

OMAHA WINS DOUBLE HEADER

First Game a Complete Shutout for Man from Colorado.

HOWARD WEARS HIS BATTING CLOTHES

His Second Base Man Makes Two Three-Baggers, Two Two-Bases, a Single and a Sacrifice—See Fighting Matinee.

Who poured molasses in Grandpa Ryan's boots on the Union Street diamond yesterday afternoon? Pa. Ryan's bad children did it twice and did it well. The Colorado Springs team had nearly all of the mineral water kicked out of the stadium in a lively double-header.

The first game was a complete shutout for the Minnopolis, who plucked eight hits and three passes to first from Sanders, but failed to go through the formality of getting to the home plate and scoring a run. The local family scored four times, all earned and three being made in one inning, the active fourth.

The second game yielded but one good one for the mineral water drinkers and five for the Gate City delegates. Nil of the visitors, who proved themselves better than the name would imply, and the second game came from a shutout for his team, and in fact saved the day for Jimmy Ryan's aggregation by sending out a safe three-bagger in the sixth and then coming home like a runaway boy when Kahl tapped the ball off the right field fence and down into the open hands of Welch.

The westerners gathered in five hits and as many walking papers in the second, but Nil was the only boy who earned his supper.

Rourke Boys Get Gay.

The first three innings of the first game were profitless for the Rangers. They just walked up to the plate in one, two, three, four and then walked back to the bench. It was good exercise. But in the fourth history was written with large letters and a fountain pen. Carter lit the fuse with a lightning hit that went over to the right field fence and Nick hit the high places when he reached third base. Then he stopped. He knew there was no use overdoing a good thing and moreover he saw Howard coming up to bat and he took new courage. Howard put the ball to the bat again on the right field fence and Carter came home to the folks again. Welch walked up to the home plate, grabbed a bat and when McNeely tossed him a nice one he sent it for a single and Howard moved from second base to home.

It was just like a moving picture. It was lovely, as the girls said. This made two runs and only one out for the inning. Dolan kept up the good work with another single and Welch made the third score. Dolan took a little tramp to the right field fence and then struck out and Schipke got a zero mark on an infield fly. Three outs, but three runs.

Howard made the fourth run in the sixth, when he sent out one of those "good for the world" hits that landed on the Welch went out to the center field. The Omaha players made two hits in the eighth, but did not score, saving some of the powder for the next game.

Both Sad and Glad.

The tall sons of the mountains went after Mr. Sanders in the first game right from the start, but after getting to first base were all at the post. It was a sad sight and a glad one.

Brother Howard of the Rourke happy family made a splendid showing with the bat. Out of eight times up he made two three-base hits, two two-bases, one single and a sacrifice. Twice he scored and thrice was left on bases.

In the first game Sanders made a picture play when he caught a speedy one from Congalton's bat and sent the ball to Thomas in time to get Nil out on a double play. Sanders then took the lead off the base and played on the part of the Omaha team was gratifying to the 8,000 enthusiasts who attended, and was the cause of a large smile on Pa's face when he took his children to the hotel after the game. It was Pa's birthday, and he was celebrating.

There was a critical period in the eighth inning of the second game. The Springs run had bases full, two outs and Thornton at bat. A homer by Jack would have won the game, but Thornton struck the ball a low fly and Thomas caught the visiting first baseman out. That made three outs and three left on bases. Every one looked with longing eyes as Thomas caught Thornton's fly.

BUNCH TOGETHER

Coffee Has a Curious Way of Finally Attacking Some Organs.

Alls that come from coffee are cumulative, that is, unless the coffee is taken away new troubles are continually appearing and the old ones get worse.

"To begin with," says a Kansas, "I was a slave to coffee, just as thousands of others today," thought I could not live without drinking strong coffee every morning for breakfast, and has sick headaches that kept me in bed several days every month. Could hardly keep my food on my stomach, but would vomit as long as I could throw anything up, and when I could get hot coffee to stay on my stomach I thought I was better.

"Well, two years ago this spring I was that sick with rheumatism I could not use my right arm to do anything, had heart trouble, was nervous. My nerves were all unstrung and my finger nails and tips were blue, as if I had a chill all the time. My face and hands yellow as a pumpkin. My doctor said it was heart disease and rheumatism, and my neighbors said I had Bright's disease and was going to die.

"Well, I did not know what on earth was the matter, and every morning would drag myself out of bed and go to breakfast, not to eat anything, but to force down some more coffee. Then in a little while I would be so nervous, my heart would beat like everything.

"Finally, one morning I told my husband I believed coffee was the cause of this trouble and that I thought I would try Postum, which I had seen advertised. He said 'All right,' so we got Postum, and although I did not like it at first, I got right down to business and made it according to directions; then it was fine and the whole family got to using it, and I tell you it has worked wonders for me. Thanks to Postum in place of the poison coffee, I now enjoy good health, have not been in bed with sick headaches for two years, although I had it for 30 years before I began Postum, and my nerves are now strong and I have no trouble from my heart or from the rheumatism.

"I consider Postum a necessary article of food on my table. My friends who come here and taste my Postum say it is delicious. Name given by Postum Co., Batavia, N. Y., Crack, Mich.

COUNT BUSINESS BY BILLIONS

Treasury Auditor Explains Big Figures of Work of This Department.

SEVEN YEARS' RECORD IS INCREDIBLE

W. H. Andrews Settles Thirty-Two and a Half Billions of Accounts Since Entering the Office.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—At the first of the year the officials of the various departments submit their annual reports to their chiefs, who are members of the cabinet. These reports, in many instances, contain exceedingly interesting information which, in nine cases out of ten, never attracts public attention. The reason is that such matters of routine are produced all at the same time and no newspaper can possibly reproduce even a tithe of it. For instance, the report of the auditor for the Treasury department shows that the average aggregate of accounts settled by the Treasury department has reached the enormous total of more than $4,000,000,000 annually during the last seven years. Auditor Andrews in submitting his report to the secretary of the treasury says:

"The accounts settled in this office during the last seven years aggregate $4,000,000,000. The Treasury department has reached the enormous total of more than $4,000,000,000 annually during the last seven years. Auditor Andrews in submitting his report to the secretary of the treasury says:

"These figures represent the business of the department since March 4, 1897, with the exception of transactions relating to postal revenues.

"The figures show that the Treasury department has reached the enormous total of more than $4,000,000,000 annually during the last seven years. Auditor Andrews in submitting his report to the secretary of the treasury says:
