Vladwostok and Port Arthur are the nearest Russian ports to San Francisco, but it, is possible that our government would recognize the fact that they are absolutely slowed by blockade to the Lena and thus sanction the departure of a ship for Russia southward by way of the west coast of South Africa, Cape Horn and the At-

actually necessary the time allowed for them will be fixed by our government exnerts and when they are completed, though it is understood that they must not proceed beyond a point just sufficient to make the vessel sanworthy, it will be allowed to depart for Russia if it takes coal in San Francisco, or whence it pleases if it goes out under its own coal supply.

It is believed at the Nigvy department that the equiditions will not be allowed to shape themselves so that the Lena can go out of San Francisco harbor to prey on American commerce, even though this is carried in Japanese bottoms. In fact, the impression prevails that the Lena will be the war, the erew remaining aboard, if the Japacese government does not object, and interview with the Russian officers: this is not likely, in view of the precedent Askold, or they will be comfortably quartered at the training station on Yerba Buena island, in the middle of the harbor. It is believed that the Russian captain is probably a refugee and without hope of being able to keep the seas and escape the penalties of neutrality laws until some opportunity affords for him to carry the Lona safely through the Japanese blockade into Vladivostok. Will Inspect the Lens. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12 .- No repreclaims of Captain A. T. Berlinsky that the warship put into this port solely for the reason that its bollers were in such a condition as to render it absolutely unseaworthy. The Russian warship has now remained in port long over the twenty-four hour limit, and prominent members of the local Russian and Japanese colonies are evincing great interest in what they are prone to designate a "serious complication." It has been learned that the local inspector of hulls and hollers John K. Bulger will leave at 8 o'clock in the morning on the United States revenue cutter Hartley for the Lena. He will make a thorough inspection of its boilers and as soon as possible will submit a written report to Collector of the Port Stratton. Upon this report may depend whether or not the Lens to ordered to put to sea or whether it will be allowed to remain until such time as the repairs deemed necessary may be made. The Japanese were the first to bestir themselves when they learned of the pres ence of the Russian ship. Prominent members of the Japanese colony called on Kishaburo Uyeno, the Japanese consul general, and a long conference was held. What took place at this session is told by a prominent Japanese. He said that it was decided to have the Japanese consul general call on Collector Stratton and make the demand that the Lena leave port immediately. In the event of the refusal of this request the consul general was advised to demand of Collector Stratton that he be allowed to be the sole judge of the fitness of the Russian cruiser to put to sea.

Demands of the Japanese. . In accordance with these plans the Japanese consul general called upon Collector Stratton shortly after he entered his office this morning. The two gentlemen were closeted for an hour and a half. Neither principal of the colloquy would disclose what had been said, but it was learned that at times the discussion was most

As reported, it was then It may take on a supply of coal, but only that Consul General Uyeno made the demand that he be permitted to be the judge port and it will be part of the understand of the seaworthiness of the Russian ship. The reply that Collector Stratton made was in effect that the United States was not only willing but able to cope with the situation without the assistance of either of the beiligerents. When Consul Uyeno emerged from the collector's office he denied that there had been any friction. That was all he would say at the Russian Captain's Statement. In the afternoon Captain Berlinsky of the Lena, accompanied by the Russian consul, Paul Kosakevitch, called on Collector Stratton Captain Berlinsky assured the collector that he would be most happy to acquiesce in any demand relative to an investigation of the condition of his ship Japan from the Pacific coast is a circumthat the collector thought necessary. He carried with him duplicate copies of a somewhat lengthy statement, one of which he sent to the Japanese consulate, and the other to Admiral Goodrich, commanding the American fleet now in the harbor. The contents of this statement were not made public at the time, but it was known that just how much coal he thought essential for him to take on board. Up to this time Collector Stratton had been working in the dark. He made the tied up at San Francisco until the end of following statement to the newspaper men who were awaiting a termination of his

I will say, however, that this delay is not caused by my ignorance of the points of international law involved in this matter. These are absolutely clear and I understand them will not be adverse to this interment, as he thoroughly. The point is, I don't know just how far I can go without authority. Just then a telegram from Washington was handed the collector. Its contents he refused to make public.

May Need Extensive Repairs. Rear Admiral Goodrich lunched with Captain Berlinsky and other officers of the Lena on board the vessel. They could not sentative of the United States government be reen. Lieutenant Zotoff, speaking for has yet boarded the Russian cruiser Lena the captain, stated that the main object for the purpose of substantiating the of the Russian vessel in making this port was to have absolutely necessary repairs made to its engines and boilers. Its bottom is foul and will have to be cleaned in dry dock. The lieutenant said that the Lena's coal bunkers were far from being depleted and he thought it would be unnecessary for it to coal at this port.

