POLICE AFTER GUILTY MAN

Search for George Von Haller, Supposed Slayer of M. D. Reese.

SUSPECTS' PAL IMPLICATES LATTER

Tells Police of Shooting Which He Tried to Prevent—Corroborates Widow's Statement—Man Wanted Has Police Record.

George von Haller, peddler, living at 4923 North Eighteenth street, is the name of the man whom the police department is looking for as the person supposed to have fired the shot that killed M. D. Reese, Missouri Pacific operator at the Oak Chatham station, Twenty-second and the Bell line, Wednesday night.

Adolph Hubermann of the Glencairn, Sixteenth and Douglas streets, now being held in the matron's department at the city jail, is said to have been Von Haller's companion at the time of the tragedy. Hubermann has told the police a story that corroborates in the main that told by Mrs. Reese. Von Haller is now at large and the police are making every effort to effect his apprehension. Circulars and photographs are being sent in all directions and it is believed it will be but a matter of time before he is apprehended. The police say Hubermann's connection with the affair is but circumstantial and a specific charge will not be placed against him until at least after the inquest and the advice of the county attorney has been received.

From what Mrs. Reese and Hubermann have said the authorities it is their belief that no mystery can be connected with the shooting, but rather that it was a brutal and unprovoked assault.

Hubermann's Story to Police.

Hubermann's story to Chief of Detectives Dunn is in substance: "Von Haller and I were out together and were taking a short cut along the tracks, to take a southbound car down town when we passed the Reese place. The dog came out and so did Reese. Reese was going to shoot the dog and Von Haller then went for Reese and I tried to get him to be quiet and Von Haller threatened me. Mrs. Reese took hold of her husband with a view of getting him in the house and again I tried to interfere. Several shots were fired. Von Haller and I then went our way and he fired a shot in the air and I tried to take the revolver from him. We separated on the way down town."

One of the connecting links of the affair is a bloody shirt found by Detectives Maloney and Drummy in the house of Leroy J. Hanlin at Twentieth and Spruce streets the same evening. Mr. Hanlin was out of the city at the time, but the detective learned from Mrs. Hanlin that Von Haller had called at the house not long after the shooting and changed his shirt. It was said he had some clothes at the Hanlin place. The authorities got a line on Von Haller and Hubermann by hearing that the former had been in that part of the city that evening and was with Hubermann. Their various movements were traced and the itinerary included a number of saloons in that section. So far as the police are able to learn Von Haller was more or less under the influence of liquor while his companion was comparatively sober.

Description of Von Haller.

Von Haller is 25 years of age, 5 feet and 9 inches in height, smooth face, sandy complexion, of slender build, with muscular shoulders. He is known to the police having figured in an affair at Forty-eighth and Cass streets during November, 1898, when he and a man named Roy Geppner escaped after a pursuit by Sergeant Dempsey, Captain W. W. Cox and Detective Savage, Sullivan and Keyser. At that time complaints were received at the police station regarding a house at Forty-eighth and Cass streets. Officers were sent there, but no one responded to the call. Then a search warrant was obtained and a second made. Then the officers were reinforced and met with a fusillade of shots. Von Haller and Geppner escaped with a stolen horse and buggy after having taken Detective Savage's revolver. They were next heard of in Schenectady, N. Y., where they were arrested. Von Haller getting away from the officers and Geppner being sentenced to a year in the penitentiary.

An autopsy has been held at Coroner Braley's office on the body of Reese, the result of which examination will be made known at the inquest, which will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Says Reese Invented Crime. A rumor has gained currency that Reese recently had inherited $100,000 and was murdered by men who knew of this fact and sought to get his legacy. An effort was made to see Mrs. Reese with reference to this story, but she could not be seen.

Attorney Hugh A. Meyer, at whose home Mrs. Reese is stopping since her husband's tragic death, is authority for the statement that Reese was expecting to come into possession of an estate left by his father, who was very wealthy, but the amount was not stated. The will now is in probate court in Washington. Mr. Reese's father was a railroad contractor and was colonel in the union army during the civil war.

It has been stated by friends of the family that Reese's mother was a sister of the late P. T. Barnum, the famous showman.

Reese Dies at Hospital. Reese, who was shot under the left eye night before last, died yesterday evening at Clarkson hospital, to which place he had been removed before noon yesterday. He was in a semi-unconscious condition when taken to the hospital and shortly after lapsed into complete unconsciousness in which condition he died.

As far as can be learned he did not speak of the shooting affair or add any facts to the meager details on which the police are working for the purpose of arresting the man who fired the shot.

