A Kansas Judge Talks Business to a Life Insurance "Policy Holder's" Claim Agent. Though there are over a million policies in force in the standard American life companies, representing a total of something like $2,000,000,000 insurance, there are still occasionally men to be found who assert that they alone are "on" to the alleged fact that the companies are not doing the square thing by the members and that they, the wise few indicated, are the boys to set things right; if they are paid for it.

Money to Take Up Warrants. When the contractors who are building the insane hospital at Norfolk, the normal school at Kearney, the cells at the penitentiary and making repairs on other buildings at the expense of the state come after their money, Treasurer Mortenson will be ready to relieve them of the warrants that they will receive. In the permanent school fund, so his report for June shows, he has $250,707.35 which he will devote to this very purpose. Many Filings in Daves. CHADRON, Neb., July 1.—(Special.)—Since 9 a. m. June 28, when the "Kinkaid" bill, allowing 640 acres for a homestead, there have been made in Daves county 27 filings before O. V. H. Babcock, seventy-five before Clifton Freeman, clerk of the district court, and before C. Dana Sayers, county judge. It speaks well for the country that around these offices it seems as one man remarked, "Like an old settler remount." Besides many new people coming in, this bill will make the ones here more prosperous, and those who have lived here for the last twenty years highly appreciate this addition to their land, and feel and say: "Judge Kinkaid has done more for this county in this one bill than all the congressmen of the 'Big Six' has had before, all put together."

Land Rush Ends at North Platte. NORTH PLATTE, Neb., July 1.—(Special.)—The "rush" of applicants to make filings on land under the Kinkaid law is over, and everything in connection therewith has been disposed of in a quiet and pleasant manner. The number of filings received 257, but had the land commissioner not ordered the withdrawal of a large tract from settlement the number would have reached 500 or 600. The people of this city are congratulating themselves that there was no disturbance of any kind while the "rush" was on, and everyone interested is free in praise of the officers and clerks of the land office at this point for the efficient and satisfactory way in which they conducted the volume of business which came before them in the last few days.

Hearing for Alleged Wreckers. NORTH PLATTE, Neb., July 1.—(Special.)—The parties who made the attempt to wreck a passenger train a short distance east of here night before last will have their preliminary hearing Saturday. Men in railroad clothes are very much inclined against the fellows who made this bold attempt to destroy life and property. If they were to fall into the hands of the men running on the road they would meet with rough treatment.
