RECEPTION AT THE ORPHEUM Manager Reiter and His Corps Keep Open House at the Beautiful

Theater.

Carl Reiter, assisted by the staff of the day at Orpheum, was host Saturday at a Teception that lasted until 11 o'clock, when the newly decorated Creighton-Orpheum was open for inspection by the public. Many people passed through the pretty theater during the evening, not a few staying to enjoy the concert furnished by Conductor Huster and the house orchestra.

During the summer the Creighton-Orpheum has been entirely redecorated, and The statue will be eight feet in its furnishings and fittings have been renewed, while many of the appointments of the house have been altered, all to bring and will be placed in the public cemetery it up to date. The main walls have been finished in a dull slate gray and a deep red, of the World who perished in the Galveston the combination appearing much richer fleed. A similar monument, on which a than it sounds. The balcony fronts are finished light, and the proscenium is in erected at a cost of $4,500, will be placed green and gold. The whole is most effective, and the interior presents a most in memory of the Woodmen of that section attractive appearance. The lights have been changed, the balcony lights being removed from the grooves, so that the light is now direct instead of suffused. A powerful flood light has been installed at the St. Louis and the excellent record Seymour front of the first balcony, from which the stage is brilliantly lit up. An automatic spot light will also be put in. On the stage the bunch and flood lights are all new, and the arrangement has been made in accordance with the latest specifications of the fire underwriters, so that it is perfectly safe. In addition to the apparatus already in the theater, which was pronounced 'sufficient last season, iron fire buckets and axes have been installed on the stage and in the dressing rooms, all the woute receptacles and other utensils are of iron, and not a thing has been left untouched. Inspection has been rigid, and

HOGS—There was a light run of hogs
here this morning, even for a Saturday, and prices advanced a little under the influence of a good local demand and favorable reports from other points. The market opened fairly active on the good light and butcher weights with prices strong to a nickel higher. They sold largely from $5.55 to $5.75, with a top at $5.775. Buyers were a little slow in taking hold of the heavies and they were only steady to strong. Medium and mixed hogs were a trifle stronger. Most of the early arrivals were sold in good season, but some hogs
came in late and by that time the market had weakened so that on the extreme close a good share of the early advance was lost. Medium and mixed hogs sold largely from $5.55 to $5.65 and heavies from $5.50 to $5.55.
For the week receipts of hogs have

For the week receipts of hogs have been fairly liberal for the time of year as there is an increase over last week of about 4.000 head and of a like amount over the same week of last year. The demand has been in good shape, so that the tendency of prees has been upward and a net gain for the week of 15c to 20c is noted. Representative sales:

SHEEP AND LAMBS—There were no fresh arrivals of sheep and lambs here this morning, so that a test of the market could not be made. For the week receipts show a good increase over both last week and the corresponding week of last year, the former amounting to shoul 2500 head and the last week and the corresponding week of last year, the former amounting to shoul 2500 head and last week and the former amounting to shoul 2500 head and market closed at a not less of leg20 points.

with these liberal receipts the market was in good shape, as the demand from all sources was heavy.

The better grades of sheep could safely be quited just about steady with the close of last week. Everything answering to that the could safely be last week. Everything answering to that the could be safely be last week. Everything answering to that the could be safely be last the could be safely be last the last th The better grades of sheep could safely be quoted just about steady with the close of last week. Everything answering to that description has changed hands readily. Part tat sheep have been neglected to some extent and in some cases may be a trifle lower or weak to a dime lower than they were at the close of last week. This deciline was most noticeable on the kinds that make neither good killers nor good feeders. Lambs have suffered quite a decline at some of the other markets and as a result prices have eased off here to some extent. As a general thing the market may be quoted just about 10g15s lower for the week. Good stuff, though, is in active demand.

The demand for feeders has been fully equal to the supply all the week and prices may be quoted steady to strong on all desirable grades. Something on the cull order may be slow sale, but aside from those a good clearance has been made nearly every day.

Totals9,732 23,464 Wool Murket. Woel Market.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—WOOL—The Commercial Bulletin says:

The demand for wool is as acute as ever.
Large manufacturers continue their operations, having acquired good-sized blocks of territory and medium fleeces during the week. There has been considerable speculation in scoured wools between dealers, with close to 5,000 bags of the same changing hands at prices showing a liberal advance from those of a few weeks ago. The market for all grades is very firm. Fractional advances in greasy territories are reported and the tendency of all quotations is steadily upward. Stocks and selections are getting poorer and deliveries this week are over 2,500,000 pounds in excess of the fecipis.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—WOOL—The arrivals of wool for the sixth series of auction sales amount to 925 bales. The imports of wool this week were: New South Wales, 2,616 bales; Queensland, 263 bales; Victoria, 225 bales; New Zealand, 3,607 bales; Cape of Cood Hope and Natal, 1,501 bales; Bussorah, 3,265 bales; Antwerp, 1,172 bales; elsewhere, 1,556 bales. The fifth series will open on September 20.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17.—WOOL—Steady; medium grades, combing and clothing, 254, 6726; light fine, 17,200; heavy fine, 15,216c; tub washed, 28,235c. BOSTON, Sept. 17 .- WOOL-The Commer-

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—DRY GOODS—
The market for the week closes with comparatively little change and with huyers little interested in the situation. Whether further reductions are to be made during the coming week or not no one is willing to phophesy, but it is recognized that the statistical position on many other 'inex
will go far to offset any weakness in particular cases which may develop. Dry Goods Market.

OMAHA WHOLESALL Condition of Trade and Quotations on Staple and Fancy Produce, EGGS-Reccipts moderate; candied stock, make neither good killers nor good feeders.

Lamby have suffered quite a decline at some of the other markets and as a result prices have eased off here to some extent. As a general thing the market may be quoted just about 10915c lower for the week. Good stuff, though, is in active demand.

The demand for feeders has been fully equal to the supply all the week and prices may be quoted steady to strong on all desirable grades. Something on the cull order may be slow sale, but aside from those a good clearance has been made nearly every day.
