two or three years in any other store. This class of merchandise is very common in Omaha but not last Saturday. At the meeting of the Nebraska delegation today W. J. Bryan was appointed to represent the state on the committee on resolutions, and there was some discussion on the position the state shall assume on the platform. Mr. Bryan's contention will be for the reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform, but the delegation recognized the improbability of securing such a stand. The discussion was therefore devoted largely to the consideration of what to do in that event. No conclusion was reached, but the tendency is to accept the situation if fairly liberal declarations can be secured. In that event Mr. Bryan will probably not make a platform fight on the convention floor. He has not formally declared his position, but his fellow delegates thus interpret it.

fitting to the occasion. The ceremony consisted in Bryan's unpacking the case in which the marble came and a tender eulogy pronounced by the little giant of the Plains, W. H. Thompson. The bust came from W. W. Mannatt, of New York, and is a splendid likeness of the "peerless leader."

It is beautifully modeled and full of atmosphere, just like the living subject. The bust was the subject of much admiration by the friends of Mr. Bryan, who could not be present to hear the comments passed upon it. Mr. Bryan was engaged in the national committee watching the progress of the contests inaugurated by the Hearst forces to secure recognition in the convention, and how the committee pushed the matter to their report in a volume of the Congressional Record. As each new contest came before the national committee with recommendations of the sub-committee having the same in charge Bryan wore a worried look and saw his hopes of help from those contesting delegations go glimmering.

call is still an open matter, the subject not even having been alluded to in the meeting. It is doubtful if there will be any real discussion, for all recognize that they are in Mr. Bryan's hands to the extent where they will go him the most good. It is expected, however, that Nebraska votes will be given to Cockrell, Hearst, Gray and had the Ohio delegation kept Harmon in the field, to the Buckeye jurist.

Weaver of Iowa and Pettigrew of South Dakota were closed together repeatedly endeavoring to reach some middle ground upon which the anti-Parker forces might stand, but in vain. Hearst's managers still insist that he controls the situation, and as both Weaver and Pettigrew are understood to be on the Hearst payroll, they may have been handcuffed to their attempt to bring out a candidate upon whom the opposition could unite.

The Iowa delegation held a caucus at 8 o'clock in its headquarters at the Jefferson for the purpose of completing its committee arrangements. In addition to J. B. Weaver and J. M. Parsons, the following were named: Permanent organization, S. B. Wadsworth of Council Bluffs; rules and order of business, Charles Reynolds of Carroll; to notify the presidential nominee, Sam S. Wright of Tipton. C. A. Walsh was selected as national committeeman to succeed himself. The tickets to the convention were distributed and the caucus adjourned, no mention having been made of the manner in which the delegation shall cast its vote.

The South Dakota delegation held a most uninteresting caucus at 8 o'clock, the only thing of moment being the distribution of tickets to the delegates and alternates. Ex-Senator Pettigrew was selected as chairman of the delegation and committee on resolutions. The following other assignments were made: Credentials, C. I. Wood, Rapid City; permanent organization, John Favonius of Yankton; rules and order of business, W. F. Brennan of Kingsbury county; to notify president, J. A. Stansley, Brule county; to notify vice president, Henry S. Volkmar, Grant county; Edward S. Johnson of Armour succeeds Maris Taylor as national committeeman.

At midnight the drift in all to Parker. States that have been uncommitted are meeting and in caucus are voting to go to Parker on the first ballot. It is not the desire of those who are managing Parker's campaign to have him nominated on the first ballot, believing that a favorable vote should have a chance to be placed in nomination and voted for, but even this friendly sentiment may be swept aside by the favorite sons themselves, who, seeing conditions as they are, may ask their delegations to vote for Parker.

NEW YORK JURIST LEADS FIGHT

Insisted Parker Will Be Nominated on the Second Ballot.

BRYAN'S INFLUENCE RAPIDLY WANING

Opposition Has Made Unsuccessful Efforts to Turn the Tide, but Position of New Yorker is Unshaken.

