BIG CROWD ATTENDS THE CARNIVAL

Slight Accident to Balloonist Mars

One Feature.

It was South Omaha and Omaha night at the Eagles' carnival last night, and it was a record breaker not only in the matter of attandance, but in every other respect. Over 7,000 people, men, women and children, passed through the turnstiles at the main entrance, and so great was the crowd that the Eagles had to place a number of additional ticket sellers at the main entrance. Inside the grounds the scene was a lively one and the crowds which gathered at each of the many sttractions was a sight which did the management of the Parker Amusement company good after the rain of scarcely a corporal's guard. The feature of the case that is remarkable is that this will probably give Busse ONAWA, In., July 14 .- (Special.) - The all that he desired. The entire trial, which was a sensational and long drawn out case, was devoted to securing some verdict loss than murder in the first degree. The appeal which was taken by Busse's attorney, Hon. E. A. Dawson, state rallroad ommissioner, was for the purpose of seuring a penitentiary sentence rather than a sentence of death. The date for the hanging has long since passed, and if Busse is ever executed it will be when a governor fixes a date for execution. The experience in the past is that Iowa governors have not been hasty in fixing dates for hangings. This is virtual resentencing of the convict. With the court evenly divided a governor would hardly be justified in giving the order for death sentence.

In the district court the law had been declared nu'l and void, but the supreme court decides that it was entirely proper and does not violate any constitutional provision. The effect of the law is to virtually drive all such concerns out of the state. A second law similar to the first one was passed last winter and is also a terday. A warrant was at once issued for law, but they do not conflict.

nice for a while before it was exfinguished. No damage was done by the fire, but shortly afterward large numbers of bees were noticed leaving the building, the smoke proving too strong for them. The matter was investigated and over 200 pounds of honey was taken out of the roof between the rafters. It is believed the bees had been using the building for a hive for a number of years, as some of the honey was quite old and candied. Iowa governors in requiring convicts to sign an agreement to forfeit their good time when their paroles are revoked will affect about thirty convicts in the state penitentiaries at the present time who are serving time under revocation of sentences and who will have their time shortened by the amount of the good time they earned prior to their paroles. One of these is Frank Shercliffe, who will get out some time in September next, but who would have served nearly three years longer if the orders of Governor Cummins would stand. There are about 200 convicts out on BEATRICE, July 14.—The county board exates have arrived from various parts of the state. BEATRICE, July 14—The county board of supervisors at its session held yesterday afternoon by unanimous vote allowed the claims of the deputy assessors of Gage county, including the claim of County As-sessor Scott, the total amount being about $6,000. Before allowing the claims the board went into the committee of the whole and discussed the legality of allowing the bills on the question of what constituted a day's work. In an opinion rendered by Attorney General Prout on this question it was left to the sound discretion of the board and county assessor, and that the law governing laborers and mechanics as to what constituted a day's work did not apply to the county assessor and his dop-uties. After the opinion of the attorney general had been submitted, the board promptly allowed the claims as filed.
