AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

City Council Has Busy Session with Various Important Matters.

ANNUAL LEVY ORDINANCE NOT READY

Councilman Adkins Reports on the New Ward Boundaries, and Matter is Put Over for the Present.

A large amount of business was trans acted by the city council last night and number of matters of importance disposed of. It had been expected that bids for the repairing of the pavement on Twenty-fourth street would be opened, but no bids were filed, owing to an error in connection with the advertisement. The law provides that advertisements of this nature must be published six times. As the official paper of this city did not get out an edition on July 4, the city will have to readvertise for bids. Bids for this work will now be received by the city clerk up to 8 p. m. on July 14.

No effort was made to introduce the annual levy and appropriation ordinances. This will be attended to at the meeting to be held on next Monday night. 'The council will then hold called meetings in order that these ordinances may be passed before July 15.

Adkins tendered a lengthy report on the radistricting of the wards and the report to the street and alley committee. After was adopted, Ordinances designating new boundary lines will now be drawn and submitted to the council. Some changes have been made in the present lines, the most noticeable being the lines of the Fifth ward. Should the change as suggested by the committee be made, the Fifth ward will be bounded on the south by L street, on the north by the city limits. on the west by the city limits and on the east by the alley between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets. When the council adopts the new lines a new ward map will be issued.

Secretary Bergquist sent in a claim for $600 for J. H. VanDusen for legal services rendered the Fire and Police Board. This claim, which is beginning to get old, was referred to the finance committee.

A request for 1,000 feet of hose for the fire department was granted and the councli committee on fire and water was di rected to make the purchase. Stockton Heth of the Omaha Water company sent in a communication announcing

City Attorney Lambert declared that he the alley from G to H streets between reason that a majority of the property owners in the proposed district had not signed the petition.

An ordinance was passed declaring the necessity of issuing $20,000 intersection paving bonds. Clerk Gillin was directed to advertise for bids for these bonds. Bids will be received up to 8 p. m. July 14. This issue will run for twenty years and will draw not more than 5 per cent interest. Mayor Koutsky appointed J. B. Watkins, L. C. Gibson and John Condon as ap praisers to determine what damages if any will accrue to property owners by the construction of the Burlington via duct across the tracks at Thirty-sixth and L streets. The city grading machine was ordered placed in repair and put to work rounding up unpaved streets.

There was an ordinance on first reading providing for the laying of a permanent sidewalk on the cast side of Thirty-firs street from Q to R streets.

A communication from the Taxpayers league asking for a special election vote $110,000 in bonds for parks and a city hall was read. This matter was referred to the council as a committee of the whole.

Plenty of work was laid out for the street commissioner and requests for a large number of crosswalks were referred allowing June bills the council adjourned until next Monday night.

Republican Clubs Meet.

Nearly half a hundred members of the Roosevelt-Fairbanks Republican club of South Omaha met at Jorgenson's hall, Twenty-fifth and N streets, last night President Wilcox was in the chair, The committee on bylaws handed in s report and after some little discussion the report was adopted. The bylaws provide for an executive committee of nine, one nember from each ward, and the presilent, secretary and treasurer. President Wilcox did not make any appointments last night, but stated that he would do so within the next day or two. It was decided to hold meetings during the summer on the first and third Wednesday of each month, at the quarters now cupied by the club.

Twelve applications were read and approved. The roll book now shows sixty-one iembers.

J. P. Breen of Omaha was present and delivered an entertaining address on national affairs. He advocated harmony in the party, and said that by all means there should be harmony among the republicans of Douglas county. The republicans of South Omaha, he said, should get together and settle any trivial differ ences and all work together for one common end, the success of the republican party. Before concluding his remarks Mr Breen announced that he was a candidate or congress

Henry C. Murphy, when called upon. spoke for harmony and predicted success the republicans of the county would work together. He made the ann ment that he is a candidate for state senator Short talks were given by A. H. Mur-dock, Frank Shotwell and E. R. Leigh. All spoke for harmony and united action. As the "harmony" committee was not ready to report it was given further time.

Suspects Still Held. The half-dozen men arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the shooting affair at Sarpy Mills park Monday night are still being detains) at the city jall.

here until after the inquest, which is to be held at Papillion today. Sheriff McAvoy could not approve of the petition to grade has stated to Chief Briggs that none of the men in jail here will be taken to Papillion Nineteenth and Twentieth streets, for the to be present at the inquest. Several persons who were at the park when the shoot ing occurred were looked up by Chief Briggs and Detective Elsfelder yesterday and were invited to police headquarters, where they were questioned. From the statements made to the police it appears to be clear that Tim Carr is the man who fired the shot which caused the death of

The South Omaha fire department is badly in need of two additional horses and the commissioners have directed that a team be purchased as soon as possible. Chief Garrett stated last evening that he is aware of the fact that horses suitable for fire department service are scarce. "Horses weighing about 1,300 pounds and between the ages of 5 and 7 years are what we want," remarked the chief. Continuing, he said that on account of the scarcity of horses he would raise the age limit one year if necessary to get suitable animals. In the past no horses over 6 years of age were considered. Those who have horses

From this sum must come July expenses and the cost of the team it is proposed to there will still be enough money in the fund to purchase 1,000 feet of hose and leave a balance at the close of the fiscal year. Horses and hose are needed right now. The board has not determined

all rubber hose. Ice Business Dull

Local ice dealers are complaining of dull times. They assert that the season has been so backward and the temperature so low that there is very little doing in the ice line. Butchers and saloon men are not using more than one-quarter of the ice they used at this time last year or the year before. Ice delivered at residences amounts to so little these days, say the dealers, that it hardly pays to keep wagons going. As for shipments from this point a year ago now ice was being shipped from South Omaka at the rate of twenty cars a day. Now only four and five cars are sent out each day. The amount of ice used in refrigerator cars is about the same as it was last year.

Derricks Being Constructed. Stakes for the Burlington viaduot at Thirty-sixth and L streets have been set and several carleads of piling for the approaches arrived yesterday and were unloaded. Derricks for the handling of the piling and the steel work are being set Within a few days the driving of plies up. for the concrete piers will commence. While this work is going on preparations for the construction of the approaches will be made. The bridge is to be 1,000 feet in length and thirty feet in width. Spans across the tracks will be constructed of steel been taken exception to by the police and has resulted in Chief Donahue inviting purchase. Even with these items deducted those interested in the movement to discuss the matter with him before taking any radical action. "There is no one." said the chief last night, "who is more interested in the problem of crime among youth than I am, and whether it will purchase cotton jackets or no one who would more like to see children at home after dark. But this talk of arresting those that stay out late at night is not to be considered. In the first place, any lawyer will tell you that the ordinance passed two years ago is unconstitutional and if the police were to arrest any child it would open up a legal discussion that would end disastrously for the police. And besides, even if we did arrest them, there is no place to put them except with old and hardened criminals, which even these gentlemen will see would be but a poor policy for the prevention of crime.

"If the parents allow the child to attend the theater without a guardian, are we to arrest the children? In nine cases out of ten crime among boys can be traced back to the home. I know of many cases where poverty-stricken families send out their children to steal coal after dark, and do not ask any questions if their children bring home an article which they know loss not belong to them.

"We can, of course, arrest these little ones and can send them into the reform school, but despite anything to the contrary, I know that the reform schools are but young penitentiaries. In numberless when we have arrested boys as CABOR vagrants we find that they have at one time been inmates of a reform school. "If a parent can no longer manage a re
