That these positions were of considerable importance is evidenced by the fact that the Russians risked the lives of valuable men in open fighting in their efforts to disledge the Japanese from them. The Novi Kral of August 31 devotes considerable space to an account of small Russian reconnoissances which started from Palungshan and reached a point near Shushiyen without encountering any Japanese. Returning to their own lines on the night of the 29th, this party came upon a trench in an open field garrisoned by a solitary Japanese soldier, who abandoned his rifle and fled upon seeing the Russians. The Russians captured some trenching tools, but they discovered the Japanese in force behind a barrier thrown across the Mandarin road and returned swiftly to the

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7 .- The compe fition drill between four well drilled teams of Knights Templar was the day's feature of the triennial concieve. Louisville commandery, No. 1, won the first prize, St. Bernard's corps, Chicago, was second; Ivanhoe, Milwaukee, third; Malta, Binghamton, N. Y., fourth.

Following their great parade, admittedly the finest ever given by the order, the Knights Templar gathered at Golden Gate park to witness the triennial competitive the building owned by R. B. Mathieson is exhibition of their crack drill corps. The drill was held on the extensive lawn ordinarily devoted to base ball and other sports, and on the grassy slopes surrounding it many thousands of spectators were congregated. The weather was ideal.

The competition was between St. Ber-of Milwaukee. The St. Bernard drill corps won the first prize at the contest held during the conclave of 1883 and its appearance on the field today was greeted with great applause. The intricate evolutions were executed with precision of perfectly working machinery. The prizes awarded were of great beauty and value. Exhibition Drills.

The competitive drill of the eastern knights was followed by exhibition drills by the drill corps of Golden Gate commandery and the mounted drill corps from California commandery, neither of which would enter rivalry with their guests from beyond the Sierras. Following this there was a battalion parade and review of the four competing drill corps, under the command of the Right Eminent Sir Frank W. Sumner, past grand commander of Call-grand encampment, at which much was accomplished for the good of the order. Three regular officers of the United States army acted as judges to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The first of the competing teams to appear was the drill corps of Louisville commandery No. 2, led by Sir Knight Frank Fehr. They were met and greeted by twenty pretty Kentucky girls, who waved scarfs of white and black and scattered J. Mackay, Judge W. flowers along the path which they hoped would lead to victory. The men were in excellent form and to the inspiring strains of "Dixie" executed the specified evolutions and several extra movements, apparently without flaw. Then came Malta commandery No. 2 of Binghamton, N. Y., Under command of Sir Knight A. W. F. Buck. Their work, to the layman, also seemed perfect, giving evidence of long training and close attention to detail.

Then, headed by the California band, with its imposing drum major, thirty-five menof the St. Bernard commandery of Chicago, directed by Sir Knight Frank C. Roundy. marched to the front in single file, presenting a mathematically straight line. After saluting they quickly and cleverly carried out their part of the program and on retiring were cheered by fully 25,000 people. The drill cor- from Ivanhoe commandery No. 23 of Milwaukee came last, It had twenty-eight men, commanded by Sir Knight D. Milton Jones, and received fully as favorable notice as did its predecessors. When it withdrew from the field the judges consulted regarding their decision, which was anxiously awaited.

Business Sessions. The preliminary meeting of the grand encampment of the Knights Templar was held today. The opening address of welcome was delivered by Governor Pardee of California on behalf of the knights of the state, who was followed by Mayor Schmitz on behalf of the city of San Francisco. The routine of the first meeting consisted many questions which will come before the body. The reports of the officers on the current events of the week and also upon the work of the last three years were received and referred to the committees The grand masters of the priory of England, Ireland and Wates were present as guests.

TALK OF INJUNCTION SUIT County Democracy Threaten to Go to

Court to Head Off Jacksonians,

The Jacksonians may be enjoined from taking the course developed Tuesday even-Considerable talk of this nature been heard from the oppo sition. Another course of action, which is intimated in some places as much more probable, will be the nominating of both the democratic and a republican candidate by some non-partisan organization. William A. Paxton is mentioned by several and is understood to be sultable to various elements. He has not been a candidate, but the popular idea is that he would accept the office if it should be offered. It was said an injunction would be sworn out today by the county democracy and it was intimated Lysle Abbott, one of the unterrified, would act for the dissatisfied element. Mr. Abbott acknowledged having heard talk of an injunction, but said he would take no such action unless employed as an attorney to do so. Moreover he thought an injunction improbable.

"What seems more probable to me than an injunction," said Mr. Abbott, "is the nominating of other candidates by a nonpartisan body. The law says the water ommission shall be nonpartisan. It does not say, however, the democrat must be nominated by democrats or the republican by members of his own party. #### WEDDINGS SOCIETY WATCHED Hamilton-Barton and Doorly-Hitchcock Nuptials Celebrated Last Evening.

