

MRS. B.A. BLANCHARD

there is no medicine so good for sick women as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—Mrs. B. A. BLANCHARD, 423 Broad St., Nashville, Tenn.

These Two Women were Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

READ THEIR LETTERS:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me. Better health was all I wanted, and cure if possible. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. Life seems new and sweet to me, and everything seems pleasant and easy. Six bottles brought me health, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I am satisfied with your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—Mrs. B. A. BLANCHARD, 423 Broad St., Nashville, Tenn.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to express my gratitude for the restored health and happiness Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought into my life. I had suffered for three years with terrible pains at the time of menstruation, and did not know what the trouble was until the doctor pronounced it inflammation of the ovaries, and proposed an operation. I felt so weak and sick that I felt sure that I could not survive the ordeal, and so I told him that I would not undergo it. The following week I read an advertisement in the paper of your Vegetable Compound in such an emergency, and so I decided to try it. Great was my joy to find that I actually improved after taking two bottles, so I kept taking it for ten weeks, and at the end of that time I was cured. I had gained eighteen pounds and was in excellent health, and am now. You surely deserve great success, and you have my very best wishes."—Miss ALICE BAILEY, 60 North Boulevard, Atlanta, Ga.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original cure of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant,—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and restorer ever discovered to act directly upon the uterine system, positively CURING disease and restoring health and vigor. Marvellous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and are fair enough to give credit where it is due.

If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it can be relied upon to effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. No living person has had the benefit of a wider experience in treating female ills. She has guided thousands to health. Every suffering woman should ask for and follow her advice.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

City Council Holds Another Important Special Meeting.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR MORE PAVING

Name of L Street Changed and an Ordinance Passed Providing for the Resurfacing of Twenty-fourth Street.

Wednesday witnessed the last of the special council meetings for the week. An ordinance was passed changing the name of L street from Twentieth to Twenty-fourth street to Missouri avenue. This is done in order that one paving district from Thirteenth street to Twenty-fourth may be created. A paving petition is now in circulation and will be handed in to the city council shortly. Ordinances pertaining to this paving will be hurried as rapidly as the law will permit in order that the work may be completed before fall.

The most important ordinance passed was one regarding the repairing of the pavement on Twenty-fourth street. This ordinance was signed by the mayor last evening and will be published today. It provides for the repairing of the pavement from A to Q streets and transfers funds from a number of miscellaneous funds which have been accumulating for years, to a repair fund created especially for this work. City Engineer Beal submitted a statement to the council showing the amount of material and the cost. It will take $2,284 square yards of pavement to cover the surface and the estimated cost is $33,201. Then 500 cubic yards of asphalt binder will be used, the cost being estimated at $3,000. For concrete base, 200 cubic yards will be used and this is estimated at $2,100. Resurfacing 4,000 lineal feet of curbing is estimated at $400, making the total of $40,301. This work means that the roadway will practically be repaved, with the exception of the three blocks from N to Q streets. There is no money available for repaving, but the city authorities assert that they can easily find the amount needed for repaving the street.

Teachers' Examination Papers. The teachers' examining board has about completed the papers submitted by those taking the examination for teachers' certificates. A report showing the standing of each one of the sixty-six who underwent the examination will be made to the Board of Education at a meeting to be held July 5.

Delaney-Calkins. At noon Wednesday Dr. Emile L. Delaney and Miss Alma M. Calkins were married at St. Martin's Episcopal church, Twenty-fourth and J streets. Rev. Irving F. Johnson of Minneapolis performed the ceremony. The church was handsomely decorated for the occasion and many friends of both bride and groom witnessed the ceremony. The bride and groom are among South Omaha's best known young people. Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Twenty-third and D streets. Last evening Dr. and Mrs. Delaney left for St. Louis and other southern points. They expect to be gone about a month. After August 1 Dr. and Mrs. Delaney will be at home at 1322 North Twenty-third street.

Notice to Liquor Dealers. Chief of Police Briggs visited a large number of saloons yesterday and notified the proprietors to call at once at the office of A. L. Bergquist, secretary of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, for their 1904 liquor licenses. While all of the liquor dealers have paid their money and have treasurer's receipts, few have called for their licenses. In the past it was the custom for the city clerk to deliver the licenses, but under the police board ruling those to whom licenses have been granted must call on the secretary for the document.

