

JOYS FELT ONLY BY MOTHERS

Love of Children is Not Dying Out in This Country.

FACTS RACE SUICIDE WRITERS OVERLOOK

Vigorous Exception Taken to the Assertion that American Mothers Do Not Want to Hear Families.

One can scarcely pick up a paper or a magazine of late without seeing something in regard to "Race Suicide," most writers inferring from statistics presented that the majority of American married people are averse to having any children, or want but two at most...

From these articles one would be led to believe that the love for children is dying out of our race, that the fullest meaning of love, marriage and home is not being realized.

It is in so, how hard, cold and selfish are we becoming. No doubt there are many who have in their hearts and interests no place for that most beautiful and wonderful thing in nature—a little child—and could never appreciate...

There is, however, another set of statistics which can never be gathered, for they are heart secrets, in many cases not divulged to the doctor even. For many people consider their wishes in regard to this subject too sacred to be spoken of.

There is, however, another set of statistics which can never be gathered, for they are heart secrets, in many cases not divulged to the doctor even. For many people consider their wishes in regard to this subject too sacred to be spoken of.

It makes such mothers indignant to constantly read such statements as: "Women are so interested in society and club life that they don't want to be bothered with a family."

Let us say, then, that the small American family, instead of indicating selfishness, laziness and a dislike for children, really indicates a great amount of self-denial, a deep love for children and conscientious thought for their welfare, and tender solicitude for the wife.

Let us believe that Eugene Field, in his beautiful poem of "Pittypat and Tippytoe," has voiced the sentiments of the majority of American parents:

All day long they come and go, Pittypat and Tippytoe. Footprints up and down the hall, Finger-marks scattered on the floor, Tell-tale smudges on the door, By these presents you shall know Pittypat and Tippytoe.

Case is Transferred. Bennett G. Willis of Omaha has brought suit in the United States circuit court for $200 damages against the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railroad company for injuries received while he was an employe of that road at a brick yard. The injuries complained of constitute a fractured skull, a crushed foot and others which he says are of a permanent nature and were caused by his jumping from a train of the defendant road at Laska, Neb., September 6, 1903. The case is transferred from the district court of Douglas county.

BREAD GOES UP IN PRICE.

Follows Meat, Milk, Coal and Other Necessaries of Life.

DUE TO HEAVY ADVANCE IN WHEAT

So Far, However, It is the Retailer Who Pays the Extra Charge and Not the Consumer. Meat, coal, milk and a few other necessities of life having gone up, now it is bread that is to be advanced. The bakers of Omaha, Council Bluffs and South Omaha have issued their edict and on Monday morning they will deliver twenty-five loaves of the staff of life for $1.00, instead of the usual twenty-eight as heretofore.

All in on the Deal. Council Bluffs bakers held a meeting Friday afternoon and decided it was time they were meeting the steady rise in flour. They discussed the matter and finally agreed to make the advance. Bakers on this side of the river were called upon, so were the South Omaha bakers.

It is a fact that every cent advance on wheat means 5 cents a barrel increase in the price of flour. Wheat has advanced during the last two or three months over 30 cents a bushel. "No reduction in the weight of the loaves will be made, the law requiring a full pound to each loaf," said a leading baker.
