CARNIVAL OPENING IS AUSPICIOUS

Over Eight Thousand People Attend First Day.

With glorious weather, which promises to remain for the rest of the week, the third annual fair and carnival opened in the most favorable auspices. The attendance far exceeded the opening days of the two previous years.

The carnival is on a much larger scale this year and the attractions are of a far superior character. The grounds have been enlarged and the decorations of the many booths are more elaborate than before.

The exhibits in the booths are most attractive and line two sides of First street and part of one side of Sixth street. Among the churches and charitable organizations which have booths are the Associated Charities, St. Paul's church, the Trinity Methodist church, the First Baptist church, the Flower Mission, the Woman's Christian association and Mercy hospital, all having fully furnished emergency hospital tents on the grounds, with a staff of nurses.

The fair department has a large booth, where a member of the department is always on duty. Chief Nicholson or one of his men will at all times during the fair

OLD RESIDENT KILLED BY FALL

A. B. Boren Taken to Police Station, Where He Dies.

A. B. Boren, an aged farmer living near Crescent City, died yesterday afternoon at police headquarters, three hours after being taken there for medical attendance after he had fallen from his buggy on Upper Broadway.

Boren left home in the morning to drive to the city to witness the Labor day parade. Shortly after starting, it is said, another vehicle collided with his buggy, throwing him out. Boren, however, was not thought to be injured and he insisted on continuing his way to town.

The remains were taken to the family home in Crescent and the funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Latter Day Saints church in Crescent city and burial will be in the Crescent cemetery.

Cruelty in a Jail

A story of terrible cruelty inflicted in the city jail came to light today. Ole H. Hansen, a vagrant, was placed in the jail Sunday and soon thereafter two others, giving the names Pat, Crowe and Walter McNeely, seized Hura, striped him, divided his clothes between them, then applied lighted matches to his back and terribly burned him. Employees of the city building saw the acts and gave evidence in court today against the two men and they were given a long jail sentence.

Planning for Colleges

The legislative committee charged with the duty of investigating the three state colleges and their management with a view to recommending whether one board should be preferable to three for their management, and including the state school college for the blind under the same board of regents, will meet this week in Des Moines to lay plans for the investigation.

Washington Musicians Strike

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The musician's union today declared a general strike of the orchestras of the local theaters. Three houses are open. The men employed at two of them went out and the performances were given with improvised orchestras, while in the case of the third the orchestra was reduced to a few members.

WOODMEN ARE AT ST. LOUIS

Big Week Promised for Fraternal and Other Organizations at World's Fair.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5.—Two hundred Forester teams of the Modern Woodmen of America, comprising about 3,000 persons, have gone into camp on the exposition grounds.

A large number of persons were attracted to the World's fair grounds today by the several special events.

Labor day was observed with a parade and athletic sports. An interesting program also marked the opening of Woodmen's and Lumbermen's week.

A special feature which helped swell the number of people on the grounds was the free admittance of the children.

Olympic games and aquatic contests were held in the United States life savers' lake and the day closed with an elaborate display of fire works.

A reception in the Oklahoma building, attended by Governor Ferguson and his staff, and sixteen young women, chosen from twelve cities in the United States and four cities throughout the world on account of their beauty, was one of the unique features of Oklahoma City day.

The parade was led by the Oklahoma band, composed of eighty musicians under the leadership of Gabriel, arrived in St. Louis today and began their engagement with the exposition Tuesday night.

Bearing a special invitation from President Francis to President Diaz of Mexico, to visit the World's fair, Arnold Shanklin left today for the City of Mexico.

MANEUVERING FOR POSITION

Brown and Blue Armies Start Bush for Center at Midnight.

BANQUET IN GENERAL CORBIN'S TENT

Ex-Senator Manderson of Nebraska Makes a Humorous Speech in Reply to Governor Warfield.

GAINESVILLE, Va., Sept. 5.—Orders for a rush to positions were given in both maneuver camps exactly at midnight to-night. The "blue" army, under General Grant, was put under way to attack the "brown" army, under General Bell. The orders of General Bell sent his forces towards his adversary at double quick. It is his desire to reach a position near the center of the maneuver field and stop the attacking forces, whose duty it is to force a passage through Thoroughfare Gap.

