

WILL FIGHT TO LAST COURT

Whichever Side Wins in Dennison Case Means to Appeal Decision.

CONNELL PICKS UP POINT FOR HIS CLIENT

Shows Check Dennison Did Not Sign as Proving that Prosecution's Experts May Have Been Mistaken.

Judge Day, Troup and Redick are spending the day together, going over the record and the authorities in the Dennison habeas corpus case, which they have announced they will decide Saturday morning.

This is the procedure to come as now mapped out:

If the application of Mr. Dennison for a writ of habeas corpus is denied by the district court it will not open the way for the Iowa authorities to immediately execute the warrant of extradition. The case will have to be passed on by the Nebraska supreme court, and perhaps by the supreme court of the United States, before it will be possible to take Dennison to Iowa.

Whichever side loses in the lower court will appeal to the supreme court, and the case will be fought to the last possible tribunal. A supersedeas bond to stay the order of the lower court will be filed by the losing side immediately after the decision is announced.

An important sidelight was thrown upon the case by an incident of Wednesday's proceedings. The day before A. B. Hunt, at the request of H. C. Bromie, one of the Civic Federation attorneys, brought in a bunch of bank checks signed jointly by himself and Mr. Dennison. Upon his testimony that these checks all bore the genuine signature of Dennison, they were admitted as exhibits in the case.

Mr. Connell noticed that the Dennison signature on one of them was somewhat different from that on all of the others, the difference being as pronounced as the difference between the genuine Dennison signature to letters admitted in the case and the Dennison name on the Davenport hotel register.

Not Signed by Dennison. When this particular check was shown to Mr. Dennison he declared that he had not signed it. Mr. Hunt was then sent for and recalled to the witness stand. He explained that this check had been drawn while Dennison was out of the city and signed by him with authority from Mr. Dennison.

This circumstance is pointed out by W. J. Connell, Dennison's chief counsel, as indicating that men whose business it is to compare signatures can easily be mistaken, even on signatures with which they are familiar. It was pointed out that if this check to which Mr. Hunt had signed the name of Dennison had been permitted to remain as an exhibit in the case it would have borne out the theory of Thomas and Bromie that Mr. Dennison sometimes wrote his name with the distinguishing characteristics of the handwriting on the Davenport hotel register.

ASSAULTED BY HALF-BROTHER

Omaha Man Tells Police Three Thugs Waylay Him, but Story is Disproved.

William Bennett of 1333 Cass street reported to the police that he had been stopped by three men at Eleventh and Nicholas streets, brutally assaulted and robbed. The police made a prompt investigation, and so far as they were able to learn the facts were at variance with those reported by Bennett.

According to the investigation it seems that Bennett was assaulted early yesterday morning by a half-brother named Mercer, who has been living at Storm Lake, Ia. The motive for the assault is said to be to satisfy a grudge of nearly two years' standing. Bennett, it is said, lived at Wayne, Neb., where his mother died about two years ago, leaving some property, which the half-brother claims Bennett wrongfully sold, cutting him out of his share of the estate. The foreman of an asphalt plant at Eleventh and Nicholas streets, in which locality the trouble occurred, says he came out when the assault was in progress and was shown a check by Mercer, who said he was having it out with his half-brother for selling the property.

JEWELRY TAKEN FROM HOUSE

Articles Valued at Seven Hundred Dollars Stolen While Family is on Front Porch.

It has been reported to the police that jewelry, estimated at a value of $700, was stolen from the residence of Arthur E. Pratt, 188 North Thirty-third street, supposedly while the members of the family were all on the front porch, between 5 and 7 p. m. Wednesday. The articles, consisting of a valuable necklace and diamond rings, were not missed until this morning, and the best theory that can now be advanced is that sneak thieves entered during the hours mentioned, as the valuables were known to be safe at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening and the house could not have been entered during the night without some evidence being left of the entrance. No clue as to the identity of the thieves has as yet been given out, but the police are working on the case. The necklace and one of the diamond rings belonged to Mrs. Jennie Lewis and the other jewels were the property of Mrs. F. M. Pratt.

Fixed Just the Same

Sergeant Restrow of the police station thought he had a ten-dollar fine by afternoon when he arrested William H. Marrs of Topeka, Kan., on the charge of being drunk and sleeping at a public drinking establishment. Marrs promised the sergeant that as soon as released from the city jail he would secure a $100 position for the sergeant. Marrs also made donations of half-bottle wine royalty by saying that he could walk up to half a