Two truly charming weddings, the first of the several in which the fashionable contingent are especially interested this fall, were solemnized last evening, the first, that of Miss Eleanora Katherine Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jo F. Barton, and Mr. George William Hamilton, at St. Matthias' church, at 6 o'clock, and the other that of Miss Margaret Hitchcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hitchcock, and Mr. Harry Doorly at St. Barnabas church, at 7:30, ture, was never more charming and, though it has been the scene of not a few fashionable weddings, none have been more impressive and yet more simple in detail. The body of the church was without decoration, but great clusters of pink and white asters trimmed the altar and palms and ferns were massed about the chancel the guests, about 500, were being seated, Mrs. M. A. Benjamin of Council Bluffs, organist, played Handel's Largo and the prelude to the third act of "Lohengrin," and then, preceded by the church's surpliced choir of forty voices, singing the "Lohengrin" wedding march, the bridal party passed up the main asile, first the ushers, Mr. Joseph Swartzlander and Mr. Ray Dumont, and after them the bride's maids, Miss Louise Hamilton and Miss Mary Woodbridge, gowned in white Paris muslin over pink, and each carrying a bunch of pink asters. Miss Jessie Barton, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, walked next, dressed in white Paris musin over green and carrying white asters. After these came the bride with her father, her long silk tulle veil falling almost to the floor over the bridal gown of white crepe-de-chene and a shower of white clematis that hung to the foot of the skirt. The groom, with his brother, Mr. Allan Hamilton, met the bridal party at the chancel steps and Rev. Philip Davidson. rector of St. Matthias, read the marriage service. Following the benediction the choir sang Sir John Stainer's "Sevenfold Amen" and then followed the bridal party out, singing the last half of the "Lohengrin" wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left last evening for an extended trip through Canada and Doorly-Hitchcock.

The Doorly-Hitchcock weddi ; was beautiful in simplicity in keeping with the modest appointments of St. Barnabas' church. The decoration was confined entirely to the chancel. That was massed on either side with palms and ferns and tall vases of white roses and overhead in bower effect ropes of plumosus fern and trailing clematis extended from the chancel arches to the side walls. Over the chancel steps was suspended a wedding bell of white blossoms and the whole was illuminated by a diffused electric light, concealed above. To the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" the wedding party walked to the chancel steps, the ushers, Messrs. Charles Shiverick, Lawrence Brinker, Robert Burns and Waiter Roberts, in advance, and after them the bridesmalds, Misses Faith Potter, Susan Holdrege, Marion Connell and Laura Congdon, all in white summer gowns and wearing wreaths of myrtle and carrying trailing clusters of white clematis and plumosus fern. Miss Anna Bourke, maid of honor, came next, gowned, like the maids, in a white summer gown with wreath and carrying the feathery green and white. Last, walking with her father, came the bride. The wedding gown was a handsome importation of panne chiffon with trimmings of chiffon applique. The bouquet was a loose cluster of bride's roses from which a shower of swansonia and white punsles dropped to the foot of her skirt and over all hung a long veil of silk tulle. The groom, with his best man, Mr. Will Valentine, took the bride at the chancel steps, Father John Williams performing the cere mony. A reception to the relatives and nearer friends followed the wedding at the Hitchcock home at Twentieth and Dodge streets, between 8 and 10 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Hitchcock and Mr. and Mrs. Doorly being assisted by the members of the bridal party.

Mr. and Mrs. Doorly left last evening for a wedding trip, to be at home after November 15 at 4032 Cuming street. The bride who was one of the most popular debutantes of two season's ago, is one of the most charming young women in society and was much missed last winter during her sojourn in Washington with her parents. ## TRIBBLES HAS TRIBULATIONS Objects to Constant Grind of Phono-

D. W. Tribbles of 807 North Forty-third street is a free-born American citizen and a taxpayer of the city of Omaha. He said so himself when telephoning the police last night regarding a phonograph belonging to a family by the name of Daniels living at Forty-fifth and Cuming streets. said Tribbles, "a peacefully inclined man and music, apart from Wagnerian stunts, is a joy unto my soul. But here is a phonograph, a combination of wheels and diabolical sounds, near my house and I want the police to destroy it." "Sir," replied Captain Mostyn, "I, too, am an American citizen and faxpayer of the city of Omaha and there is also a phonograph near my house. I quite understand your feelings, but the police are powerless to prevent wheels from going "But, captain," expostulated Tribbles,

"this family only has three records and I am weary of them." "What are the tunes?" asked Captain Mostyn. "'Hot Time,' 'Hiawatha, and 'Bedella'," was the answer "The case is hopeless," said Captain Mos-St. Matthias, with its quaint architec tyn. "Those are not tunes, those are diseases. Nothing can stop the people from playing them. I advise you to trust to time to have its effect."

Lies About the Inside Inn

We don't believe in knocking, hence we're not going to say a word about the other fellows; but in simple self-defense we propose to absolutely refute the malicious statements circulated by the St. Louis hotel and boarding house fraternity regarding the ability of the Inside Inn to care for the crowds who daily seek its hospitable roof. We therefore make the following statements in all honesty and good faith, and are prepared to "make good" on each and every one of them: 1. The Inside Inn is able, at all times, to comfortably accommodate all who come, at whatever rates they wish to pay. 2. The enormous size and wonderful equipment of the Inside Inn-with its 2,257 bedrooms and its immense dining halls, seating 2,500 people at a singer n.cal-absolutely precludes overcrowding or discomfort. 3. The fact that the Inside Inn is situated upon a beautiful eminence and surrounded by a natural forest makes it the coolest and most delightful spot in all St, Louis. 4. The convenience, comfort and economy of staying right inside the grounds has been appreciated by all, and the management spares no pains to make the sojourn of each and every guest thoroughly enjoyable in every way, and one of the pleas antest memories of the great World's Fair. 5. The rates are very reasonable, rang ing from $1.50 to $5.50 per day European, and $3.00 to $7.00 American plan-including daily admission to the grounds. For further details or reservations, apply The Inside Inn. World's Fair Grounds,

In the model shown here the waist is made with two broad pleats turning back from the front panel. The skirt is full, the panel effect being formed by backward turning tucks. The little dress may be cut away at the yoke, and worn with or without the guimpe. A charming development would be of white linen, making trimming bands and yoke of blue polka dot canvas or linen. Biue is only a suggestion as any favorite color may be used.
