All Eyes are on the New Dress Goods and Silks

A lady was overheard to remark: "Ah, the goods at Thompson, Belden & Co.'s are so different, and they have a different way of doing things there—I feel it the moment I enter the door."

It is as different as day is from night, from the usual heter, ekeler, throw-together style of business.

We wish to say we use the utmost care, and our long continued experience, selecting only the best of fabrics, showing them in good honest daylight, never satisfied with "good enough"; we try each season to reach a higher standard.

As a rule the styles shown by Thompson, Belden & Co. are all our own exclusive styles.

Confid and see the new Autumn Dress Goods and Silks.
