Interesting Points Raised in Saft to Enjoin the Purchase of Certain Pattern of Voting Machines.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) JES MOINES, July 8 .- (Special.)-The state of Iowa makes a considerable profit on its state farms, which are worked by the wards of the state at various charitable and other institutions. An illustration of this was given in the annual report of the State Hospital for the Insune at Clarinda, where there is one of the best of the many state farms. The annual report shows that the products of the farm there were turned into the supply house for the institution on a basis of $26,463.95 valuation. Every item is accounted for carefully and the institution farm credited with the product in actual values such as would be paid if the supplies were bought in the market. The results at the state farm at Clarinda have been duplicated at other farms of the Convicts Teach Convicts. The annual report of the prison school at Anamora shows that a number of convicts are employed as teachers in the prison school. The school was in charge of Miss S. A. Rettig for a portion of the year, but she resigned and the work was given to F A. Benton, with Mrs. Benton in charge of the female department school. Four convicts have also been made use of in teaching, namely, Hoot, VanTassell, Salyards and Raphael. The average attendance at the prison school for the year was fiftythree. There were 207 enrolled.

In Court Over Voting Machines, An interesting suit is being heard in the district court, being the application for an injunction to prevent the Board of Supervisors from completing the deal for the purchase of fifty-one voting machines to be used in elections in Des Moines and Polk county. The claim is made that the machines do not conform to the lows law and that it is entirely possible to commit fraud by and through them. The machines vote with a ball instead of a ballot and the balls are afterward counted. It was attempted to be shown to the court that It was possible to work a chain ballot on the machines through a system of pretended independent voting.

ATTEMPT TO ASSAULT LITTLE GIRL

People of Pacific Junetion Greatly Ex. cited Over It. PACIFIC JUNCTION, Ia., July 8 .- (Speolal.)-An attempt was made at about 5:30 ast night west of this place to assault a little 8 year old girl. John Jackson's little 8 year old daughter and two sons, 6 and 10 years old, had been to Plattsmouth visiting some relatives and had returned on the east bound Burlington train which arrives here at 5 p. m. While they were on the train a smooth sort of a fellow cultivated their acquaintance and had talked to them all the way over. When they alighted from the train he asked which way they went and they told him that they lived about two miles west of town directly out the railroad track. He said he was going that way and would show them the way. When all four of them arrived at a long bridge immediately west of town the man gave each of the little boys a quarter and sent them back to town for fruit, pop, etc., and said he and the little girl would wait at the bridge for them.

After the little boys were gone he enticed the little girl under the bridge and attempted to assault her. She acreamed very loud and says he tried to hold his hand over the mouth so that she could make no noise. He became frightened and told her to go on home and he started back towards town. On the way he met the little boys and he told them their sister was waiting for them and that they could have the fruit as he had decided to go back The little folks then went back to the mafir wagon road and found a farmer going their way and got in and went home. When arriving home the little girl told all that had happened and Mr. Jackson came immediately to town and he and Mr. Zornes, the marshal, in company with Mr. Jackson's little son, scoured the rallroad yards. On the south track about a half mile from town they found three men in a box car, one of whom the little boy said was the man.

The man denied ever having seen the boy but later admitted he had and then tried to explain what made the little girl

A crowd gathered and some one yelled "Lynch him," and for a time it was feared that something desperate might happen as the crowd was very angry. The fellow was hurried to the county fall at Glenwood at once. The man did not accomplish his The little girl tells a pretty straight story so it will make a hard case against the man. > Get a Larger Dredge. At a special meeting of the city council vesterday afternoon a new contract for a dredge for Indian Creek was entered into with the Bellefontaine Foundry & Machinery company, by which the city will secure a larger machine than at first proposed at the original cost of $4,800. company now proposes to furnish a dredge with a thirty-five foot boom instead af a thirty-two foot one and with a 48x108 boiler in place of a 42x108 one. The longer boom will give more working range for the machine while the increased size of the boiler will give it greater capacity. The change was made at the request of the company which has a machine of the larger size in stock and can therefore deliver it sooner than the one originally agreed upon which would have to be manufactured specially to fill the order

The contracts for the construction of the boiler house at the city buildings and the installation of the new heating plant were approved and ordered signed by the mayor. The house has to be built by August 15 under a penalty of $10 a day after that so as to make that portion of the city south of Sixteenth avenue and east of Sixth street a ward in itself. As it is at present the South Siders are districted in portions of the Fourth and Fifth wards. Being thus divided they contend they are unable to properly unite their interests. They feel that they are entitled to an alderman of their own to represent them in the city council. The plan for redistricting is still in embryo, but if eventually carried through the south part of the city will be known as the Seventh ward and will mean an additional alderman.
