(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 27 .- (Special.)-Prosperous Nebraska in all Its goregousness will be ready for the inspection of the public at the state fair grounds Monday, and though there is much work yet to be done before the final touches are added, those exhibits that are in place indicate that this year the showing will be better and bigger than ever before. The grounds were full of workmen today and will be all day tomorrow, getting things in shape. A Burlington freight train with every car loaded with exhibits to go into the different departments occupied most of the track in the grounds, while drays and wagons kept up a continual procession from the city, carrying out exhibi; tion materials. The agricultural exhibit is fast taking on shape and by Monday one the grandest displays of Nebraska oducts ever put together will be ready. the horticultural exhibit is in charge of lyde Barnard, who takes the place of Secretary Russell at the latter's request, Mr. Russell is too busy shipping out peaches from his 160-acre farm in the suburbs to do much state fair work

This morning he shipped a carload to parties in Des Moines, and every day since July he has shipped out on an average of 2,000 cases. He has secured 60,000 baskets, argument, said the state board did what to get a speedy hearing. all of which he expects to fill and ship out it had a right to do in making the increase or sell at home. The J. M. Russell combeen raising peaches for the last seventeen years, and this year's crop Mr. Russell said was as good as they have ever raised. He has many samples of the twelve varieraised in the horticultural exhibit.

the Church Howe Injunction. AUBURN, Neb., Aug. 27 .- (Special.)-The case wherein Hon, Church Howe obtained a temporary injunction restraining the county clerk from extending on the tax rolls the 5 per cent increase made by the State Board of Equalization came on for hearing yesterday on the motion filed by the attorney general and county attorney to dissolve the temporary order before Judge W. H. Kelligar of the district court. Attorney General Prout and his deputy, Norris Brown, together with County Attorney Quackenbush, argued the case in support of the motion, and Edgar Ferneau and H. A. Lambert represented the plaintiff. The first contention of the attorneys for the defense was that the court had no jurisdiction of the case; that the board acted judicially, and its action was final and could not be reviewed by a court of equity. This contention was overruled by the court, which announced that in a proper case a court of equity would grant reextra conches on its regular trains and Hef. The case was then argued on the question whether the petition stated a cause for action, and whether there was any equity in the bill, and on this phase the court took the case under advisement and will render an early decision

There was no change at all in the strike situation in South Omaha on Saturday. The packers reported the arrival of some men from Kansus City and Chicago sent Of course these things have their effect on the business of the big plants and the travmen sent here from the south who proved ellng men will have a great deal to overunsatisfactory. The packers assert that they now have all the men they want to It is easier to make new customers than to take care of the livestock receipts and that recover old ones that have dropped off. I the track at a rapid gait and had gone there is no trouble in getting butchers from other cities.

No news of any importance was given out at labor hendquarters last night. None of the officials here had heard from Chiby the police and placed in the county cago, at least no news of any importance had been received. Committees of union men with authority from labor headquarters have been soliciting financial aid in Omaha and South Omaha. Those constituting the solciting committee did not make any report last night, but one is expected today. The relief store was not opened Saturday as was expected. leaders say that supplies of the kind wanted could not be secured.

While few union men were to be seen on the streets last night, those who were about seemed to think that a settlement of a satisfactory nature would be reached in Chicago on Monday. Just what kind of a settlement President Donnelly proposes is not known here, and so the leaders assert that they cannot talk with any mill authority on the matter.

> Men Moved Easily. Saturday night's dummy train was made up of ten coaches and the cars were all filled with men now working in the packing houses who were taken to Omaha to > spend Sunday. In order to prevent as far as possible disturbances similar to Saturday night, August 20, extra precautions were taken. Sheriff Power sent down twenty-four deputies in addition to the ten deputies already doing night duty. Chief Briggs put on number of extra special police to assist in preserving order.

> The first sign of disturbance in the even ing occurred about 8 o'clock, when Louis Alix and John Cross were arrested at Thirty-third and L streets for assaulting a nonunion man. The police were unable at the time to learn the name of the man assaulted, but word was received at the city jall that he had not been badly injured. These prisoners are to be turned over to Sheriff Power.

> On account of some extra work a portion of the office force at Cudahy's was detained last night until 9 o'clock. Two special motor cars had been provided for the men, and these cars were amply protected by police and deputies. Both of the special cars went through without any disturbance being started, and only a few strikers gathered to see the start. The streets cleared shortly after 10 o'clock an dthe extra deputies and some o'clock and the extra deputies and some duty shortly before midnight.

> Strike Breakers Have Enough Quite a number of strike breakers said upon leaving the plants last evening that they would not return, as a settlemen is looked for on Monday and they considered that a portion of the old men would go back to work in a day of two.

> The police found it necessary to take two deputy sheriffs into custody last night for being drunk. At the jail the deputies gave Nachtrebles. Cavicski told Judge Berka he was not a striker, although he had worked in the packing houses. He had been employed recently as a laborer on the Union Pacific and lives in Sheelytown. He declared Sipes had struck him without any provocation, knocking him insensible and making a bad wound on his forehead. Sipes said the man had called him names and he was atraid he was going to strike him.

"You should not have used your club or this man," said Judge Berka, "He did othing that would warrant any such brutal attack. I fine you $35 and costs. Sipes was remanded to jail to serve out
