The War office does not intend to publish the name of the actual commander at Simoucheng for reasons of military expediency. The War office does not expect the Japanese to resume their advance for several days.

Now they are probably again preparing for a flanking movement on a large scale and possibly awaiting the marching up of a strong column from New Chwang.

The failure of the Japanese to follow up their success is evidently the cause of great satisfaction to the general staff here. Whether this feeling is due to the fact that the delay will give General Kouropatkin Yokohama announcing that its steamer breathing space and enable him to arrange his concentrated dispositions for the coming battle, or because it will allow him the requisite time to effect his withdrawal north is of course unknown, the general staff not even admitting that the commander-in-chief is contemplating escape. In either event, however, the Russians will profit by the declination of the Jananese to pursue their advantage.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 .- Under the authority of the War department the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice has announced the plan adopted for the formation of a national reserve of qualified riflemen. No step in military circles within the past decade, at least, has been fraught with the significance that attaches to this effort to induce all male cilizons of the United States capable of bearing arms to familiarize themselves with the use of firearms, and especially the government weapon which will be employed in time of war. It is estimated that there are at least 10,000,000 Americans who would be eligible to a draft, of which only a small percentage know anything about rifie practice. Skill with the best weapon has always turned the scale in favor of the nation employing the same even with inferior The victories of the English numbers.

the militia and the volunteers for our fighting force. With the modern longrange small arms it is all important that the soldier should know how to shoot and to hit what he shoots at. If he cannot do this the chances are ten to one that the shot is lost. "By the plan proposed," says the report of the board, "we believe that the United States will within a few years have more

The Inside Inn at St. Louis

An Ideal Place for Visitors Right Inside the Grounds-No Tiresome Journeys to or from the City-No Crowding-No Discomfort -Time and Money Saved.

No matter who you are or what you are; o matter if your pures be alender or othervise, if you wish to see the World's Fair at St. Louis and enjoy every moment of your time, the best place to stay-indeed, the nly place to stay-is The Inside Inn.

The building of this splendid hostelry has narked a new departure in world's fair acommodations, it being the first time that the administration of any exposition has taken the question of lodging and creature comforts of its visitors under its personal supervision. This the World's Fair management has done. The Inside Inn has been built with the same lavish hand that has marked all other constructions at St. Louis. It is three stories high, 400 feet wide, 800 feet long, contains 2,257 bedrooms and can seat 2,500 people in its dining room at one sitting. Every modern conventence obtainable has peen installed and the comforts thus afforded enable visitors to enjoy the sights of the exposition whenever they please and then go to their rooms for a rest without a long, tiresome journey to and from their lodgings. A great saving of time and money is consequently effected, us sight seeing can be begun directly after breakfast and continued late into the aight without any exasperating run for the "last car." No admission fae other than the first is required from those guests who remain within the precints of the fair at The Inside Inn.

The Inside Inn is run on both the European and American plans and the rates are exceedingly moderate, ranging from $1.50 to $5.50 European, and from $3.00 to $7.00 American, including daily admission in both cases. The enormous capacity of the Insside Inn assures first-class accomodations for all-no matter when or in what numbers they come-but those who prefer to secure their rooms in advance may make reservations now for any period up to December 1st. A past card addressed to The Inside Inn, Administration Bldg., World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis, will bring you an interesting booklet, giving full details and
