May Retreat to Harbin. PARIS, Sept. 6,-An official of the Japanese legation said today he expected that the battle deciding the future of Manchuria would occur at Harbin, as General Kouropatkin's flight had been too hurried topermit him to entrench at Mukden. Owing to the distance of Harbin from Mukden, about 325 miles, and the approach of winter, the battle, the official added, probably would not occur before spring. In the time, if Russia desires peace it would ... to open-negotiations, but the Japaness government would never make the first propositions, as they are calculating that the war will last three years, and are making preparations accordingly. The Temps quotes an Teminent Russian. which is understood to mean the Russian embassy here, as follows:

Russia will never make the first proposition for peace. Furthermore, it will entertain no proposition for intervention, even if it comes from the powers having the greatest sympathy for it, and which it considers its friends. This is the unalterable position of our government.

FIELD MARSHAL OYAMA REPORTS Says that Russians Will Try to Hold

Colliertes Near Yental. TOKIO, Sept. 6-8 p. m .- An extended report from Field Marshal Oyama, the Japacommander-in-chief in the field, was received in Tokio today and made public tonight. It is largely devoted to a review of the fighting which took place between August 24 and September 4.

The announcement that the Russians will retain possession of the Yental colleries ina strong possibility of a battle there. Yental is the only colliery in northern Manchuria and its possession is of vital importance to the Russians in connection with the operation of the reflecad. Field Marshal Oyama reports that a portion of the Russian troops hold Yingshiulesu, south of Yental, and that General Kuroki's right is in close touch with the dans. He announces also that the left and center Japanese armiest under the command, respectively, of Generals Oku and Nodgu, have halted on the left bank of the Taltse fiver and that it is his intention to dispatch a portion of them to occupy the heights north of Muchang and along the

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR PARADE

Ten Thousand Members of Order March in Review at San Francisco.

THREE HOURS -PASSING GIVEN POINT

Grand Encampment Holds First Session in Afternoon-Receptions and Concerts in the Evening.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6 .- Ten thousand Knights Templar marched through the rated city streets today, inspired by the music of forty bands and the cheers of thousands of spectators who lined every foot of the way, crowded windows and doorways and filled the grandstand and review stands crecked for the purpose. The order of formation included twelve grand

The parade started in the heart of the city, wound in and out of the downtown banking district, thence for twelve blocks up the main thoroughfare of Market street to the broad and beautiful boulevard, Van Ness avenue, where a number of grand-stands were erected. From one of those Most Eminent Grand Master Stoddard with the chief officers and members of the grand. encampment reviewed the parade. From another stand, close by, Gevernor George C. Pardee, Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz, the ost worshipful grand master, officers of the grand lodge Free and Accepted Masons, the most eminent high priest and officers of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Grand Council Royal and Select Masons, also saw the procession pass in review. Parade Moves Promotly.

The parade moved promptly at 10 o'clock, the appointed time. It was headed by a squadron of mounted police, Sir Knight George W. Wittman, chief of police, commanding; commander of the parade, Eminent Sir Charles L. Field,; grand captain general of California and his staff, Eminent Sir George D. Clark. In this section were two carriages, the first carrying Most Eminent Sir Henry Bates Stoddard, grand master of the grand encampment of Knights Templar of the United States of America, and Most Eminent the earl of Euston, grand master of the Great Priory of England and Wales. The latter was the center towards which all eyes were focused, the throngs seeming to be eager to catch a glimpse of the noble genleman who represented King Edward of England. In the second carriage of the first division rode Right Eminent Sir George Mayhew Moulton, deputy grand master of the grand encampment, and Very Eminent Charles F. Matier, knight commander of the temple, grand vice chancellor of the Great Priory. Other officers of the grand encampment followed in carriages, and after them came the remaining divisions in a long line of marchers.

een in San Francisco. It occupied three nours in passing a given point, though no time was there protracted delay. The advance along the line of march of the more largely represented eastern commanderies was signalized by continuous cheering and when the band heading the Kentucky contingent struck up "Dixle" the enthusiasm of the spectators was unsounded.

New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois made especially fine showings, though so commanderies excelled in various points that a critical comparison is im-possible. As was to have been expected, the knights who reside on the Pacific coast turned out in full strength, and though ost of them b night up the rear of the on, were given their meed of applause. The day was exceedingly warm and the long mat it was wearlsome to the older knights. A great many dropped efore passing the reviewing stand.

Kaight Drops Dead. Joseph Leath, of Couer de Leon com nandery, Knoxville, Tenn., dropped dead during the parade, while starting to do a knightly act. He was riding in a carriage and, noticing a comrade who seemed be almost overcome, he stepped from his carriage to offer him a seat. As he touched the ground he fell dead from an apoplectic stroke.

Mr. Simonoff, a local sir knight, was thrown from his horse and was severely injured. An incident of the parade was the marching out of line just before the procession started by Boston commandery No. 1, being the oldest commandery in Massachusetts, they thought they were entitled to a position immediately behind the grand commandery of Massachusetts and Rhode Islland. This place had been assigned to De Molay commandery of Boston. The members of Boston commandery No. 1 re-. fused to march in the place assigned them and returned to their hotel.

