July Wheat Held Well Until Year Close, When it Broke to 92 7-8c.

OTHER DELIVERIES SHOW STEADY TONE

Chicago Set a Weak Pace on Overbought Market-Corn and Oats Strong-Crop Goastp-De-Hverles.

At the opening Omaha was not at all inclined to foliow the lead of Chicago toward lower prices for July and September wheat. Transers could not understand such radical changes over night as to turn the market on the down grade, the more so as the general news of the day from the decrease of $.700.000 bushels in Bradstreets estimates of visible world's supply to the reports of "authorities" from Kansas and elsewhere was of a builish character. The break in Chicago was accredited very largely to a speculatively over-bought market and a desire on the part of longs to take profits. Quite a large number of stop orders were caught on the way down and after these were sold out the disposition, especially in the hour before noon, was toward a better tone During the last half hous, however, the selling inovement increased there and the July delivery tumbled it below yesterday's close or to 860. The short interest in Omaha is a factor of considerable importance. While the shorts have not displayed any especial nervousness the buils are equally indifferent about lowering prices to induce buying. I hale the July tuture in Chicago broke it if yie the break there was only onequarter of a point up to 1 o'clock. In the last few minutes of the session a couple of bears, encouraged by the weak close in Chicago, effered July down to $2% c without inducing buyers, this as compared with $26 bid at close Monday.

There were deliveries of 15,000 bushels of corn made this morning on July contracts. The market for this cereal was slow but displayed great strength, the more especially in the September future, which advanced sharply to 65% bid, as compared with a close with a steady raise of the tender to $15c.

A Chicago dispatch says:

There were pro cables this morning, owing to it being a holiday abroad. The weather reports, showed R considerable cooler through the grain belt: Conditions of the market for this derenined within the prexi tenders to 15c.

Rolin Emith, crop expert, wires from Topeka: The losses to the wheat crop of Kansas from rains and floods. July 1 to July 10, were as follows: Hard wheat destroyed outright. 12 per cent; soft red shows 3 per cent loss due to shrinkage and sprouting, 6½ per cent loss in cutting and 2 per cent in handling. Taking a basis of 80,000,000-bushel crop before July 1 these percentages show loss of 1,900,000 bushels.

Erices on Beard of Trade.

CHICAGO, July 12—A return to favorable weather conditions throughout the greater part of the country caused heavy liquidation of wheat today. At the close the September option was off 14c. Corn is up %c, oats show a gain of %2%c and provisions are a trifle easier.

Initial quotations on wheat were at a sharp decline, September being down %2% for to %2%c at $5%,00%kc. On the breik September dropped to $7%c. Final figures on September were at $7%,00%kc. July sold between $5%c and $7%c and closed at the bottom. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 126,000 bu. The world's visible supply, as shown by Bradstreet's, decreased $,70,000 bu. Primary receipts were $35,000 bu., compared with 758,700 bu. a year ago. Minneapoils, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 278 cars, against 230 last week and 356 a year ago.

There was a comparatively strong corn market, although the break in wheat had some effect at times. The market closed strong and near the top. September opened %20%c lower at 45%,490c, sold between 45%c and 49%c, and closed at 49%c. Local receipts were 387 cars, with 33 of contract grade.

On active support from bull leaders oats held steady in the face of the weakness of wheat. The action of wheat had some effect, but the market was inclined to follow corn. Crop news was bullish and the demand showed considerable improvement. The market closed practically at the high point. September opened unchanged to %c higher at $20,000 kc, ranged between 32%c and 53%c, and closed at 33p324c. Local receipts were 155 cars.

Some strongth was displayed in provisions carly on the strength of the hog market, but enough liquidation developed to cause slight losses in all products. At the close September pork was a shade lower at $1.57%co,00.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 5 cars; corn, lil cars; oats, 50 cars; hogs, 7,000 head.

The leading futures ranged as follows: Features of the Trading and Closing Closing Hour. Prices on Board of Trade. BEARS VERY TIMID ABOUT AN ATTACK

Publication of Crop Bulletin One of the Effective Influences During the Latter Part of the Day.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The stock market was rather reactionary today up to near the close and there was a rather general acquirescence in this condition on the part of the speculative operators who have been the leaders of the recent demonstrations for higher prices. The plausible explanation offered for this unusual restraint on the part of a class of individuals rather prone to excess was that the rise in prices was going too fast for its own good, and that a reaction was normally due. The reaction was lacking, however, in some of the normal appearances. Today's market showed a tendency to lapse into duliness quickly at slight declines, and the professional bears were apparently very timid about making an attack on prices. Some quite vigorous support was offered at the opening decline and the later market showed the sustaining effect of some new points of strength which were developed. London sold freely here so long as the foreign exchanges continued to do business and the support in the local market did not become thoroughly effective until after that selling had ceased for the day. The publication of the crop builetin of the weather bureau was an effective influence on the later raily.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit proved to be the early supporting influence and its advance, coupled with that in Long Island. led to

on the later raily.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit proved to be the early supporting influence and its advance, coupled with that In Long Island, led to revival of old rumors of an acquisition of Brooklyn Rapid Transit by Pennsylvania. These were without any verification. The rejection by the majority directors of Northern Securities of what seemed like a conciliatory advance on behalf of the Harriman interests offers no other surface explanation than to discredit the recently prevailing rumors of the likelihood of a settlement out of court by compromise of the dispute over the manner of distribution of assets of the corporation. But the market accorded a cheerful reception to the early declines. The grain and cotton carriers lost most in the declines. The closing was strong and active. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,060,000. United States bonds were unchanged on the late of the property of the call.

There is a picthora of money, but with every prospect of the active employment of it this fail. If present favorable weather conditions continue Nebraska should harvest a very large crop, and with anywhere like current market values the state should enjoy great prosperity. Jobbers are sanguine and are delighted to find a revival of trade at this season, when a let-up is usually in order.

The movement of grain is increasing and advices from the country indicate the early arrival of the advance guard of the wheat and oats harvest. It is not expected that country banks will disturb their Omaha balances until well into the fail.

All reports indicate that the vaults of the country banks are well filled with cush — more than they desire to have idle.

Wool Market,

BOSTON, July 19.—There is a heavy movement in the wool market, with trading marked by something of a feverish tone, due to the desire of dealers and users to control the latest clips at the lowest prices which the high market affords. There is a general buying of territory wools, especially all medium and low grades. Territory wools are firm; pulled wools are quiet with small offerings; foreign wools hold firm in sympathy with strong conditions abroad. packing lots were quoted lower and the market at the best was decidedly dull and unsatisfactory.

Packers were unable to do much, notwithstanding a report was circulated yesterday that a fair number of hogs could be handled. The market went from bad to worse and at a late hour the greater part of the hogs were unsold. Closing bids were loc lower than yesterday, where any bids at all were made. The situation is no wise improved in the hog division at least.