HENNINGS MAKES ANSWER

City Treasurer Defends Tax Van Condemned by Real Estate Exchange.

SAYS IT WAS NEEDED WITH SOME MEMBERS

Tells of Forcible Methods Necessary in Collecting Taxes of Real Estate Men Who Vowed Vengeance Against Treasurer.

Action by the Real Estate exchange in declaring the exhibition of City Treasurer Hennings' collection van in "bad taste and entirely unnecessary" has called forth a trenchant reply from Mr. Hennings. He asserts that his method of inducing the prompt payment of taxes has produced $2,000,000 for the city during the last few years and declares the action of the exchange was brought about through personal ill-feeling on the part of some of the leading members whose records he has necessary to correct in paying their taxes.

The treasurer withholds the names of the tax shirkers in the exchange, but says they will be furnished if desired. While not deeming it advisable to give out the facts concerning the episode which Treasurer Hennings believes to be at the bottom of the present criticism, his records show that in 1901 he collected personal taxes delinquent for twelve years from one of the men who is an officer of the exchange at this time, a distress warrant being used, coupled with the threat of attachment of personal property and removal in the van. After this point had been reached the real estate men went to the city hall, paid the taxes and, shaking his fist under the nose of the treasurer, declares he would "fix him."

Hennings Explains the Case. In the opinion of Treasurer Hennings the long-delayed attempt to "fix" has been started. The treasurer gave out the following statement defending his position: In 1901 the Omaha Real Estate exchange went on record as endorsing my system of collecting delinquent taxes.

On April 21, 1902, the Omaha Commercial club, in a letter, said: "Motion unanimously adopted endorsing your course in pressing collections of delinquent taxes and hope you will continue your effort in this direction until the job is done." On May 5, 1903, the good people of Omaha re-elected me with a majority of 3,120 votes, thereby endorsing my plan and saying: "Continue to do your duty, and if necessary collect with the van." I have been city treasurer for over four years, during which time the van was on the streets twenty-two days, with the following result: Under the former treasurers 32 per cent of personal taxes were collected, while under my plan 56 per cent. This is an increase of 24 per cent, which would amount to $100,000 on the 1904 levy and would be a saving of almost $2,000,000 during a period of ten years. The van is used on the basis of 25 per cent is included. As every other large city, Omaha has some tax shirkers. These are the people whom I have been after, and the kicking comes largely from this class. Some of the most prominent members of the Real Estate exchange have refused to pay back taxes until they had been threatened they would fix me. If desired, names will be furnished.

ADVANCE OF THE NEGRO RACE

Rev. Philip Akiba Hubert Lectures to Large Audience at Zion Baptist Church.

Rev. Philip Akiba Hubert, a noted colored preacher and educator of the south and financial secretary of Morgan college at Lynchburg, Va., and the Paul Quinn college of Waco, Tex., occupied the pulpit at Zion Baptist church, 2215 Grant street, last evening. Rev. Mr. Hubert has been in the city about two weeks and will stay two weeks longer in the interests of his institutions he represents. Mr. Hubert, who is an eloquent speaker and a strong example of what education can do for the colored race, chose for his theme last evening "God and the Colored Race; or an Argument Showing Very Palpably and Clearly that the Colored Race is as Closely Identified with God as Any Other Race." Mr. Hubert said in part: "The progress of the race is consequent upon identical creation. We must view the race from a religious and moral standpoint; we must consider it from physiological, anatomical and ethnological standpoints; this is absolutely necessary to get an intelligent understanding of the question. The negro question is not at all a serious one, in spite of all that has happened antagonistic to its progress. One of the prime essentials is that the race must take cognizance of its personal advancement; then the advancement of the race as a whole will follow as a natural consequence. The longevity of the race establishes its permanency as a race. It matters not what social causes may be injected into the race, it does not deteriorate, but rather it strengthens through the fires of adversity. All things considered there is no parallel in history to compare with the negro's progress during the past forty years, and the tendency is, with the present industrial improvements, the race will continue to improve at an increased ratio. This is my honest conviction." A large attendance listened to Mr. Hubert's remarks.

FONTANELLE SOCIAL SESSION

Club Listens to Some Speeches and Indulges in Light Refreshments.

