Get Ready for Hot Weather

Have you one of those stuffy, hot offices, where life is unbearable in the summer? Or one of those west front offices, where the sun beats down mercilessly, so that you and your employees can do only half the work that they would in a cool, comfortable office? If you happen to be fixed in this way, you had better look around in the Bee Building. Every office in the Bee Building gets its share of the breeze. If there is any. On account of the court, it has perfect ventilation. Particularly in hot weather, there is nothing so aggravating as a poorly kept office. What do you think about moving, and moving now?