The United States inspector of hulls and boilers has been ordered to make a thorough examination of the Lena and on his report will largely depend the duration of the stay of the vessel in this bay. If it is decided that repairs are required they will be made as rapidly as possible and it is generally anticipated that this is what will

Collector of the Port Stratton has not received any definite instructions from Washington, but has wired a full statement of the result and an answer is soon

In the meantime, the collector, in view of the fact that the repairs are said to be imperative, has refused to order the Lena from the harbor within twenty-four hours

Going alongside the dark hull, a line of Russian jackies were seen along the rail. At the top of the boarding ladder a file the cabin.

The saloon of the Lena is a spacious apartment, as the vessel was a passenger liner before the war. At one end of the tables a group of officers were drinking coffee and smoking Russian cigarettes. Navigating Officer Speneff, who spoke excellent English, said:

"We were sent to Vladivostok to transcannot fight.

"Needing repairs, we were first ordered back to the Baltic. Afterward these orders were changed and we have come here, as the nearest port in which we could get the new boilers we need."

May Stay Until War Ends. Being asked how long he would remain here, Officer Speneff said: "We expect orders from our naval representative at Washington, who has just been advised of our arrival. It is probable that he will ask the American government for its permission to remove the guns from our decks and allow the vessel to remain here until the repairs can be finished." When asked how long he thought that would require, he said: "The Lena will probably remain here un til the war is over. We expect that the officers and crew will be sent home by the way of New York."

And then he added: "It is hard to be so far away from the war, when one can only make a record by fighting."

On the deck were between 200 and 200 saflors. Among them was a pricet of the Russian Greek church, with long hair and uncut beard, wearing a soft felt hat and what looked like a gray kimona. Stiently he stood at the rail counting his beads and looking at the tall buildings of the strange American Squadron is Held. The Chronicle says the salling orders of the American squadron now in this port have en cancelled by a dispatch from the Navy department to Rear Admiral C. F. Goodrich, instructing him to awawait further orders. The squadron, which consists of the armored cruiser New York, the cruisers Boston and Marblehead, the gunboat Bennington and the torpedo boat destroyer Paul Jones, were under orders to sail today for Magdalena bay for target practice. The sudden change of orders, it is said, is due to the unexpected arrival of the Russian warship Lena in this port. UNITED STATES EXPECTED TO ACT

No Temporizing in Matter of Ship Lenn is Anticipated. LONDON, Sept. 13.-The Morning Post's Japanese critic in London says the arrival of the Russian transport Lena at San Francisco "opens another chapter in the somewhat long account which the historian of the present war will have to give of the observance by the various powers of neutrality obligations. That the United States will be resolute and prompt in the enforcement of its laws goes without saying. The subterfuges which served Russia's turn where Chinese neutrality had been in question will not suffice to secure a prolongation of the Lena's stay where California harbors are concerned. That the appearance of the Lena at San Francisco coincides with the projected shipments of large quantities of flour and other cargos to stance which United States officials assuredly will not fail to observe." Beyond some further deductions based upon the details of the battle of Liao Yang the London morning newspapers have practically no comment to make upon the war situation. There is no confirmation of the Daily Mail's report of the cutting of the Japanese line of communication or of the Morning Post's story of the capture of Lieutenant General Sassalitch.

The impression was held in Liao Yang that the Russians had destroyed the railroad between there and Mukden, but an examination of the line as far north as possible showed it to be everywhere intact This is taken to indicate that the Russians hope to use the line again. They posted proclamations along the line warning the Chinese not to damage it under pajn of future punishment. It is now reported on good authority in some of the assaults made by the Japanese upon the Russian trenches before Liao Yang on September I and 2 the attackers at some places lost in killed or wounded 90 per cent of the numbers engaged.

LAND FORCES THEN TO GIVE UP PLACE

Said that Russians Realize Putility of Further Resistance, but Do Not Want Japanese to Get the Warships.

(Copyright, by New York Herald Co., 1904.) ST. PETERSBURG. Sept. 12-(New York thanks to the emperor in return for the Cross of St. George of the third degree is of Port Arthur tells the following rather sensational story:

After deliberation of the highest authority in the land, a decision was reached that it was useless to hold Port Arthur, except for the value of the warships there. Accordingly an imperial order was given to the Askold by Admiral Withoft, with his dying breath, for the ships to go forth and Daily Bee. Don't make any mistake, but not on any account to return. This accomplished, and Russia's honor having been fully vindicated by its gallant defense, the garrison was to give up the next day in order to save further useless loss of life. This humane intention was frustrated by Admiral Ouktomsky's defiance of instructions. Once again the fleet is to go out. Immediately afterwards the ships unfit to go to sea are to be blown up, and then General Stoessel, who has been decorated with the highest order for bravery, will be instructed to surrender the port.

