BIDS FOR FIRE APPARATUS

Opened by City Council, but Action on Them is Deferred.

CEMENT WALKS IN RESIDENCE DISTRICT

Mayor Suggests that No More Brick Be Laid in Certain Sections of the City—City Scales Out of Repair.

The city council met last night for the purpose of opening bids for the apparatus to be installed in the new fire house in the south part of the city. No contracts, however, were awarded, the bids being referred to Alderman Crippen's committee with power to act.
Bids on the combination chemical engine and hose wagon were received as follows: Seagrave company, Columbus, O., $1,280; American-LaFrance Fire Engine company, Chicago, $1,375; New York Plumbing company, Council Bluffs, representing the P. J. Cooney Manufacturing company of St. Louis, $1,250 with wooden body and $1,450 with steel body; Stephan Brothers, Council Bluffs, representing the American-LaFrance Fire Engine company, $1,750 for double tank. The advertisement called for bids on a combination chemical engine and hose wagon with hose ladders, forty-gallon chemical tank and 200 feet of hose for same.
Nine bids were received for the 1,500 feet of hose, ranging from 58 to 90 cents per foot. The committee will meet Sunday morning at 9 o'clock with the representatives of the firms bidding.
Mayor Macrae suggested that before any new contracts are let for sidewalks, that the residence part of the city be districted in order that cement walks may be ordered in certain localities in place of brick. The mayor said he referred principally to the Fourth ward, where he believed on such streets as Sixth, Seventh and Eighth; First, Fifth and Willow avenues; cement walks ought to take the place of brick wherever new walks were needed. He was authorized to appoint a committee of three to district the city for this purpose. This committee Mayor Macrae said he would appoint later.
Alderman Younkerman called attention to the fact that the city scales at the city building needed repairing and a general overhauling, and suggested that the city purchase new ones. He explained that to overhaul the old scales would cost about $125, while new scales could be purchased for $185. The present scales have been in use twenty-four years. After some discussion as to whether "long" or "short" scales were the best, the matter was left in the hands of the committee on city property with power to act.
The contract for the grading of Ridge street was awarded to Walters & Huber on their bid of 12 cents for cash, with 8 per cent added for certificates.
C. Geise, through Alderman Younkerman, informed the council that he intended putting in an iron bridge over Indian creek at the foot of Little Frank street, which would be open for the use of the general public and in return for which he asked that the city pave the approach to the structure. Although there was some question as to whether the bridge was on private property, the council decided to grant Mr. Geise's request.

RALPH APPEARS IN NEW ROLE

Champion Ice Cream Eater Now in City Jail.

William Rolph, a young man 21 years of age, who recently acquired local fame as the champion ice cream eater of the western part of the city, is under arrest at the city jail, charged with enticing Edna Bradford, a 15-year-old girl, away from her home. He was arrested early yesterday morning on complaint of the girl's father, M. S. Bradford of 1619 Seventh avenue. When taken to the city jail young Rolph disclaimed any knowledge of the girl's present whereabouts.
According to the statement made to Chief of Police Richmond by Rolph, he met the Bradford girl in Cochran park last Friday afternoon. The girl was crying and said she had been ill-treated by her stepmother. Rolph took the girl to the home of his aunt, where she remained until Sunday, when he removed her to the home of Mrs. Benedict, living in the southwestern part of the city. Miss Bradford stopped at the Benedict home until Thursday, when she left in company, it is said, with young Rolph.
Where the girl was taken to after leaving the Benedict home neither the parents nor the police had learned up to last evening and young Rolph professes not to know, although he admitted to Chief Richmond that he had held a conversation with her over the telephone Thursday evening.
The alleged story of the girl that she had been ill-treated by a stepmother has been shown to be false, as Mrs. Bradford is her mother and not stepmother. Mrs. Bradford is almost prostrated with anxiety and worry over her daughter's disappearance. The father was formerly a conductor and is now in the employ of the Union Pacific as a brakeman.

