SYMPATHY NEEDED BY ALL

MORE TOLERATION, HUMILITY AND LOVE

Floquent Pastor of People's Church Is Minneapolis Occupies Pulpit at the First Baptist, Facing Large Congregation.

Rev. G. L. Morrill of the People's church in Minneapolis, who is counted one of the pulpit orators of the west, preached a sermen in the First Baptist church Sunday morning that caused tears from many comen in the large congregation. Rev. Mr. Morrill came here with the Minneapolis Shriners and was a classmate of Rev. J. p.

Conley, pastor of the First church. The leason taken for exposition was that of the centurion and the slave, as related in the seventh chapter of Luke 'Sympathy is a lesson needed by the world today," said Rev. Mr. Morrill. "Not the sympathy expressed in the daily 'How are you?' but the sympathy that the word itself implies-to suffer with. I have seen people on trains, on steamers and traveling about in autos full of it, filled with this pride in a degree to make the angels weep and hell roar. What they have to be proud of God knows. CONTENTS OF OLD CORNERSTONE Building Viewed by Congregation. The congregation of Kountze Memorial church Sunday morning saw the contents of the cornerstone placed years ago in the old church building at Sixteenth and Harney streets. Many of these members had seen the copper box sealed, had known what was placed inside and had been present at the ceremony of laying the stone. Few of these expected to see again these books and manuscripts. For this reason when Rev. J. E. Hummon took the history of the church written by Rev. F. G. Stelling for the purpose of preservation from the box after the morning service in The paper told of the growth of Immanuel Evangelical English Lutheran church from its inception in 1858, under Rev. Henry Kuhns and the Allegheny synod of Pennsylvania to the time of laying the cornerstone. Copies of The Bee and other papers and several books of hymns were well preserved, but a Bible was in a very advanced stage of decay.

The cornerstone of the new church will be laid at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of September 25. The ceremonies will be in charge of Dr. F. A. Altman, president of Midland seminary, Atchison, Kan.; Dr. M. F. Troxel, president of Midland college, and of the local pastor. The contents of the old box will be resealed in the copper receptacle and placed in the walls of the new church. A list of the contents of the old box, with the place of its location, will be put in the

ACTIVITY IN CHRISTIAN LIFE

Essential Element. Although Rev. J. H. Kirschstein of the North Side Christian church took his text from Matthew, ix, 36, his theme dealt with activity as applied to work of Christianity, He said:

"The situation in our day is the same as the time of Matthew; the harvest is ripe but labor is scarce. When the harvest same in the spiritual as in the material world. Labor and activity are necessary order that joy shall come to mankind.

> LACK OF PRAYER IN CHURCH One Element of Weakness, Dr. Robert Yost.

Rev. Robert Yost preached morning at St. Mary's avenue Congregational church from the text, "Awake, awake, put on thy strength, O arm of the Lord" and "Awake, put on thy strength, O Zion." The speaker said in part: "The one is a call to man and the other is a call to God. Does it mean that God disguised as a peasant personally inspected ever sleeps? No; it speaks of years of patience with the rebellious ways of a reis great and it can be expanded again and Memorial Marking Former Church again. The prophet does not suggest that God changeth, for the power of God never changeth. He is one and the same for all ages.

There is a difference between the power of God and its manifestation. God's power up and shake off your indifference, ask and I will come down with the power that will make you thrill with the love of God.' No man ever likes to admit his failure in business was due to himself and no church likes to admit its failure lies at its own oor. The record of God's love is measured capacity to receive and capacity by desire. God is full of patience. God is anxious to give and if you have not been blessed, do not blame God for it-the fault is all your own. Let us look at ourselves. The lesson taught by Christ on earth was one of prayer. You ask me if I believe in prayer, and I, who stand so many billions below Christ, answer you that I do believe in it. The trouble with the church is the lack of prayer. And when I pray and receive I never question the philosophy of it. I take it. If you have never learned to ask for a blessing, learn it now."

