at the War office, but it does not give a tained. nint of what is transpiring today. It is more than probable, however, that the Japaneso have resumed their attempt to reach Liao Yang. The silence on this point of the special dispatches filed at Liao Yang this yesterday at the same time that General morning rather confirms this view.

The hottest fighting occurred in the valley of the Lian, a small tributary of the Taitse, around Tsegow, a place between Anping and Liandiansian. General Kuroki's first aim apparently was to separate the two principal Russian positions, as forecasted in these dispatches August 26. The Russians in the valley of the Lian lost 1,460 men. General Kuroki's army advanced in three strong columns, one northward along the valley of Sindahia, a tributary of the Taitse, as far as Liaodinta, whence a portion of these forces marched westward to Miao pass, threatening Anshanshan, the other portion pushing up the stream to Tunsinpu, four miles southwest of Liandiansian, where it was stopped by General Kouropatkin's Cossacks.

The second column marched along the high road and occupied Erdahe, whence the Japanese batteries shelled Liandlansian. a couple of miles northwest, until the fire of the Russian guns silenced them. Sev-Japanese batteries were completely filled and were abandoned by their

the fighting at Tsegow was of the most desperate description. The Japanese had the advantage of the mountainous country, advancing along a ridge extending from Tantziaputzy to Slaleindzy. The latter place is situated on the high road, ten miles southeast of Liao Yang. Possession of this point would render Liandiansian and Aupling untemple. It is not improbable that General Kuroki will therefore repeat his attack in this direction

The Japanese advance was characterized by the greatest stubbornness and arouses the belief in military circles that General Kuroki hay received considerable reinforce ments or General Kouropatkin has sent the greater portion of his army north, leaving ouple of corps at Line Yang.

The absence of news of a Japanese movement along the Taltse river, in order to ank Liao Yang, confirms the later view, as it would expose the attackers to being cut off by General Kquropatkin's main Anshanshan is midway between Hal Theng and Liao Yang, and Anping is thirteen miles southeast of Liso Yang. No tidings of a definite character from Port Arthur or Liao Yang have reached the public today.

It is understood that a full followed the desperate fighting of the earlier half of the week at Port Arthur. The lull was for the purpose of allowing the tired men to rest, arranging certain things in the plan of attack and for completing preparations for pressing the attack home.

The Japanese guns continue to shell the not engaged. Port Arthur is proving harder to reduce and capture than the genlic, which has been confidently awaiting the fall of the fortress daily for the last month, is disappointed at the delay. Much regret is expressed at the heavy losses, but the nation is unwavering in its grim determination to hammer and harrass Port pay the cost, however heavy it may be.

Czar is Determined to Fight Despite

Possible Reverses and Losses. LONDON, Aug. 27.-The Associated Press learns in connection with the revival of the rumors of mediation that Emperor Nicholas only recently announced in the most positive terms that he would permit peace negotiations should Port Arthur fall and General Kouropstkin be driven back to Harbin. This fact, well understood in official circles, has prevented the British government from taking any steps in the direction of mediation. It is known here that Germany understands this attitude as well as Great Britain and other powers. Therefore the reports from Paris that Emperor William is prepared to suggest prace is dismissed as groundless, for the present the fire of ten batteries and simultaneously battery on the west shore of the Linoti at least. If General Kouropatkin, however, should win a decisive victory at Liao Yang, which in a measure would restore Russian prestige, it is believed here that all the examiners and the result of this the restoration of peace would undoubtedly be materially facilitated.

Beyond the acknowledgement of the reselpt of orders to search for the Russian olunteer fleet steamers Smolensk and St. Petersburg the admiralty here has not neard from Rear Admiral Durnford, in ommand of the Cape of Good Hope station. The admiralty denies the statement published here that Admiral Durnford has seen ordered to shadow the Smolensk and St. Petersburg and see that they do not violate the instructions of their government. It is pointed out that such an act would show suspicion of the good faith of Ruscis, which Great Britain does not care to doubt after the delivery of the orders British cruisers which are searching for the volunteer fleet steamers, will return to port and cable to London the fact

For the purpose of ascertaining the general conditions of the national banks and their ability to meet the demands upon them incident to the annual movement of the crops the comptroller of the currency, under date of August 4, 1904, sent to the national bank examiners, with the exception of those whose districts are comprised within the New England cities and the city of New York, a circular letter of inquiry containing the following questions:

1. Will the demand for your section be greater or less this year than last, and will it come any earlier or any later?

2. Are the banks in your section better prepared to meet the demand on them from their own resources than they have been in the past year or two?

3. Will the money required by the banks in your district come mainly from their deposits in the reserve and central reserve cities, or will they be large borrowers?

4. Will there be any increase or decrease in the amount your banks will have to borrow? troller of the currency;

Replies have been received from nearly inquiry may be summarized as follows:

The demand on the banks will be about the same with the exception of these in the following states: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Ohio, Minnesota and Wiscomein, where it will be greater and from two to three weeks earlier; and in Indiana and Missouri, where it will be loss and a little inter.

The banks are generally as well, but in most cases better prepared than they have been in the past year or two to meet the demands made upon them. The banks in the following states are better prepared: Arizona, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, New Mexico, New York, New Jersey, Nebraska, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Texas, Tennessee, Utah, Virginia, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Wyoming and Washington.

The banks ir Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Indian territory, Iowa, Louisiana, Missouri and Oklahoma are not as well prepared.

While the banks will decend mainly upon their deposits with reserve agents to supply funds for moving the crows the amount of inquiry may be summarized as follows:

that they have executed their commission.

DOCTORS FOR MEN

When you are first aware of any private disease, weaknesses or drains upon your vitality, then it is that you should decide an important question, one that means much to your future health and happiness. If you procure the proper medical advice without delay you will secure to yourself that health, success and enjoyment of life which is every man's lot, whose bright and steady eyes, clear and healthy skin, active brain, consental makeup and physical development show that no contaminating influences of private diseases are devastating his system. That no mental, moral or physical weaknesses are depleting his manhood, that no secret drains upon his vitality are robbing him of his substance and making his life a miserable fallure.

Otherwise, if you delay too long or experiment with uncertain and improper treatment, or allow yourself to be deceived by misleading statments or incompetent doctors or specialists, then you will be one of the many unfortunates who have long regretted that they held their first little ailment too cheaply; who after years of suffering and dowing with cheap preparations, free treatments and quick cure fallacies, come to the specialists of the State Medical Institute to be cured. They fully realize the great mistake that they have made in not consulting these great specialists first. Will you make the same mistake, or will you get the best first? Do not be satisfied until you have been examined by the best specialists in the country. You may be sent away happy without any treatment, but advice that will not only save you much time and money, but will save you mental disgrace. If your condition requires treatment, you will be treated honestly and skilifully and be restored to perfect health in the shortest possible time and at the least possible expense.