Mrs. Reese was taken to the residence of Hugh A. Meyer, a friend of the family, at 280 North Seventeenth when her husband was removed to the Clarkson hospital and on leaving of his death was prostrated with grief. Earlier in the day she had told her story to Mrs. Meyer, her hostess, who when questioned about the affair, said: "From what I can gather from Mrs. Reese's story, it seems that Mr. Reese went out of the house when he heard the dog barking, having previously armed himself with a revolver. But she says she thinks the revolver was unloaded. Mrs. Reese heard the person outside make a remark and immediately there came a quick succession of shots. How many she does not know. She ran out of the house and found her husband lying in the doorway. She does not know any reason for the shooting."

Chief Donahue when asked if there had been any further developments in the case replied: "Not any further for publication."

HEAD OF ARMY IN OMAHA

Lieutenant General Adna R. Chaffee Arrives on Inspection Tour.

WILL VIEW BOTH FORTS NEAR HERE

Hero of Siege of Peking Says He Will Not Attend Maneuvers at Manassas This Fall.

Lieutenant General Adna R. Chaffee, chief of staff of the army of the United States, Major General Charles F. Humphreys, quartermaster general of the United States army; Captain Grose Hutchinson, military secretary of the general staff of the army, and Frank J. Hogan, secretary to General Chaffee, arrived in the city Friday morning by special car over the Northwestern from Fort Niobrara at 11:30.

General Chaffee and party were met at the Union station by Brigadier General T. J. Wink, officers of the staff of the Department of the Missouri and one or two citizens, former friends of General Chaffee and General Humphreys. With the distinguished party were Senator and Mrs. Millard; General Manager Bidwell of the Northwestern, and Mrs. Bidwell. General Chaffee and party were taken at once to department headquarters and were entertained at luncheon by Senator Millard at the Omaha National bank cafe. In this party were Generals Humphreys, Wink, Captain Hutchinson, General Manager Bidwell and Congressman Hitchcock.

Has a Hard Trip.

The distinguished soldier looks bronzed from his trip across the continent. He said: "The trip has been a hard one, but I have enjoyed it. I find the posts and garrisons in good condition and the morale of the army excellent. There is not much to say. No, I shall not participate in the maneuvers at Manassas this fall. I did participate in a couple of maneuvers there a good many years ago. In regard to my first enlistment, that was in the fall of 1861 at Warren, O., as a recruit in the Sixth cavalry. There are very few of the old survivors of the regiment left that were with it at the beginning. I shall leave here tomorrow evening for Fort Des Moines and will go from there to Fort Leavenworth. We inspect Fort Omaha this afternoon and Fort Crook tomorrow."

The party will be given a reception this evening at the Omaha club.

REPORT OF CALVERT'S CHANGE

Rumor is that He Will Get Bigger Job on Burlington, His Old Road.

A report is in circulation to the effect that General Superintendent T. E. Calvert of the Burlington, at Lincoln, who has been connected with the Burlington since its early history in Nebraska, is to receive ceive a substantial promotion. The rumor has it that he will be transferred from Lincoln to the east and that another man will be sent within a short time to take his place.

Superintendent Calvert has built most of the lines of the system now in operation in Nebraska, Wyoming, South Dakota, Montana, Colorado and Kansas. It is said he is more familiar with the system than any other man. At present Mr. Calvert is absent in the Black Hills on a tour of inspection and could not be seen. Nothing could be ascertained as to the reported change at local Burlington headquarters. In Lincoln, it is said, such a change is improbable.

BOY HURT BY A STREET CAR

Dragged Some Distance, Sustaining Scalp Wound and Other Bruises on Body.

Charles Nelson, 229 Lake street, a special delivery messenger boy at the postoffice, was injured in a street car accident at Tenth and Howard streets at 12:40 p. m. Friday. The report of the accident as it was made at the police station is that the boy attempted to run in front of the car which he wanted to catch and, misgauging his speed, fell in front of it on the track, was dragged some twenty-five or thirty feet and sustained a scalp wound and other bodily bruises. Mrs. M. J. Ford and B. M. Riley took him in a carriage to his home and attended him.

The car was special No. 1 and was in charge of Conductor Frank Clement and Motorman William Southwell. They are both new men and were making just one extra trip during the noon hour to accommodate the rush at that time. Later the boy was taken to St. Joseph's hospital. Dr. Ford said at 3 o'clock the boy's injuries consisted of a broken collar bone, a gash on the head and flesh wound on the hip.
