YORK RAISES A NEW POINT

Counties Whose Valuation Was Raised Look for Flaws in Law:

STRIKE MAY HIT RANCH OWNERS HARD

rain from Running Into a Burning Bridge-State Fair Exhibits Pouring In-

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 17 .- (Special.) - A York county man stated today that there is a possibility that the increases in county valuations ordered by the State Board of Equalization may all be invalid, because of the interference with the power of the county boards to raise revenue. Under the statute for the regulation of county levies, county boards are required to make estimates in January of the amount of revenue which they will raise for local purposes, and they are subject to a fine should they rake more revenue than the estimate calls for. Under the new revenue statute the state board to equalize must of necessity interfere with the amount of revenue raised locally, and that fact, it is claimed makes the section granting the power to the state board invalid." It is not yet known whether a test suit will be instituted in York county. The success of such a suit would cut down the grand assessment roll of the state by about $4,000,-

Ranchmon Are Worried. Chief Clerk E. S. Mickey of the gov-ernor's office, who has returned from his Keya Paha ranch, stated that the outlook for the ranchmen is not vary bright in the near future. Even with the ending of the strike he believes that there is danger of a sudden rush to the market which will to a low level. He says that many of the for the end of the strike. It is a serious now on their cattle will shrink rapidly. In the sections of the state where the Buffalo grass does not grow, the prairie grass is already maturing and losing its nutritive qualities, so that the ranchmen of those regions who are obliged to hold their stock will find it shrinking from day to day. out much hope that it will remain in that condition where there is no buffalo grass. Where the cattle have access to that kind of forage and, it has been cured their flesh will become more solid. Mr. Mickey said that he had observed no trouble impending because of maturing loans, but from the general custom of the ranchmen of going into debt for the cattle, it is regarded as likely that the pressure to sell is often due to the demands of the money lenders. Many of the cattlamen were deterred from shipping because of the low prices last fall, and they renewed their loans. That is one of the elements which makes the situation more. critical than it would otherwise have been, When the strike is ended the pressure to ship will be very great, and the cattle owners will vie with one another in rushing to the markets.

Baises Old Question. Has a man who goes out of business who he sells to quit the field, a right to re-enter it without laying himself liable to damages for the violation of his contract? C. W. Lemont, a Norfolk insurance man, today filed a brief in the state surestraint of trade and therefore void under the statutes of the common law.

Lemont and W. W. Roberts, another insurance and real estate man of Norfolk, who officed together, reached the conclusion that Lemont should retire, and he received from Chambers $340 for the office furniture and good will of the business. About a year later Lemont secured the agency for another company and Roberts brought an injunction suit, alleging that when he sold his business he had pro to remain out of the insurance field. The temporary injunction was made permanent and the defendant appealed to the supreme court.

Raphael's Novel Defense. Mark Raphael, the young man charged with emberzing $600 from the Edwards-Wood company, commission brokers of this city, presented a novel defense this afternoon when arraigned before the court. His attorneys make no denial of the charge. but insist that it was a gambling transaction and that time to the money never passed to the company. G. Zimmerman testified that he had paid Raphael, who was acting manager during the lilness of the company's local representative, $200 to protect three different options. It was while the local manager was absent that Raphael pocketed the money, closed up the place and skipped to lows.

The leaders favor Lincoln because of the proximity to the state house, with the official records that they may desire to consult, and have an additional reason for desiring to be here in the fact that the chairmen are both at home in the city. Another moving cause is the fear of the Lee Hordman democrats, who might capture the headquarters.

This noon Arthur Canaga, a 16-year-old came to the sheriff's office and in a broken voice and with tears streaming down his face confessed that he probably fired the fatal shot. The boy said that shortly after 2 o'clock he was driving out to Vashola's slaughter house with Ed Herre, another boy of about the same age, going on the military road. They had with them a 44-caliber rifle, which was brought along for the use of the men at the slaughter house killing beeves. They stopped their team just after they had crossed the side track which leads to some stock yards and the Canaga boy took a couple of shots towards the southeast at a bird sitting on the fence, without hitting it. Then he said: "I saw a sign nalled to a post on the fence at the west side of the corn field, and I fired at that. I didn't hit it and that bullet went into the corn field. I guess that was the bullet that struck Rhodes. I looked at the corn field when aimed at the sign and I coudn't see any-The boys say it was about 2:30 in the afternoon, which would make it about the time Rhodes cald he was shot. The boy was overwhelmed at the terrible result of his carelessness and it was with difficulty between sobs and tears that he was able in a broken way to tell his story to the sheriff. He said he con feesed because he thought it was the right thing to do and he felt better after telling Mr. Bauman what he had done. His craployer, P. R. Vashols, speaks wall of him and his general reputation is that of an honest, straightfordward boy. An inquest will be held later on Rhodes' re-
