Why is Millard for Gurley?

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 23, 1904.

Mr. Editor: From what has recently been said, by one of the machine leaders, concerning the candidacy of W. F. Gurley for the United States attorneyship, it is perfectly clear to me why Senator Millard supported Mr. Gurley so vigorously, to the last, when he knew that Mr. Gurley would not be appointed unless he got Mr. Rosewater's support. Mr. Millard, of course, was under obligations to Mr. Summers, and wanted to hold Mr. Summers in his place as long as it was possible. He held him there more than a year after his term had expired, by supporting Mr. Gurley. I cannot comprehend why Mr. Millard and the federal office holders and employes should all be plugging for Mr. Gurley. Can it be possible that Senator Millard wants to keep Mr. Hitchcock in his place just as he wanted to keep Mr. Summers in his job? Is Senator Millard really pursuing the tactics of John M. Thurston, who used all his influence to keep Senator Allen in the United States senate, so as to have all the patronage to himself?

If anybody can enlighten us anti-machine republicans on this subject we would know better how to vote at next Saturday's primaries.