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—W. J. Bryan, who yesterday offered to support Pattison, of Pennsylvania was today giving encouragement to the friends of McClellan. At the meeting of the Nebraska delegation today W. J. Bryan was appointed to represent the state on the committee on resolutions, and there was some discussion on the position the state shall assume on the platform. Mr. Bryan's contention will be for the reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform, but the delegation recognized the improbability of securing such a stand. The discussion was therefore devoted largely to the consideration of what to do in that event. No conclusion was reached, but the tendency is to accept the situation if fairly liberal declarations can be secured. In that event Mr. Bryan will probably not make a platform fight on the convention floor. He has not formally declared his position, but his fellow delegates thus interpret it.

Parker's Position Unshaken. ST. LOUIS, July 5.—Parker's strong position remains unshaken. The opposition has made many assaults during the day, but has apparently made no impression. The solid and substantial phalanx of the New York jurist has withstood all efforts of the friends of the other candidates and tonight is apparently stronger than ever. Assurances of accessions from instructed delegations after the first ballot have been received from men who are now tied to other candidates, which the Parker adherents say insures a nomination by the second ballot.

The Parker opposition was disturbed, but not routed by the action of Pennsylvania last night. The sixty-eight votes of that state has been for weeks placed in the Parker column and are a part of the 50 odd votes that have been claimed for him. They were not instructed, however, and if they could have been secured for any other candidate it would have been a serious blow to the Parker interests.

Not only does it appear that the control of the nomination for first place will be in the hands of those democrats who were in the minority in 1896 and again in 1900, but that they will select the nominee's running mate and dominate the platform on which the race will be made.

Bryan's Waning Influence.

In defiance of such handicaps as were created by the ambitious friends of Gorman, Cleveland, Gray, Olney, McClellan and favorite sons who had a following that divided the conservative columns, this element which advanced the claims of democratic rehabilitation struggled against the combined opposition of Bryan, representing the ruling democratic force in the last two presidential contests and the personal campaign conducted by William Randolph Hearst.

The changed position of those who are in power now and those who controlled four and eight years ago, is attracting wide attention from delegates and spectators. William J. Bryan is the most picturesque figure. Twice the candidate of his party for president, but running on a platform forced upon the nominating conventions by his compelling personality and which robbed him of harmonious party fealty, he is in the position of fighting for recognition against the element which has returned to power.

For several days Mr. Bryan and the hand-tied Tammany delegate opposed Parker have been working to one end—the defeat of Parker, but they have not moved in unison. The Tammany delegates are listed as conservatives and the Bryan forces as radicals, and in consequence their work has been disjointed.

An interesting feature in today's proceedings was the development of the waning influence of Bryan. The national committee selected for Bryan a convention following his unquestioned leadership, today turned away from him in setting the Illinois contest.

The Virginia delegation, which arrived today, saw by an evening paper yesterday that they were being outmaneuvered by the only thing of moment being the distribution of tickets to the delegates and alternates. They all signed this declaration written by Senator Daniel:

The chairman is hereby instructed to cast the vote of the delegation for Alton B. Parker as long as his name is before the convention.

When the delegation met later they formally resolved in the same sense.

Entire South for Parker. At 1 p. m. it seems like a Parker preponderance would not cause any change in the complimentary vote of the states instructed for favorite sons on the first ballot. While the Parker column would probably embrace the entire south and nearly all the instructed states the delegates from Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Delaware, California and Missouri would formally present their record for Olney, Wall, Gray and Cockrell, respectively. New Jersey is not counted upon to vote for Parker on the first ballot, and while the decision of that delegation will not be reached until tomorrow the present indications are that it will join with Delaware in support of Judge Gray. The Massachusetts delegation has taken the additional step of sending out missionaries in behalf of Olney, but beyond a declaration that its delegation will hold steadfastly to Wall Wisconsin is making no effort to bring any other states to its support at the state convention.

The California delegation maintains its attitude that it will not waver in its support of Hearst and confidently believes that when the name of their candidate is formally submitted by Mr. Delmas, his support at the state convention will hold all his instructed delegates but will serve to make it clear that without his aid, the New York candidate cannot secure the necessary two-thirds vote. Governor Aycock of North Carolina will probably get a complimentary vote from the North Carolina delegation for the vice presidency.