While the armies were preparing for their contest tonight in maneuver camps No. 1 and No. 2 corps headquarters prepared a scene quite in contrast to warfare. General Corbin and his distinguished guests gathered in the mess tent for dinner at 7 o'clock and the function was prolonged until 9 o'clock, while speeches in response to toasts were made. A toast to the president was drunk standing, a toast to Spain was responded to by Colonel Monteverde, the Spanish military attaché, who is an observer of the maneuvers.

The Inside Inn at St. Louis

An Ideal Place for Visitors Right Inside the Grounds—No Tiresome Journeys to or from the City—No Crowding—No Discomfort—Time and Money Saved.

No matter who you are or what you are! No matter if you wish to be a visitor or otherwise, if you wish to see the World's Fair at St. Louis and enjoy every moment of your time, the best place to stay-indeed, the only place to stay—is The Inside Inn.

The building of this splendid hostelry has marked new departure in world's fair accommodations, it being the first time that the administration of any exposition has taken the question of lodging and creature comforts of its visitors under its personal supervision.

Every modern convenience obtainable has been installed and the comforts thus afforded enable visitors to enjoy the sights of the exposition whenever they please and then go to their rooms for a great without a long tiresome journey to and from their lodgings. A great saving of time and money is consequently effected, as night sleeping can be begun directly after breakfast and continued late into the night without any unexciting run for the "last car."

No admission fee other than the first is required from those guests who remain within the precincts of the fair at the Inside Inn.

The Inside Inn is run on both the European and American plans and the rates are exceedingly moderate, ranging from $1.50 to $5.00 European, and from $3.00 to $7.00 American, including daily admission in both cases.

The enormous capacity of the Inside Inn assures first-class accommodations for all—no matter when or in what numbers they come—and guests prefer to secure their rooms in advance, as they make reservations now for any period up to December 1st. A post card addressed to The Inside Inn, Administration Bldg., World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis, will bring you an interesting booklet, giving full details and plans.

While the armies were preparing for their contest tonight in maneuver camps No. 1 and No. 2 corps headquarters prepared a scene quite in contrast to warfare. General Corbin and his distinguished guests gathered in the mess tent for dinner at 7 o'clock and the function was prolonged until 9 o'clock, while speeches in response to toasts were made.

A toast to the president was drunk standing, a toast to Spain was responded to by Colonel Monteverde, the Spanish military attaché, who is an observer of the maneuvers.

Colonel Rasnovoff, the Russian representative, emptied his glass to the president, Governor Warfield of Maryland spoke for his state, and incidentally remarked that Maryland was responsible for Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and other western states.

This gave ex-Senator Manderson of Nebraska, who spoke next, an opportunity for a humorous thrust. He had often wondered, he said, where to look for the source of his friend Bryan. He knew Maryland was responsible for him according to the confession of its governor. He touched on the strictures reported to have been made by Representative Livingston of Georgia in the House of Representatives at dinner in General Corbin's camp. He invited an investigation by congress and hoped the women present, Mrs. Corbin, Mrs. Grant and Miss Patten, would be called as witnesses.

Any member of either house of congress, he said, who would not be able to proper things for the army, that it might be efficient as such, was not worthy a place in congress.

General F. V. Greene of New York and Brigadier General Riggs of Massachusetts also responded to toasts.

Regimental and brigade departures were ordered by both division commanders this morning. Outposts consisting of one-sixth of the force in each command were sent out and relieved frequently during the day in order that the men might get practice in the work before tomorrow.

The final suggestions of Colonel Wagner, chief umpire, were issued by General Grant today in the form of a general order. They emphasize the necessity of making the maneuvers conform to conditions of actual warfare. Caution regarding firing are given and the prevention of actual collisions between opposing forces also emphasized. Shots are to be fired at 100 yards or more from each other they are to cease firing. Should they find themselves within twenty-five yards they are to elevate their guns, but utmost, as a sign that the decision of the umpire is final.

Nearly all of the foreign military attaches were to observe the maneuvers as they are now in camp. They include: Colonel Monteverde, Spanish; Colonel Rasnovoff, Russia; Colonel Foster and Major Williams, England; Colonel Altamira, Mexican; Colonel Asakby, Turkey; Captain Poernier, French.
