Medical Society of Missouri Valley Meets in Annual Session.

MERGER WITH NATIONAL BODY TAKEN UP

Local Society Willing to Merge, but Balk on Giving Up Their Name and Breaking Up Present Territory.

The seventeenth annual meeting of the Medical acciety of the Missouri Valley opened yesterday morning at the Grand hotel, and will continue over this morning In addition to the local members, about thirty physicians from Omaha and other towns were present at yesterday's sessions. A larger attendance is looked for today. The opening session, which was devoted entirely to business, was called to order by Dr. Donald Macrae, sr., of this city, chairman of the committee of arrange ments, and who is also treasurer of the society. In the absence of Mayor Macrae, Attorney Charles M. Harl was deputed to deliver the address of welcome. Mr. Harl took the opportunity to urge upon the doctors that they co-operate with the lawvers in order to secure a better system of resenting expert medical testimony in court. The present system, he contended, afforded much room for improvement. Referring to the high standing of the profession of the physician, he said that, notwithstanding the modern tendency towards specialism and specialties, in his opinion, he family doctor would always remain as the most important part of the profession The response to Mr. Harl's address was made by Dr. R. C. Moore of Omaha. In his address, the president, Dr. A. D.

Wilkinson of Lincoln said: Wilkinson of Lincoln said:

I congratulate you on the return of an occasion which permits us to renew that fraternity of intellect, no less than that sympathy of feeling by which our life and vocation as physicians are beautified and ennobled. Of no profession are the inspired words more true than of ours, that we are "members one of another." The ideal of our profession is that of complete and thorough oneness. What is scientific truth for one is scientific truth for all. We have a common estate in the facts, aims and purposes that belong to the science of medicine.

His address was devoted to an exhaustive discussion of "Substitute for Infant Feed-

Wants to Preserve Identity. The principal matter referred to in the report of Dr. Charles Wood Fassett of St. foseph, secretary of the society, was the question of the society becoming a district or auxiliary society in affiliation with the American Medical association. While approving of the society affiliating with the American Medical association, Secretary Fassett suggested that the organization should retain its name of Medical Society of the Missouri Valley, and should not lose its identity by being merged into the Northwestern branch society of the American Medical association, as proposed by the

In its report, action on which was deferred until this morning, the committee recommends that a committee be appointed to appear before the American Medical association with the demand that the Medical Society of the Missouri Valley be given recognition as an auxiliary society, it agreeing to amend its constitution and by-laws so as to harmonize with and conform to all the requirements of the American Medical as-

The secretary's report showed a member members; Iowa second, with 120; Missouri third, with 51, and Kansas fourth, with 13. The afternoon session was devoted to the reading and discussion of a number of papers of interest mainly to the medical profession. In the evening the visitors were the guests of the local doctors at a smoker at Lake Manawa. At this morning's session, which will bring the meeting to a close, officers for the ensuing year will be elected and the place of the next meeting chosen. Kansas City is in the field for the next meeting. Among the out-of-town members who registered yesterday were: A. D. Wilkinson, Lincoln; C. W. Fassett, St. Joseph; C. B. Hardin, E. H. Thrailkill, S. He died almost instantly.

No cause is given for the act other than t is supposed it was because of domestic trouble coupled with unfortunate speculations. Boody left a note to his mother n which he said his troubles were too great to bear.

Assyrian Has Expensive Wedding. FORT DODGE, Ia., Aug. M .- (Special.)-Joe" Kalifye, an itinerant Assyrian peddler, broke all records for wedding expenses by spending $1,000 on his wedding, which took place today. The ceremony was conducted in Corpus Christi church by Father Lenihan, assisted by three other priests. The bridal couple and party drove from the church to the Duncombe house, where a nine-course wedding breakfast was served to twenty-five couples of invited guests, after which the principals left for St. Louis.

A large number of invitations were is sued. The upper grust and elite of the city were invited to attend the ceremony at the church and it was gently noised about that there would be a lavish display. No one was disappointed. Nothing was overooked. The church was decorated in keepng with the attire of the bride and groom, who entered to the music of Lohengrin's wedding march and proceeded to the altar. where the double ring ceremony and high mass was celebrated.

The groom came to Fort Dodge twelve years ago and by hard work and economy ocumulated a fortune. His former occu pation before he left Assyria was that of sponge driver. When he struck Fort Dodge he engaged in peddling about the ountry from house to house. His bride, Miss Kate Sexton, moved to Fort Dodge but recently from New Orleans and their acquaintance soon terminated in an engagement. Kalifye, who is economical in his business relations, took much pride in the fact that the expenses necessary to his wedding would reach a cool $1,000, which included the jewels of the bride, Condition of Banks.

The statement of the condition of Iowa state and savings banks, as shown by the reports made to State Auditor Carroll under the last call for reports, dated August , was issued today. The reports indicate that there was some falling off in total deposits in these banks, but hardly as much as had been anticipated when the call was issued. In the June report the deposits were given as aggregating $131,471,432.13, which was $2,602,000 more than under the August call. The number of banks reporting was 637, of which 383 are savings and 244 are organized as state banks. The totals shown by the reports as made up today were as Expect Some Good Speakers.

The republican state committee is preparing to have some good meetings in lowa during the campaign and confidently expects to secure Senator Fairbanks and Speaker Cannon for meetings. While Iowa unimportant to the success of the national ticket and there is really no fight in the state, it is found that the national committee plans to send a good many of the best speakers back and forth across the country, and because of this fact it is believed they can be induced to make dates in Iowa as they are going through and not lose any time. Speaker Cannon is almost certain to come, as Mr. McNeeley, who is in charge of the speakers' bureau, is close to the speaker as one of his clerks at Washington and the speaker desires to favor Iowa-

PAMILY QUARREL ENDS IN KILLING Frank Seery Hits Michael Monyhau with Gas Pipe.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Is., Aug. Z.-(Special elegram.)-Michael Monyhan was killed by Frank Seery near Walford, just inside the Benton county line, last night. The murder was the result of a family feud that culminated in a quarrel last night, Secry hitting Monyhan over the head with a piece of gas pipe, from the effects of which he died this morning. The crime was committed in Benton county, but the man died in Linn, county and both county fficers were notified and for a short time there was trouble over the jurisdiction, but the Linn county officers withdrew and allowed the Benton county coroner to hold the inquest. There was but one eye witness to the crime and he is not exactly clear as to the quarrel. Seery is now in ustody and claims that he acted in selfdefense.

Good Water for Fort Dodge. FORT DODGE, Ia., Aug. 25 - (Special.) Workmen engaged in drilling for water for the city this morning struck a large vol ume at a depth of eighty feet on Duck Island. The matter of good water is one that has engaged the attention of the city government for some time and the council had arrived at a point where it was seriously considering the expenditure of $75,000 for a filter. Well drillers were started in an experiment on Duck Island, which is tract of ten acres situated at the edge of the city in the middle of the Des Moines river. For several days they have been drilling through a strata of sandstone and this morning the water gushed forth, indicating a large underground stream of pure, clear, cold, sparkling water. The people in general are much elated over what promses to be a happy solution to a problem that has caused much worry. The annexation of the new supply to the water system can be accomplished with small expense as the reservoirs and filter galleries are situated within 100 feet of the new well. A number of small wells or a large one will be sunk at once.
