pleasure that I can inform you that the cure has been permanent as it is now six years since she was cured, and there has been no return of the disease since, and I have advised a lot of friends to use the Cuticura Remedies in all diseases of the skin."
