Horses were assessed at $7.59 last year, sessed at $2.40, but the number has increased from 1,015 to 2,298.

Loup County Falls Off. The total valuation of Loup county has decreased this year from $304,385 to $194,506. The average value of cultivated land this year is $1.63, Last year the average value of all land was $1.23. Horses are listed at $8.18 this year. Last year they were $9.55. The total increased from 1,929 to 2,277 in 1904. Cattle have been scaled from $4.84 to $3.43 and hogs are asmessed at $1.11.

Trusty Convict Escapes. Warden Beemer is mourning the loss of Convict Jesse Sillick, sent up from Omana to serve a year's term for stealing. Sillick has been a trusty and was employed as a waiter. He had but a few days to serve and was given considerable liberty. Last night he was missed and it was discovered that he had escaped. The man is only twenty-two years of age and the warden suspects that his head was turned by a wild west show which has been disporting itself in this section. An effort w'll be made to recapture the runaway, will lose his good time. Irrigation Permits

The State Board of Irrigation has granted three applications for irrigation permits to residents of northwestern Nebraska. Roy C. Slattery of Dawes county has been granted the right to use two cubic feet of water from Dead Horse creek. August Schwabe, living in the same region, secured a permit to take four-sevenths of a cubic foot from White river and Herbert Pizer of Scott's Bluff county has been given permission to use six-sevenths of a cubic foot from Horse and Owl creeks
