Employees of the Packing House Again Called Out by Labor Leaders.

NEGOTIATIONS AT CHICAGO FAIL

Men Assert Discrimination is Shown When Application is Made for Work.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE KLY CUT OFF

Packers Were Picking Certain Employers and Letting Others Go.

PACKERS IN WORSE PLIG THAN BEFORE

Many of the Nonunion Men Had Already Left, Fearful of Work Beside the Regular Men.

CHICAGO, July 22.—The stock yards strike, which was renewed this morning in Chicago and all the other points where the hog packing companies have branches, because the strikers were dissatisfied with the manner in which the employers proposed to restate their former employees pending a settlement by arbitration, will continue for another day at least.

A joint conference between representatives of both sides to the controversy and representatives of the allied trades in an attempt to bring about a peaceable adjustment of this second strike was unsuccessful, and the meeting was adjourned at 3:30 o'clock with the understanding that the conference would be held tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

At today's conference, which lasted five hours, a committee consisting of five representatives of the packers and five representatives of the butchers' union, was appointed to go over the whole situation, but the committee was unable to reach a working basis with which both sides would be satisfied. Whether the difficulty can be satisfactorily settled at tomorrow's meeting is problematical, as both the packers and the strikers maintain that the agreement living up to Wednesday's agreement for a settlement by arbitration and that the other side is responsible for the renewal of the hostilities.

Peace Negotiations Fail.

After tonight's adjournment, a publication committee announced that the peace negotiations today failed, but still has hopes that an agreement could be reached in the near future. No written statement of what occurred in the meeting was given, as has been customary at the former conferences and the committee declined to give any further information, except that another meeting would be held tomorrow.

Unless a settlement is reached tomorrow the general belief is that a sympathetic strike of the allied trades in the packing industry, which was threatened last week to enforce the demands of the strikers, will be called. All these unions have signified their willingness to stand by the butchers if they are called on to assist in the struggle with the packers for supremacy.

In the following statement was given tonight by President Donnelly of the butchers' union, the reason why the strikers refused to return to work today is given:

Donnelly Issues Statement.

The packers signed an agreement that there would be no discrimination in the rehiring of the men who were out of work. The officers of the organization in good faith. On the return of the men this morning they were hired up to the neck of the neck. The foremen and superintendents would walk through the line and pick out the men they wanted. The next man would be pushed out of the line and that man would be the one who would be hired. We understood the agreement perfectly and the strikers were not to be discriminated against. The packers had violated the same. This has been their system in the past and that is our main reason for striking. We also hired men in some of the departments who had not been employed prior to the strike.

How Men Were Taken.

According to John F. Eorch, president of the local branch of the Meat Butchers' union, who said he was speaking for Mr. Donnelly, the situation at the different packing plants was as follows: At Swift and Company—all the old men were taken back in one house. Anglo-American Company—Reinstated no union, based on three unionists, but refused to go to work unless the remainder of the men were reinstated. Armour & Co.—No union men taken back. Alleged discrimination here precipitated the strike. Hammond Packing Company—Appointed a steward to carry out the terms of the crowd of applicants. Nelson Morris Co.—Took back 10 percent of cattle butchers. Schwarzhild & Sulzberger—Took back all the men who were out of work. Liberty, McNeil & Libby—Reinstated about one-third of former employees. The charge was made by Mr. F. Eorch that a foreman at Armour's selected a few men from the unionists to be reinstated, but they refused to go to work unless checks were issued to the rest of the strikers.

Restless Crowds Fill Streets.

Restless crowds filled the streets of Packingtown all day after the order of the second strike. Several disturbances took place in the morning and early afternoon, but no arrests were made. As soon as it grew dark, however, and especially after the news had reached the district that no agreement had been reached at the downtown conference, small-sized riots were numerous and it kept the police busy until far into the night scattering the belligerents.

In one of these disturbances Josie Romanovsky, who had taken a striker's place in one of the plants, was attacked by nearly 100 boys and girls while she was on her way home. She was chased for several blocks and pelted with mud and stones. When she reached home she fell in a heap on the doorstep, exhausted from fright and bruises.

The girl was dragged into the house by her father before the pursuing crowd could reach her. During that she had escaped them they commenced to batter the house with stones and bricks. A riot call was sent in and it took a wagonload of policemen to disperse the youthful rioters.

Men Were Disappointed.

When the 2,000 butchers and their helpers were told that the general agreement was their old place, the general greeting was: "We cannot take back more than half the regular force." Immediately there was a woful display of chagrin and disappointment. The men held a conference of an hour and a half and reached an agreement to act as a unit or not at all. "You must take us all back or none," came the reply of the union men, who saw performing the tasks they had done before the strike. President Donnelly's telegram was accordingly sent to all unions.

The breaking of agreement, as alleged by President Donnelly on the part of the packers and the ending of all peace plans on the part of the unions, came as a pleasant surprise to the public despite the widespread knowledge that the men were far from satisfied with conditions consequent upon the signing of the terms of peace.

SOUTH OMAHA MEN GO OUT

Packing House Strike Resumed Pending Settlement at Chicago.

MEN QUIT PROMPTLY WHEN ORDERED

Packers Say They Will Make No Attempt to Start Until the Conference at Chicago Closes.

When the union men walked out of the South Omaha packing houses shortly after noon Friday, the plants were left in much worse condition as far as men were concerned than on July 12, when the first walkout occurred. The reason for this was the departure Thursday night and Friday morning of large numbers of nonunion men. As at the time walkout of the union men cleaned up the plants, so that everything was left in good order.

Many of the men appeared to be disappointed because of the order to strike again, as all were apparently satisfied with conditions here, with the exception of the Swift plant. With no question as to the authority of President Donnelly was raised, the men had been so anxious to get to work and have their differences settled by arbitration that they naturally disliked to go out again. When the reason for the second strike was explained to them, many men felt that they were assisting the union in Chicago to obtain fair treatment, and the grumbling ceased.

Local packers declare that no effort will be made to secure men until it is positively known that all negotiations for a friendly settlement have been abandoned.

Expressions by Managers.

Manager Murphy of Cudahy's said: "Our men walked out reluctantly. We have lived up to the agreement, and the men here had no complaint to make. I am sorry that the plants in South Omaha were not so completely closed down because two or three packers in Chicago failed to keep the agreement entered into. Instead of ordering the men out I should have thought that President Donnelly would have taken the matter to the board of arbitration, leaving the men work until the board settled the matter, or the night he had called out the men for the violation where he claims the agreement was violated and let the others, where the men were satisfied, remain at work. We are left with only a small working force, but I do not intend to try to secure more men until an agreement is reached. The conference now going on in Chicago." R. C. Howe of Armour's stated that the men cleaned up his plant before going out. "In the employment of men Friday morning we made no discrimination. The men here went up at the windows for their work checks and the foremen of gangs picked out their old men and got started to work as soon as possible. We put back every man that we could use with the receipts of live stock at hand. In going out the men left the plant in good order. Many acted as if disappointed in not being permitted to continue work."

Men Were Ready to Work.

Not at the beginning of the strike has such a degree of activity been observed in the stock yards as today. Long before the whistles blew for the men to enter the crowds had begun to gather at the various exchanges. Exchange avenues in the packing industry, which was threatened last week to enforce the demands of the strikers, will be called. All these unions have signified their willingness to stand by the butchers if they are called on to assist in the struggle with the packers for supremacy.