Holds Boy for Trial.

Justice Ouren yesterday decided that Frank Reid, the elevator boy in the Merriam block charged with the theft of a $25 check from a letter given him to mail by Mrs. Dailey, librarian of the public library, did not come within the age limit of the new juvenile law recently enacted by the Iowa legislature and set his preliminary hearing for Friday, August 5.
When taken into custody young Reid stated he was 19 years of age, but his father claimed he was only 16, not having yet reached his seventeenth year. Admitting the boy's age to be that claimed by the father, the county attorney contended that even then the young man did not come under the law, which he claimed applied only to youths under 16 years of age.
The new law in one section says it applies only to children under 16 years of age, while in another it says is applies to those who have not reached their "seventeenth birthday." The county attorney took the position that when a person is born is the first birthday and that the second birthday comes when the child is 1 year old, consequently when Reid was 16 years of age he reached his seventeenth birthday. On behalf of the lad the contrary was contended and that he could not be sent to jail until his case should be brought to the attention of a judge of the district court, who alone under the new law has jurisdiction over juvenile offenders.
Justice Ouren construed the law in the same way as the county attorney and decided the boy did not come within its provisions and should be held to answer before him. Young Reid admits cashing the check, but claims he did not take it from the letter and that he found it near the mail box in the building where he was employed.
It was stated yesterday that an appeal from Justice Ouren's ruling would be taken to the district court.

Nothing New on Interurban.

The New York capitalist said to be interested in the proposed electric line from this city to Des Moines and who accompanied Attorney E. B. Wadsworth, Lyman Waterman of Omaha and others over the proposed route Thursday, is Tyndall Palmer, secretary and general manager of the New York Terminal company.
Mr. Wadsworth, when asked yesterday, said there was nothing yet to be made public as the whole proposition was merely in an embryonic state. As to the new line being connected with the proposed new bridge over the Missouri, for which a bill is now pending in congress, Mr. Wadsworth would neither deny nor affirm.

Sues Railroad Company.

J. W. Ratekin of Shenandoah, Ia., filed original notice of suit yesterday in the district court here against the Illinois Central Railway company to recover $385 damages. The plaintiff alleges that on February 27 of this year he shipped 800 bushels of seed corn from Shenandoah to Vicksburg, Miss., over the defendant company's lines. The corn, it is claimed, was not delivered until March 21, after the season for seed corn had passed.

New Professor of Anatomy.

IOWA CITY, Ia., July 29.—(Special.)—James Henry Prentiss of the chair of practical anatomy, Bellevue Medical college, New York university, has been elected professor of anatomy in the State university of Iowa to succeed the late Dr. John W. Harriman. He was Dr. Harriman's own choice. Dr. Prentiss is famous throughout New York City and the United States for his work as an author, surgeon and educator. He will come to Iowa City in September. Miss Bertha Wilkinson, formerly of Chicago and more recently matron of Finley hospital, in Dubuque, Ia., has been elected superintendent of the University of Iowa Nurses' Training school to succeed Miss Antonia Eponeter, resigned.

Both Claim Name.

LOGAN, Ia., July 29.—(Special.)—The towns of Logan and Harlan are fighting over a name. Recently posters were issued announcing a reunion of the Western Iowa Veterans' association. The principal officers lived at Logan and the reunion was to be held here. Hardly had these been printed when the veterans of Harlan began advertising a reunion at their town and used the name of the Western Iowa Veterans' association. This, of course, caused some disturbance, but it has now been settled by the disclaiming of all right to the title by Harlan.

Good Crops Near Logan.

LOGAN, Ia., July 29.—(Special.)—Crops near Logan are generally speaking, in good condition. Corn is of a good color, but not a full stand and somewhat backward. Oats and barley are maturing well. Rye, of which there is but a small acreage, is fair. The light showers, followed by hot sunshine, is producing rust on the wheat. The hay crop this year will be very large.

Boy Hard to Kill.

