AFTER PART OF CITY PARK

Accretions at Big Lake Claimed as Portion of the Abutting Land.

PARK BOARD FIGHTS THE CONTENTION

Case is Similar to One Decided in Favor of the City by District Court Some Months Previous.

The city has again been forced into court to protect its title to a portion of the land bordering on Big lake and known officially as Riverview park. J. P. Greenshields, in a foreclesure suit against R. C. Howell and others, which was heard and submitted to Judge Macy in district court yesterday, claims certain accretions to Big lake which for a number of years have formed part of the city park north of the municipal limits. The portion in dispute is a strip embracing several acres between the original meander line of the lake shore and the present bank. The land has never been improved. The suit is somewhat similar to the one recently brought by George S. Wright and George H. Mayne against the Park Board and which was decided in favor of the city. The the three members of the Park board were present at the hearing and testified on be half of the city, the board being represented by City Solicitor Snyder and Attorney C. M. Hari. The city is the real defendant in the action, Howell merely being a figurehead. Judge Macy yesterday sustained the aptransfer to the federal court of the $10,000 personal injury damage suit brought against it by Miss Jeanette Brown, who was seriously hurt while alighting from a car in Omaha several months ago. In sus- | can get their shoes any time by calling at taining the application Judge Macy refrained from passing on the merits of the resistance filed by Miss Brown, who made affidavit to the effect she was resident of Nebraska as well as the defendant company. This point, the court said, could be determined by the judge of the federal court who, if he found for the plaintiff, could remand the case back to the district court. Shortly before the court adjourned for the day Judge Macy began the hearing in the suit of J. L. Price against James Coyle in which the plaintiff sues for his share in an alleged partnership in the buying and selling of hay and farm products. Coyle denies the existence of any partnership and asserts that instead of there being any profits resulting from Price's purchases there was a loss of

Refuse to Receive Children. The three young sons of N. H. Michelson, whom the Board of County Supervisors ordered placed in the Iowa Soldiers' Orphans' home at Davenport, will not be received into that institution. Colonel Baker chairman of the board, received word yesterday from F. J. Sessions, superintendent of the home, that the State Board of Control had rejected the application. Charles Sanse, a white man, and Mary L. Rosier, a negress, both from Omaha, were married in this city yesterday afternoon by Justice Carson. Charles Bratches and Lens McKamey, a young colored couple from Omaha, were also married in this city yesterday afternoon. Justice Carson, Charles Bratches and Lens McKamey, a young colored couple from Omaha, were also married in this city yesterday afternoon. Justice Ourse of Carson in the matter. The dredge is now approaching Twenty-Under the arrangement with the father of The State Board of Control refused to sanction the admission of the children on the grounds that the application embodied a contract to the effect that the children were not to be kept in the home for more than one year and it did not consider it expedient that such a contract be made. The family until recently resided in Minden, where the mother committed suicide. The children are said to be in Davenpor now and it was understood that the father was planning to remove there. The board when in session last week, refused to accept any responsibility on behalf of the children, but when Michelson offered to put up sufficient money to insure the county against expense for their care, consented to send them to the Davenport home, Michelson will now be required to care for the children independent of this county.

Mrs. Gibson Discharged. The case against Mrs. Lily Gibson, charged with kidnaping her 12-year-old daughter, Ruby Whittlesey, was dismissed in Justice Ouren's court yesterday mornng, an amicable arrangement having been reached between her and her former husband, Russel N. Whittlesey. At the time of Mrs. Gibson's divorce from Whittlesey a child, under order of the court, was placed in the care of her uncle, W. B. Fisher. By mutual agreement of all parties concerned yesterday, application was made to the district court to have Mrs. Addle Adams of Crescent City, a sister of Mrs. Gibson, appointed guardian of the child.

After Mrs. Gibson and the child were brought back from Omaha Tuesday night it was nearly 2 o'clock yesterday morning before Justice Ouren, in whose court the information charging Mrs. Gibson with kidnaping, could be reached. Justice Ouren ordered that the child, for the night, be taken in charge by Mr. Fisher, and Mrs. Gibson was permitted to go without bond, Mr. Fisher announcing that the charge against her would be dismissed in the morning.

For Camp and Picnic

Whether off for a vacation in camp, or on a day's picnic, a supply of good butter adds enjoyment to the outing.

Campers and picnickers know how difficult it is to keep butter clean, and safe from dust and insects, as well as to protect it from the odor of other food.

Meadow Gold Butter is a perfect butter for camp and picnic. First, because it is a pure, wholesome and delicious product; and second, because it is sealed at the creamery in airtight packages which keep it fresh and clean until the last morsel is eaten. It keeps hard and firm under conditions which melt ordinary butter. Try it to-day, and take a supply on your next outing.