The business session of the grand comnandery began today with a short meeting in the afternoon at which the repreentatives of the grand officers were made The first session of the grand encampment was held this afternoon. At the same time Oakland commandery held a reception and open house was maintained at all

VOTE TO GO TO WORK

(Continued from First Page.) able result of the balloting could be obtained tonight and the reports of those who made a canvass of the situation conflicted. It was claimed by several of the striking butcher workmen that their union had voted to reject the proposition offered by the Allied Trades conference board. These persons asserted that the butchers would not agree to an unconditional surrender as exacted by the packers and which it is said was agreed to by the Allied Trades conference board. To offset these reports many of the butchers declared that their organization had voted to return to work on the terms offered by the employers.

Some Refuse to Vote. Contrary to expectations, a number of the unions interested in the struggle have so far refused to vote at all on the proposition, but it is the general belief that these organizations will take the final vote. What the reasons, are for refusing to accede to the instructions of the Allied Trades conference is not known. One of the organizations which has refused to consider the question is the live stock handlers. According to President Donnelly the refusal of these union will have no material effect on the final result, as It will be the total vote which will declde the proposition. A meeting of all the strikers has been called for tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, when Mr. Donnelly will announce the result of the vote. The beginning of the end of the stock yards strike came early this morning, when, according to the packers more than 1,000 of the strikers applied for their old positions and were taken back. Men began to seek work a few hours before the time set for a meeting of the allied trades conference board, which, representing twenty-two trades involved in the strike, was, as seemed to be the general mpression, to consider the question of submitting to the unions whether the strike should be called off or not. There was talk among the strikers at the yards about 'terms of settlement." Officials of the packing companies; however, declared that no terms of settlement had been reached. that strikers applying for their old places would be reinstated without discrimination, but no agreement would be made with the

The vote, it is stated, was 1.760 in favor of returning to work and 511 in favor of continuing the strike. Officers of the union refused to either affirm or deny these figures officially or to even say whether or not the question of returning to work was voted upon.

Leave it to Donnelly. ST. He said that on Saturday he saw the train, but was guided in signalling the motorman to come shead by the fact that the flagman signalled him that it was all right and also said that it was all right.

Uetz swore he did not say "All right" or signal for the car to cross and declare that he did not even see the conductor. The conductor, however, admitted that he saw the train approaching before he signalled the motorman to come ahead. A. W. Burbank, the engineer of the shuttle train, testified that the car came to stop on the Wabash track. After examining many witnesses the jury returned the following verdict: "The evidence shows that the conductor of the street car erred in signalling to the motorman to go ahead and that the motor man erred in not going forward more quickly, due either to hesitation or to the blowing out of the fuse in the switch overhead, and the ordinance was violated in not using the safety gates, which should have been down, "The evidence shows that the time

South Omaha, Jay Laverts

On motion of Frank Shotwell a vote of thanks was given the retiring congressional committee for Its work for the party. Joseph Koutsky of South Omaha was offered the place of secretary of the convention, but declined.

Mr. Kennedy will announce the chairman and executive committee which will manage his campaign within a few days.

JUDICIAL CONVENTION IS BRIEF

Result of the Primaries Quickly Ratified by the Delegates. The judicial convention was brief and decisive. It was called together by A. H. Burnett, chairman of the committee, at 3:40. C. H. Murdock of South Omaha was made chairman and T. E. Taylor of Burt county secretary. Chairman Murdock ansounced that the primary vote had given Howard Kennedy jr. 2,563 votes in the district to Judge E. M. Bartlett's 2,102. Ken nedy was declared the nominee by a unanimous vote. Called for, Mr. Kennedy said he would not detain the delegates with a speech. He thanked his supporters and said he deeply appreciated their efforts and would try to prove worthy of the confidence reposed in him, of the traditions of the party and the pre-eminently well fitted leader President Roosevelt. The convention adjourned without making arrangements for a new judicial committee and the old one will continue in power until the next convention, Judge Bartlett, who had been at Sious City, reached the city just after the convention adjourned and was much chagrined that he had not been permitted to be present and answer when his name was called In speaking of the matter last night he said that he is heartly in favor of the ticket chosen by both conventions and that he will give both the Kennedys his earnest and unremitting support. Marking Panama's Boundary. WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.-The State de partment is watching with interest developments in the isthmus connected with the establishment of the castern boundary be tween Panama and Colombia. It appears that while the geographers have drawn an arbitrary line beginning at Cape Tiburon, on the Gulf of Darlen, as a matter of fact no survey has ever been made, and while the old treaties spoke of the boundary as lying on the watershed crossing the isthmus at that point, even the existence of that shed has never been determined.

Moddy Confers with President. attorneys and could better prepare for his defense. He will be defended by two of the leading attorneys of Yankton.

Sentiment is said to have switched in favor of Ault and many of those who at the time of the shooting denounced bigs.