The second Pacific squadron is coaling at Libau. There is good reason for doubting that it will ever get further.

The slience of the Japanese is reminiscent of that which preceded the previous hig attacks and gives the impression that the Japanese are employing their usual tactics, the pursuing armies of Oku and Nodzu holding back, while Kuroki is operating an extensive flanking movement.

The condition of these people is beyond description and it is awful to see the results of this Russian inhumanity. The killed and wounded were, of course, hit by our fire, but the Russians were responsible. It is a great pity to extend the calamities to noncombatants.

Additional reports from the army head quarters concerning dumdum bullets says: "Among the Russian munitions captured at Liao Yang are two kinds of dumdum bullets, which very much resemble those made for the Russian rifle of the 1891 type They do not, however, fit this rifle exactly We made search for rifles which could have fired these bullets, but failed to find them. Three Armies Loot Line Yang. LIAO YANG, Sept. 8 (via Tien Tsin, Sept. 12.)—The looting of Liao Yang has few parallels in the annals of warfare. Three armies on three different days had possession of the city and engaged in acts of depredations

When the Russians entered into the oc upation of Liao Yang they built a model Russian city outside the old walled Chinese city, and thousands of troops were lodged within its gates. When the Japanese drove the Russians out of the Shansampo hills the Russian soldiers realized that the town must fall and forgot all discipline. They looted the town, sparing neither Chinese nor European shops, de stroving what they could not carry away They destroyed great quantities of food stuffs and other goods, ripping open bales. begs and boxes with the ever-ready bayonet and scattering their contents over the streets. Much liquor was found and the oldiers, becoming drunk, committed further excesses. During the interim of the departure of the Russians and the arrival of the Japanese the Chinese soldiers and finished the work the Russians began, pillaging the shops that were not found by the Russians. Then when the Japanese came they thoroughly completed the looting. They had been fighting for five days without food except dry rice and broks loose upon entering the town. The Japanese looted right and left. The shops having already suffered the Japanese turned their attention to the private houses They wanted food principally, but over looked nothing. This was the first time in this-war that the Japanese were guilty of looting a captured city, and their officers were much disturbed by the outbreak

Republicana Elect Every Member o the State Senate and Five-Sixths of the Lower House.

PORTLAND, Mr. Sept. 12 -The republicans carried the state in the biennial election today, returns up to 11 o'clock ton ght indicating a plurality of about 33,000 for William Cobb, the republican candidate for governor, compared with 33,384 for Hill, the party candidate four years ago. In the First and Second election districts the returns indicate the re-election of Allen and years ago. In the Third Burley ran ahead of his vote of four years ago.

At a late hour very few reports had been received from the Fourth district, where the election of Lieleeyn Powers is assured. Among the first reports were some of the manufacturing centers. The cities of Saco, Biddeford, Auburn, Waterville, Rockland and Lewiston gave their returns very early and the figures indicated democratic gains grew steadily. Later when the towns began to be heard from a decrease was noted and by the time 150 of the 522 cities. owns and plantations had been heard from there was a net gain for the republicans. With the receipt of 200 towns, the democrats began to make up lost gains, the total showing a small republican loss. Both candidates were successful in their own cities, Mr. Cobb carrying Rockland by 367, Mayor Cyrus W. Davis, the democratic candidate winning his own city by 38 votes. Lewiston a'so went for Davis by 576, which was the largest single gain made by the Democrats in the early returns The republicans were successful in many county contests, of which there were more than the usual number. The election passed under conditions favorable for a large vote. General interest was fixed on the probable plurality of Mr. Cobb, the republican candidate, the democrats aiming to reduce it below the 33,000 of 1900. At 11 o'clock tonight Governor John F. Hill sent telegrams to President Roose velt and Chairman Cortelyou, claiming the state by 30,000, the four congressmen by majorities ranging from 5,000 to 10,000 every member of the state senate and five-sixths

flyomel Goes to the Boot of the Disease and Makes Astonishing Cures. Catarrh cannot be cured by the use of oills, liquid medicines and so-called system tonics. Under such treatment the germs of the disease will still live in the air passages and increase and multiply. Hyomel is the only scientific thorough way to cure catarrh. Killing the germs in the air passages, it enters the blood with the oxygen, destroys the mi-crobes in the blood and effectually drives from the system all traces of catarrhal Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of Hyomel to cure cutarrh is the fact that Sherman & McConnell, 16th and Dodge streets, Omaha, will agree to refund the money if you say Hyomel has not cured you.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler last a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomet can be obtained for 50c.

FINGERS ROUGHENED by needlework catch every stain and look hopelessly dirty. HAND SAPOLIO will remove not only the dirt, but also the loosened, injured cuticle, and restore to the fingers their natural beauty.