INDIANOLA, Ia., July 29.—(Special.)—Earl Listwood, an 13-year-old boy, slid down a steep roof of the North school building, mixed up with a ladder and a bucket of paint, went over the eaves and fell forty feet to a hard cinder walk and still lives and will recover. A number saw the accident.

Kindling Puts Out Eye.

LOGAN, Ia., July 29.—(Special.)—S. E. Card of the firm of Card Bros., butchers, as the result of a recent accident, will lose the sight of his left eye. While splitting kindling wood a stick flew up and struck him in the face, breaking the bone of his nose and destroying the sight in one eye.

COMPLAINT OF POOR MEAT

Local Butchers in Iowa Said to Be Slaughtering Inferior Quality.

INSPECTING BAKERIES AND HOTELS

Dodge Light Guards Prohibited from Participating in Sham Battle on Sunday—Welcome Interurban Line.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, July 29.—(Special.)—As one result of the labor troubles at the packing houses a large number of the butchers in Des Moines and nearby towns commenced to slaughter their own animals in the old way and to establish small slaughtering establishments. The city Board of Health has commenced an investigation of a report that these butchers are not very particular about the character of the meat purchased and that much diseased meat is being placed on the local market. Feeders having cattle of inferior quality or that would not stand the test of examination at the packing houses where government inspectors are employed, it is alleged, have run them into the cities of Iowa for sale direct to unscrupulous butchers. As a result of this the complaint has been great that the meat being sold here is not up to the standard. The packers' strike has been a great boon to a number of the independent packing houses of the state and they have enjoyed a big rush of business.

Inspecting Bakeries.

The state labor department is engaged in making a thorough inspection of the bakeries and other places in Des Moines where foods are prepared for use, including restaurants and hotels. This is the first inspection of the kind ever made in the state. Last year there was complaint made to the department at this time of the year, but there was not money enough to provide the inspection. Now State Factory Inspector Bradley and Deputy Labor Commissioner Shepherd have started out to make the inspection of the city establishments complete. They have been engaged for two months inspecting factories and establishments where labor is employed in other cities of the state.

Install New Superintendent.

Colonel L. D. Drake, formerly of Booneville, Mo., was today installed as the new superintendent of the State Industrial School for Boys at Eldora. The institution has been in charge of the assistant superintendent since the first of the month, when Superintendent Miles retired to accept a position at Washington. Colonel Drake was in charge of the Missouri Industrial school and made a great success of the same.
Ex-Governor Larrabee, president of the Iowa exposition commission, has announced he will present to the Industrial school at Eldora the large pipe organ which is located in the Iowa building at St. Louis, and which was his gift there. He has previously presented to the Orphans' Home at Davenport a similar pipe organ.

No Sunday Battle.

Adjutant General Byers today sent a note to the commander of the Dodge Light Guards at Council Bluffs calling attention to the laws of the state as affecting militia companies and the conduct of the militia on Sunday. This was in response to complaints from Council Bluffs that the company was about to participate in a sham battle with Nebraska guardsmen on Sunday. Under the Iowa laws they cannot do so without permission nor without violation of the state laws. The adjutant general says there will be no Sunday sham battle.

Would Welcome the Line.

It is known that people residing along the route of the proposed interurban from Omaha to Des Moines, and especially at Greenfield and Winterset, are very anxious to have the line built and will offer all possible inducements for the building of the road. They have repeatedly offered right-of-way through the towns and other encouragement and are ready to give such a line a welcome. All plans for building in the same direction out of Des Moines have been abandoned here. The new line from Des Moines to St. Joseph is to be a steam railroad and would not conflict at all. Nothing is known here as to the plans of the promoters of the Omaha interurban, but the scheme is regarded as entirely feasible.

Convention Called.

The democrats of the Fourth district of Iowa have called a congressional convention to be held at Postville August 13 to name a candidate for congress against O. N. Hauger. No names are as yet mentioned in connection with the nomination.