The Fontanelle club met Wednesday at 1330 Farnam street, third floor, and don't mind. It was a social session, but whether in celebration of Tom Blackburn's first night out since his return from California or the home-coming of Wattle and Broms from the Chicago convention was not made quite clear from the proceedings. All three of the gentlemen named acknowledged the compliment from the club when they were called upon to utter words.

R. B. Howell called the assembly to order and introduced Lieutenant Governor McGilton as the chairman of the evening. The lieutenant governor, having the honor thrust upon him unexpectedly, found himself short of words in which to express his gratitude and made an immediate draft on the eloquence that he knew was concealed behind the negligee shirts in the room. His first call was for G. W. Wattle, who came forward and expatiated at length upon the worth of the Nebraska delegates and visitors at the Chicago convention. Incidentally Mr. Wattle declared that one of the objects of the Fontanelle club was to bring together "the better element" of the republican party in Douglas county. "Let us hope that we will always be representing that which is best in the party and that we will always be fighting that faction which represents the worst of the party," he said. Mr. Blackburn was the next member to talk, but he said very little, confining his remarks to an expression of his gratitude for the welcome given him on his return from California with a wife. Harry Broms, who came next, sought to impeach the testimony of his recent colleague, Mr. Wattle, by declaring that the Fontanelle club represents no faction in the republican party.

After Mr. Broms' speech a fifteen-minute recess was taken for refreshments, which consisted of sandwiches and claret lemonade. About half of those present took advantage of the recess to get away, and consequently when Howard Kennedy, Jr., and W. F. Gurley spoke about half of the benches were empty. Mr. Gurley said he considered his membership in the club a badge of honor, for the reason that the organization stands for the principles of supporting and voting for the entire republican ticket after it is nominated.

Youth is Touched for Hell. J. C. Bigard, a youth of tender years and residing at 506 South Sixteenth street, after losing $25 in a resort last night, came to the conclusion that six months in a city does not necessarily mean a knowledge of the world and the ways of the women that inhabit it. Bigard's home is in Harlan, Ia., and his knowledge of the peculiarities of the Third ward women was vague. He saw them as he passed their windows, they looked so charming, so entrancing, so innocuous. One of them—Gertie Washington—smiled at him and his fate was sealed. She put her arms around him, and appropriated his cash. He did not notice his loss until he had left the place and this gave the

KILPATRICK'S TENT RUINED

Wind Demolishes the Giant "Top" and Great Show Will Be Given Free at Krug Park.

The short stormy spell Wednesday afternoon cost the Kilpatrick Bros. show over $1,000 a minute. The mammoth tent, fifty-five feet in height, was almost completely demolished, and the dancing poles and fixtures were smashed like so much matchwood. The guy ropes parted and the whole tent was only saved from being blown away by the center pole, which stood fast. The show lasted about four minutes and in that time canvase men, performers and all available men were commandeered into service. They attempted to hold down the stake ropes, but the wind swept them from their hold, and it was only by the merest chance that no one was injured.

The tent is on a hillock at the Krug Park grounds and had no protection from the wind, and in a jiffy the great structure was rent from top to bottom. The tent is the largest circus tent in the world. As Kilpatrick Bros. had made a contract with the Krug Park people to give the performances, all that could be done at so short a notice was done and performance given in Krug Park arena. Time did not permit the loop-the-loop to be erected and this was not given last night, but it is programmed for tonight's performance. Out-

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY

Document Form Chief Topic of Discussion at International Association of Horsehoers' Convention.

The report of the secretary of the International Association of Journeymen Horsehoers continues the main subject for consideration at the convention of that association at Labor temple. From this report constant references are made to subcommittees and special committees and these comprise the essential business of the association meeting at this time. The election of officers is not looked for before Saturday.

Last evening the delegates were given a dance and entertainment at Courtyard Beach by the local trades unions. This evening an open meeting will be held at Labor temple, to which all the horsehoers of Omaha have been invited, regardless of whether they are affiliated with the unions or not. A program of addresses by prominent labor leaders has been provided.

Saturday evening a smoker will be tendered the delegates at Labor temple by the local horsehoers. The program will be varied, with a six-round boxing contest between two of the best boxers of Omaha. Frank J. Murphy of South Omaha has been selected as referee for the contest and it is the intention to make the affair a lively one.
