

WHAT THE ANTIS WANT NEXT

Will Undertake to Legislate All City Officers Out of Power.
MAYOR MOORES SAYS HE IS THE TARGET
If the Fontanelle Club Can Elect Its Legislative Ticket an Election Will Follow in Omaha Next Spring.

According to Mayor Moore, leaders in the Fontanelle club are planning to elect an "anti" delegation to the legislature this fall in order to legislate him and the other elective officers in the city hall out of office. From information that has come to him he is convinced that this scheme is now being developed and that the fight of his republican opponents, led by Erastus A. Benson, will be directed along these lines.

"I don't think such a plan is successful," says the mayor, "but if it should, it would mean that I would merely be put to the trouble of running for a fourth term. In order to avoid getting tangled up in unconstitutional enactments it would be necessary to legislate the members of the council, the treasurer, city clerk, comptroller, tax commissioner, building inspector and city attorney out of office along with me. The date would be next spring in order to shorten our tenure by one year."

Members of the Fontanelle club admit they will work to capture the twelve members of the legislature this county. Cornish Wants no Factionalism.
Park Commissioner E. J. Cornish has announced that if additional primaries are to be held he will not be a candidate for the republican nomination for congress this fall. Dislike toward nomination on a factional basis in the county given by Mr. Cornish for his tact withdrawal. He thinks that having submitted his name once successfully this year for the honor it should be his and that a further contest would mean the drawing of close lines, involving a direct factional fight. Nomination under these circumstances would not be acceptable to him. He said:

"Last spring as a candidate for congress I submitted my name to the voters. The opposing candidates caucused for two days to select one of their number to contest against me. Failing to reach an understanding, it was agreed that all of them remain out of the race. They did so and, notwithstanding the fact that the faction presumed to be against me carried the primaries, 62 per cent of the total votes cast indicated myself as a choice for congress."

"I think I am entitled to the nomination, but if the opposition candidates have another primary held I shall quietly drop out of the race, making no disturbance in the campaign and doing nothing that will complicate the situation."
"I shall do this because I would not want a nomination that came from any faction. I should prefer not to have it rather than to get it on this basis. Doing anything that would lend aid or encouragement to further factional disturbances is distasteful to me."
