Woman Leaves Home with Eighty Dollars After Day of Married Life and Fails to Return.

Joseph Tachadonetz yesterday appeared in the office of the county court with a joyful tale of his matrimonial bliss from a happy bridegroom to a disconsolate groomsman.

They ambled into the clerk's office, hand in hand, last Thursday morning. He was dressed in his Sunday best and she was attired in a white dress, a wedding veil and wore a large bunch of artificial orange blossoms.

Want the Best on Tap. "We want the marriage done in swell style," said the prospective groom after the license was issued.

The groom came to Omaha Friday afternoon and after a night's rest in the neighborhood where his wife said she formerly resided, failed to find any trace of her.

Walter J. Waltman of 731 South Eleventh street, arrested Thursday afternoon by Sergeant Dempsey on the charge of inhuman treatment to his children, has been sentenced to twenty days by Police Judge Berka.
