Deceived.

It was only the same old story—
I trusted a woman's face;
I gazed on her hair's bright glory,
And her figure's lissome grace.

Her eyes were so near to weeping
As she pled for a man's great trust,
I'd have given my soul to her keeping,
So I yielded—as all men must.

But fickle as any sailor,
She left me to vain regret;
(I am a ladies' tailor—
And she owes for her habit yet!)
—S. Decatur Smith, jr., in Smart Set.

The week has been a quiet one socially, and were it not for several popular visiting women, society would be practically at a standstill. Mrs. W. J. Foye, who was one of Omaha's popular belles, has had many delightful affairs given for her and Miss Higginson's guest, Miss Conger of Watertown, N. Y., who arrived last week, has also been entertained several times and has made many friends already. Several other visitors arrived during the week, for whom various entertainments will be given which will break the monotony of mid-summer. Among them are Miss Ida Merrill of Boston, Mass., who is the guest of Miss Moorehead; Miss Gardner of Maine, who is spending the summer with Miss Tukey; Miss Grace Bennett of Massachusetts, who will spend some time with Miss Elizabeth McConnell, and the Misses Stebbins and Chapin of Springfield, Mass., who are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Conner. With so many charming strangers, the outlook in society is not a dull one, for Omaha women are noted for their hospitality and delightful affairs in honor of visitors.

Tomorrow is the glorious Fourth and while no general celebration has been planned, such as used to be a feature of every Fourth in Omaha, many jolly parties are being arranged to celebrate in the good old-fashioned way with all kinds of fireworks. Many people prefer to go out of town for the day, while others intend to spend the day at picnics at Manawa, Courtland Beach, Krug's park or in the country. Many events have been planned at the Field and Country clubs. At the former the Country club team will play the Field club golf team in the morning and in the afternoon there will be a golf contest for the members, a tennis tournament and ball game. In the evening a dinner will be served to be followed by fireworks and a dance. At the Country club there will be a golf match in the afternoon for the handsome cup presented by C. N. Diets, and a table d'hote dinner and probably a dance in the evening.

Just at present the most popular places in Omaha are the Country and Field clubs. Places for dinner at both places are always engaged far in advance for Saturday evenings and the dances are always crowded, while every evening sees the piazzas thronged with visitors. Last evening at the Field club large dinners were given by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wood, Mr. Herbert Howell and Mr. Joseph Barker, while many small parties were given. At the Country club Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burns entertained for Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foye of Kansas City, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. Foye, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Miss Mae Hamilton, Miss Preston, Miss Burke of Salt Lake City, Mr. Ezra Millard, Mr. Jerome Magee, Mr. Frank Hamilton, Mr. Sam Burns and Mrs. John A. McShane. Another large party was entertained by Mr. Frank Murphy, who had as his guests Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kountze, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Pritchett, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Bidwell, Miss Stella Hamilton, Mr. Fred Hamilton and Mrs. Hamilton.

Mr. Joseph Baldrige also gave a dinner of twelve covers, and Mrs. A. J. Love entertained seven guests. Mr. C. C. George gave a dinner for eight guests, while Mr. J. R. Lehmer, Mr. Walter Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Remington each gave dinners of four plates.