AT THE PLAYHOUSES

A Girl from Dixie" at the Boyd, Decidedly refreshing in the novelty i offers, "A Girl from Dixie" received a very cordial reception from two large audiences at the Boyd yesterday afternoon and evening. It is not a particularly ambitious piece in any regard, but it has a quality that is peculiarly its own, and that quality is one that pleases. Another of its advantages is that the people who are connected with it, and the chorus especially, can sing. Its situations are not of the kind that provoke uproarious laughter, nor are its songs of the sort that carry people off their feet, but there is a melody to them that is effective, and they are all sung with a finish that is delightful. Miss Genevieve Day, who is the "girl," has a full, rich soprane voice of pleasing tone quality, and uses it with rare intelligence, securing the best possible effects from the airs she is called upon to sing She was warmly received last night. Mr. Arthur T. Earnest, the tenor of the company, also has an excellent voice, which he uses very well. But there are others. The quartet of serenaders, who sing without accompaniment in the second act, render several songs to the immense satisfaction of their hearers, and the chorus is good at all times. In fact, it has been long since Omaha has heard a chorus that could sing as well.

D. L. Don and Clifford Leigh contribute most of the humor of the plece, and as each is a clever comedian, this part of the mess tent, Sunday is a genuine holiday, this performance is well taken care of. The stagir is handsome and effective and the company drilled to work with a snap, so that the general effect is excellent. Girl from Dixie" will be sung again this evening.

"Way Out West" at the Krug. This piece, well known to Omaha patrons of the "thriller." is being offered at the Krug for the first half of the week. It was played twice yesterday before the largest audiences that have assembled at that theater this season. The company has been especially chosen for the play and is well calculated to give it effective interpretation. Miss Grace Hull, a promising ingenue is playing Posey Parker, the girl of the piece, while Fred Hawley, an actor of much capacity, is doing the dual role of the Griggsby twins. Their support is adequate. The piece will remain until after Wednesday, with a matinee on Wednesday afternoon.

Met at Depot by Large Receiving Body and Marched Triumphantly to Hendquarters in Continental Block.

The victorious Foresters of Omaha camp No. 120, Modern Woodmen of America, re turned from St. Louis Sunday morning and are wearing their well earned laurels with becoming modesty. The Wabash train by which they returned was due to arrive in Omaha at $:20, but did not reach Omaha until nearly 10:30. The party was met at the Union station by delegations from B. & M. camp, Modern Woodmen of America, and lodge No. 17 of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and a host of admiring friends. A parade was at once formed of these organizations, Green's cornet band a platoon of Omaha police and marched to Modern Woodmen headquarters in the Continental block, Fourteenth and Douglas streets. The line of march was north on Tenth street to Farnam, west on Farnam to Sixteenth, north to Capitol avenue and east to Fifteenth, thence south to the Continental block. A great host of citizens greeted the victors.

The Woodmen left Omaha a week ago to participate in the various prize con tests, covering camp drills, inspection and individual contests and having to compete with the many crack teams throughout the United States during Woodmen week at St. Louis feel much elated over their suc-

Ernest Sweet, member of the Omaha team, won the first prize against over 3,000 competitors for excellence in sentry and guard duty, mounting to $50.

Pansy camp No. 10, auxiliary Royal Neighbors of America, to Maple camp No. 945, Modern Woodmen of America, won the first prize as the best female auxiliary camp for general excellence and drill.

In speaking of the treatment of the organizations at St. Louis, Manager Charley Riepen said:

"We cannot express our appreciation too highly. The fair management did everything possible for our comfort and entertainment. The western camps were invariably the most generally visited of all those at the World's fair. While we endeavored to maintain the strictest discipline in our camps, and I speak of all the Nebraska camps, yet we did not overlook the essential of western hospitality. There was less prudish formality in our camps than in those of the eastern states, and I think this took with the visitors. It is a pleasure to note that not one of the Nebraska contingent did a thing that could carried off most of the laurels we must not neglect to mention the excellent work performed by the juniors of Hebrew camp of Omaha, which won fifth place for general excellence, deportment and drill. This is a high distinction from the fact that our Nebraska juniors have been but recently organized. The work of Pansy camp No. 10 is also deserving of the most creditable mention, winning as they did, the first prize in the auxiliary contests."