VOTES DOWN A MONEY PLANK

Tammany is Not Permitted to Recommend Idea to Convention. ST. LOUIS, July 5.—The meeting of the New York state delegation was marked today by a vote on the money plank in the platform of the Tammany hall, which was selected as the member of the committee on rules and order of business. Former United States Senator Edward Murphy, Jr., of Troy, was made chairman of the delegation and Norman E. Mitchell, of Buffalo, was selected as national committeeman. James W. Ridgeway, of Brooklyn—a McCaree adherent—was unanimously selected to represent the state on the committee on credentials.

The only spice injected into the meeting was the adoption of a resolution by Bourke Cockran providing "that in the opinion of the people on the money issue as twice exemplified in two elections should be the final statement of the financial question and of vital importance in the next general election." Mr. Cockran, in speaking of his resolution and urging its adoption, said that the financial question as presented in the two last national platforms had been discarded by the people and that this decision should be the basis of the financial plank in the new platform.

George Raines, of Rochester, opposed Mr. Cockran's motion. He urged that there was no reason for an extremely radical course on the plank, and believed that the matter should be left to the voters at the next election. He moved that it be referred to Senator Hill with power. This was adopted by a vote of 50 to 25.

Senator Grady offered a proposition that should a resolution be introduced into the convention proposing an abrogation of the two-thirds rule and the adoption of a majority rule, New York should oppose. Senator Hill remarked that he thought that matter could be intelligently acted upon by Senator Grady in the committee on rules and it was unanimously referred to him.

The meeting then adjourned subject to the call of the chair. After adjournment, delegate Bird Coler said: "It is perfectly evident that Senator Hill and his following do not intend to take a definite stand on the money question. They are going to take a half-way course so as not to thoroughly displease Mr. Bryan and his small following."

Leader Charles F. Murphy, of Tammany hall, was asked the same question in the statement that Tammany had decided to withdraw its opposition to Judge Parker. He said: "We have not announced any such decision, but those who have candidates other than Judge Parker are the ones who are to be afraid to take any stand at this time that if there is any chance to get the contest to the floor of the convention it will go there and be waged with energy."

Several times last night the retorts between the contesting factions were of so heated a nature that Chairman Stone of the subcommittee was compelled to repeatedly call for order, and once suggested that the gentlemen from Illinois would find the outside of the hotel a proper place to conduct their arguments if their minds were "made up for a bull fight."

In New Jersey the contests were adjourned in the Fifth, Sixth and Eighth districts and the fight maintained in the First and Second districts. The committee decided to report in favor of the regular delegates in both cases, chiefly because the contestants were not able to produce convincing evidence in support of their claim that between sixty and seventy of their delegates were thrown out of the state convention.

DECLARE WAR ON PARKER.

Alleged More Than One-Third of Delegates Pledged Against Judge. ST. LOUIS, July 5.—A number of representatives of the opposition to Judge Parker met for a conference at Hearst's headquarters, and after adjournment gave out the following statement: "After a consultation among the managers representing the various candidates and delegates opposed to the nomination of Judge Parker, it was formally agreed upon that the nomination of Judge Parker is impossible. The opposition represents easily more than one-third of the votes of the convention, and it is impossible to prevent a nomination, all of whom agree not to support Judge Parker's candidacy under any circumstances."

The discussion in the conference and elsewhere developed a determined disposition to make a test of strength on the first ballot at least before surrendering. They claim that in spite of the defection of Pennsylvania they will be able to control one hundred votes more than the one-third necessary to prevent Parker's nomination, but many of them concede the impossibility of maintaining their full strength through many successive ballots unless early inroads can be made upon the Parker stronghold.

This danger is made evident by the conditions in the anti-Parker delegations. It is stated, for instance, that only one-half the Kansas and Colorado votes will go to Parker on the first ballot, and Maryland and West Virginia, which constitute the seat of Mr. Gorman's strength, are ready to go over to the New York candidate as soon as they can be released from their pledges to Senator Gorman.

The West Virginia delegation is quite at sea, because Mr. Gorman has not yet indicated his attitude. Senator Davis is holding them in line for the Maryland man if they are needed, but once released all but two of the delegates will go for Parker.

It is claimed to be more likely that Alabama will lead off in the vote against Parker, and the hope is expressed that the example will prove strongly encouraging to other delegations whose inclinations are unfriendly to the New York man.

and impartial enforcement of laws under which and denounce government monopoly and imprisonment without the right of trial by jury.

It gives unjust discrimination and monopoly the government should own and control the railroads and those public utilities which in their nature are monopolies. As to those trusts and monopolies which are not public utilities and which are not monopolies, we demand that those special privileges which they now enjoy and which make enable them to exist should be immediately withdrawn.

The platform was adopted unanimously. When nominations for president were called for the name of Thomas E. Watson of Georgia was presented by National Chairman Jo A. Parker of Kentucky. Former Congressman R. D. Sutherland of Nebraska named William V. Allen of Nebraska, but said that Senator Allen had authorized him to say that the nomination would not be accepted unless it came unanimously.

Samuel W. Williams of Indiana was placed in nomination by Thomas Wadsworth of Indiana. The convention adjourned, after nominating Thomas H. Tibbles of Nebraska for vice president.

PROHIBITIONISTS HIRE HALL AGAIN.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 5.—State Chairman Newlin, of the prohibition committee, who had charge of the arrangements for the recent prohibition convention, today secured the same hall for July 20, 21 and 22. He declined to say for what purpose the hall was wanted, and said it would be announced after the close of the St. Louis democratic convention. Asked if Elias Swallow, his presidential candidate had declined to make the race and a second session of the national convention could be held, he refused to answer. The national executive committee was empowered to fill all vacancies.

WEEKLY SUMMARY OF CROP REPORT

In Nebraska and Kansas Corn Has Drove Weather.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions is as follows: In the lake region and central valleys the week ending July 4 was unseasonably cool and unfavorable for the growth of corn, but highly favorable temperatures prevailed in the southern portion of the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast districts. In the districts east of the Rocky mountains the rain as a whole was well distributed and ample, too much occurring in the lower Missouri and Red River and North valley portions of the South Atlantic and east gulf states continue to need rain, although in some portions of those districts rain is much needed on the immediate north Pacific coast.

In Kansas and Nebraska corn has grown well, but in the central and eastern portions of the state the growth has been slow as a result of cool weather. Except in portions of Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri where fields are weedy, the crop is in good state of cultivation.

Winter wheat harvest has made slow progress in Missouri and Kansas and damage to wheat in stock is reported from the first names of complaints of rust are also received from portions of Missouri and Nebraska and Kansas. East of the Missouri river better harvesting weather has prevailed and the work, as a whole has advanced satisfactorily. In the northern portion of the spring wheat harvest has been begun in Oregon and will soon begin in Washington. In the southern portion of the spring wheat harvest, however, is generally doing well, although in some portions of the southern region the reports indicate an improvement over the previous week. An improvement is also reported from Washington, but in Oregon the crop is heading short and light yields are expected.

The general outlook for oats is promising but this crop has suffered from excessive moisture on lands in Minnesota, and in portions of Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma. East of the Mississippi river harvest has made progress in the southern districts, but in west work has been interrupted by rains in Missouri and Kansas.

Capture Alleged Robbers.

RANNEY, Pa., July 5.—For some weeks past Rankin borough has been terrorized by two negroes, who attacked women and committed many robberies on both sexes. George Logan, dressed as a woman, acted as a police decoy and the two negro suspects were nearly trapped and brought to Pittsburgh for safety, as the townspeople threatened violence. They give their names as George Johnson and Theo McKorkle.

Heavy Track at Marion.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., July 5.—(Special Telegram.)—The events in the second day of the heavy track race were very exciting, though one or two pretty driving finishes were made for place money.
